NINETY-EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT of THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE PRES-BYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A.

MAY, 1917.

The most destructive war in history is devastating the world. Nothing less than the strongest type of spiritual leadership can save. A race of prophets and apostles is the supreme need of our age.

The most important function of the Church is so to train men and women that they will be ready to go forth to conquest in the expanded areas of the world's need.

After the war this need will be disclosed much more clearly, but NOW is the time to enlist and equip young men and women who will enter the waste places of the world with the gospel of an abiding peace.

This is not the time for the Church to halt in this task. The desperate conditions that will last for decades—the incalculable losses in lives, institutions, ideals and substance—present to our youth a superb challenge.

The task of the Board of Education is to issue this challenge uncompromisingly, using men, methods and money through the power of prayer.

The Board of Education, in presenting its Ninety-eighth Annual Report to the General Assembly, desires to acknowledge with grateful thanks the continued blessing of Almighty God and larger opportunity for service. We are approaching the one-hundredth milestone of our history. During the past decade there has been a steady growth due to the unparalleled expansion of the world field, a more efficient organization and a deeper spiritual concern on the part of the Church for the great cause represented.

The Board again reminds the General Assembly that the proper observance of the centenary of Christian education in our Church should be seriously considered, and it is earnestly suggested that Philadelphia, the cradle of American liberties and the birthplace of the mother presbytery, where also in 1819 the Board of Education was organized, may be selected as the place for the celebration of this important anniversary.

The movement for consolidation of the educational interests of the Church, now culminating, has been in progress for over a decade and has influenced considerably the attitude of the Church toward the present educational policy. Givers have been reluctant to respond to appeals which do not have behind them a continuous and progressive program. The Board of Education has not been in a position to guarantee to the Church an undisturbed policy for a period of years. We are convinced that our constituency has not realized the handicap under which the Board of Education has been laboring. Notwithstanding constant warnings, the Church has not met the increasing demands of the Board based upon the urgent needs of a wider field of service.

Despite the embarrassment the record of the past ten years discloses progress and achievement as the following tables indicate:

From the above exhibit it will be seen that the religious interests of students at State educational institutions were not met by the Presbyterian Church through any Board agency up to 1907. Since that time, however, the Board out of its slender income has spent nearly $150,000 in this new work and has succeeded in making the Presbyterian Church a pioneer in the task. Twenty-seven university pastors are supported in whole or in part at as many university centers and over 20,000 Presbyterian university students are being reached through their labors.

The Board has spent about $16,000 in aiding medical missions' students and $11,000 in scholarships to students in training for lay service who are taking courses in our Presbyterian training schools.

Despite the fact that a portion of the Church believes that consolidation has been actually consummated, creating confusion in the minds of church officers as to the status of consolidation, the Board has been able to struggle through the year without defaulting in any of its obligations. It has done a total business of $214,107, the largest amount expended in any one year in its history—nearly three times greater than the volume of its work ten years ago. It has granted more aid to ministerial candidates during the past year than ever in its history, with the exception of two years, and it is to be noted by those who feel that the only function of the Board of Education is the aiding of candidates and that the newer work has prejudiced this task, that the amount paid to candidates during the past ten years is $240,700 greater than in the previous ten-year period.

The receipts from churches, Sabbath-schools and societies during the past year are slightly larger than ever before, being more than double what they were in 1907. The signal blessing of God and the redoubled efforts of the representatives of the Board account for this remarkable showing in the face of the obstacles to normal advancement.

CONSOLIDATION AND FINANCES.

Early in 1917 the Board was confronted with a deficit of over $39,000, and a committee was appointed to consider its financial condition, which committee reported, in part, as follows at the meeting in February, 1917:

"While the Board of Education is soon to be merged with the College Board, this merger may not be consummated at the next General Assembly. If not, then our Board will have to continue for a time to carry on its work under all the disadvantages above noted. This would necessitate the consideration of a budget. The Committee would recommend that the Board make a full presentation of the matter both to the Executive Commission and to the General Assembly, setting forth the impossible position in which the Board has been placed; and making clear that, so long as it shall be charged with the task in the new year, it will be unable, owing to these circumstances, to raise extra money, but will have to draw somewhat upon its permanent investments in order to meet appropriations."

Following this action, the Secretaries instituted a vigorous campaign in the Synods of Indiana and Iowa, in order to clear up outstanding indebtedness in favor of the Board, and appealed to generous friends elsewhere, with the result that a substantial reduction in the indebtedness was made. The Board of Church Erection advanced $15,000 on the church building at Ames now being erected by the Board, thus making it possible for the Board to come to the Assembly with a satisfactory showing—only $7,000 having been taken from undesignated legacies.

The action of the Board was placed before the Executive Commission at its February meeting and again at the April meeting. The Secretary appeared before the Commission at the April meeting asking the Executive Commission to appoint a committee which might advise the Board as to how it might finance its work during the coming year if, in the wisdom of the Assembly, the time is not ripe for the new Board of Education to take over the work of the old Board.

MEMBERSHIP.

On December 21, the Board suffered a serious loss in the death of its Vice-President, Dr. George W. Bailey, who for a quarter of a century was a member of this Board and for nine years its Vice-President. "His kindly, courtly manner, his gentle, loving spirit, his unselfish, faithful service will abide with us as a never fading memory."

Edward B. Hodge, Jr., M.D., and son of the Rev. Edward B. Hodge, D.D., former Secretary of the Board, was elected to succeed Dr. Bailey in the Vice-Presidency, and Mr. H. H. Seldomridge was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Dr. Bailey in the Class of 1915-1918.

We also record with great regret the death of another valued member, Walter E. Rex, Esq., in the Class of 1916-1919. His unexpired term has been filled by the election of Mr. H. B. F. Macfarland.

The outgoing Class of 1914-1917 consists of the following-named gentlemen:

James M. Hubbert, D.D.,	S. Spencer Chapman, Esq.,
William P. Finney, D.D.,	George W. Warren, D.D.S.,
F. W. Loetscher, Ph.D., D.D.,	Mr. Craig N. Ligget,
H. C. Swearingen, D.D.,	Mr. Wm. H. Hensel,
Mr. Edwin M. Wilson.

and the Board herewith respectfully recommends that they be re-elected to the Class of 1917-1920 if the Board be continued for another year, and that the election of Mr. Seldomridge and Mr. Macfarland be approved.

MINISTERIAL CANDIDATES.

Fourteen more candidates were accepted by the Board this year than in the year previous, numbering 845. Of this number 662 were renewals and 223 were "new" men. Seventy-six of these are in preparatory departments, 426 are in college and 343 are in theological seminaries. From the seminaries 101 men will graduate this spring.

Seventy-five men were eligible for renewal of aid, but failed to make application. Of this number 8 reached self-support in school, 9 are out of school teaching and preaching, 7 had to leave on account of financial embarrassment, 3 on account of ill health, 5 abandoned their preparation for the ministry, 5 have entered business temporarily, 1 has enlisted in the army, 3 are married, 2 are taking special courses, 1 is doing post-graduate work, 1 was ordained, 1 entered another denomination.

The Board wishes to call attention to the decreasing number of preparatory students and the increase of college students among those aided. We have had this year 14 fewer preparatory students and 14 more college students. We believe that the fewer preparatory students aided, the better for the work.

Foreign-speaking Students

One hundred and twenty-three students of foreign speech were aided this year, as against 125 last year. The following nationalities are represented: Armenian, Austrian, Bohemian, Bulgarian, Canadian, Cuban, Galician, Hollander, Hebrew, Hungarian, Italian, Korean, Lithuanian, Mexican, Moravian, Norwegian, Persian, Philippino, Russian, Ruthenian, Polish, Porto Rican, Syrian, Spanish, Slovenian.

Colored Students

Fifty-five colored men have been under the care of the Board as against 63 last year. Of these, 29 are studying at Biddle and 26 at Lincoln.

Indian Students

The Board received from the Assembly authority to exercise its discretion in the matter of aid to Indian students looking forward to the ministry, in view of the need of reaching the nearly fifty thousand Indians unprovided with missionaries or the privileges of Christian worship, in addition to the better supply of those mission stations among the Indians now being cared for by our Church. The Secretary of the Board visited Oklahoma, and, with a representative of the Board of Home Missions, prepared a plan for educating Indian young men at Kendall College, Tulsa, Okla., with the active co-operation of the authorities of the Synod and the Presbyteries of Oklahoma. A building for Indian work is greatly needed at Tulsa. This Board is anxious to co-operate in the education of Indian ministers under the plan adopted jointly with the Board of Home Missions.

Amended
Presbyterial
Application It has been thought best to add certain items of information to the Presbyterial recommendation blanks, thus giving the Board a larger understanding of the needs of candidates. It is proposed that the following be substituted for the financial questions now appearing in the blank. It is recommended that the Assembly approve the proposed change:

What were his earnings last year—during vacation .....
   Total.....

His estimate of expenses this year .....

His estimate of earnings this year.....

Aid expected (exclusive of that from Board).....

LAY WORKERS.

Medical Missions Students The Board takes great satisfaction in caring for nineteen medical candidates, all of whom are of the very highest order and attending medical colleges in Class A of the American Medical Association.

These colleges are as follows: Columbia University, New York, N. Y.; Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.; Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; Rush Medical School, Chicago, Ill.; University of California, Berkeley, Calif.; University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.; University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill.; University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kans.; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.; University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, N. D.; Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

All of the medical students have passed preliminary examinations and been approved by the Board of Foreign Missions. During the six years we have aided these students in medical colleges, 20 have graduated and have been accepted by the Foreign Board. They are located in the following mission stations: Hainan, China; Western Persia; Central China; Porto Rico; Africa; Chung Ju, Chosen; Ponte Nova, Bahia, Brazil.

Lay Workers

A splendid body of young women have been assisted this year to the amount of $100 each in the Presbyterian training schools of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Chicago. During the four years of assistance in this field, 31 have graduated, the majority of whom are actively at work in various parts of the home field.

Delinquent Fund

The list of students who abandoned their intention of entering the ministry numbers 350, 36 of whom have returned to the Board $3,028.35 during the year. Obligations have been paid in full by ten men.

The Board is glad to report that during the past year the scholarship and Christian character of our students has been very satisfactory, and we are inclined to believe that the grade of men is as high if not higher than at any period in the Church's history. Not a single candidate has been dismissed or disciplined during the year for moral delinquency.

Language Requirements

The Assembly of 1916 ordered the Board to decline to assist students failing to pursue a theological course including a working knowledge of the original languages of Scripture. It was feared that this would work a hardship to quite a number of students, but we are gratified to report that the seminaries have accepted the ruling with cheerful acquiescence. A few "new" men were declined, but the Presbyteries evidently approve of the Assembly's deliverance and did not object to the Board's declination of students not intending to live up to the prescribed language requirements. The Board interpreted the Assembly's deliverance to mean that it did not have retroactive effect, but applied only to the applications of "new" men.

PRIZE SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Newberry Scholarship, which was won by David B. Van Dyck, of Princeton Theological Seminary, last spring, will be applied to his post-graduate course during the coming year.

The Secretary's Scholarship, won by Christopher H. Gaskell, of San Francisco Theological Seminary, is being held by him during the present school year in graduate work at Columbia University, New York City.

The Mutchmore Scholarship is still held by Leo L. Tait, who is pursuing his studies at the University of Chicago.

COLLEGE VISITATION.

Those in touch with student life to-day are agreed that there is now a thoughtfulness and a spiritual receptivity among students which was absent in the days of ease and quietness.

Traditions and conventions no longer satisfy. There are perhaps only the beginnings of the fierce desire, of which we hear across the sea, to strip away the husks and get at the kernel of reality; but at least students are more accessible to earnest messages of the truth and to the burning challenge to service.

They know that world tasks confront them—that a new order is being instituted. Titanic spectacles of heroism electrify them. Altruism exhibited in a thousand forms fascinates them and compels new ideals and purposes.

It is an hour when the Church must faithfully and lovingly lead her young men and women into the presence of the great Captain of their Salvation, that they may hear His reassuring and commanding voice.

The Church has this year endeavored to fulfill this duty toward the students in Presbyterian colleges through its program of College Visitation. The Board of Education and the Assembly's Committee on Evangelism unite in directing this strategic measure.

The reports of the evangelistic and life-work campaigns in our various institutions testify with singular emphasis to the increased effectiveness of this program for the spiritual reinforcement of the Christian college.

One college president says that the leader who came to them—"was used in a wonderful way, and the finest spirit that I have ever seen around the college is here as a result of his service. . . . The last day, I excused from classes all students who desired to meet him personally. From breakfast-time until late that night there was a line of students waiting before his door for their turn. It was indeed one of the finest and deepest experiences in the college life that I have ever witnessed."

Another president says:

"The Board of Trustees, or those members living in touch with the college, expressed themselves as gratified beyond measure with the work of the visitor. It was the best week, some of them said, in spiritual power, the college ever experienced from the college visitation program. . . . I must express myself as profoundly moved to pay tribute to the Presbyterian Church for developing such a scheme of helpfulness for its colleges. . . . It is a great plan, and I am deeply grateful for its blessings."

Another:

"The leader has been with us four days doing remarkably fine work. He has spoken at chapel each day, at the evening gatherings three times, and has had the intervening time filled with personal interviews and group conferences. We have kept him on the move day and night, and I am certain that none but a vigorous fellow could stand such a strenuous life very long. It is agreed, I think, that altogether his ministrations have been the most helpful and satisfactory yet coming to us."

Another president sums up his estimate of the meetings as follows: First, there were 13 conversions; second, there were about 100 rededications; third, one young man definitely decided for the ministry and several held higher some lines of Christian service; fourth, there was a deepening and quickening of spiritual life and power.

A student Y. M. C. A. president says:

"The meetings this year accomplished more constructively than has been done in former years."

Another president says:

"Our faculty and students are unanimous in the feeling that the meetings this year were the best we have had."

The college paper in another institution, the week after the meetings, said that they were, all in all, the best in their history.

In a fine preparatory school for boys, when the annual evangelistic meetings began three years ago under the leadership of the visitor, who has continued now for his fourth year, there were 75 boys who were not professing Christians. Two years ago there were 50; one year ago, 25. This year, at the close of the meetings, there were only 8 who had not taken a stand for Jesus Christ. This leader said:

"I thank God for the chance to get at these boys again. It was hard work, but I came away rested. It was meat and drink."

One leader, who was prevented by illness in his home from spending more than two days at the college he visited, wrote:

"Had a wonderful experience, especially with private interviews. Had 23 of them, each one about 40 minutes long. The students bared their hearts to me, and I did my best to help them. All sorts of problems were presented. Fourteen talked of the matter of life work. Some said prayer had become perfunctory. One superb chap who had been working overtime for the devil came through for Jesus Christ. My last interview was at 2 A.M. to-day."

With a student in one institution the visitor had three talks. In the first the young man was sullen. For the third he came nearly a mile to the 5.30 A.M. train to see the visitor off and asked if he could not correspond with him. He told a friend the visitor had read his life like a book. He purposes to be a medical missionary.

In another institution, 9 students united with the Church and a student volunteer band was organized.

Statistics cannot convey a true impression of the meaning of these 400 sermons and addresses before the thousands of our students, nor of the more than 900 interviews afforded by experienced visiting counselors to students on intimate questions of faith and conduct and life service. The conversion of 330 students is of infinite worth to themselves and to the Kingdom, and the rededication of many hundreds more is scarcely less significant, for many of these received an entirely new conception of the Christian life.

Immediate results in the bracing up of the religious life are indicated by the reports of such new activities as a night school for townspeople taught by students, a boys' club started, two new Bible groups, a new prayer circle, a rule adopted by students themselves against tobacco and profanity.

Part of the statistical results from a single college are: 104 dedicated a definite vocation, or whatever vocation they should choose, to Christ; 31 new decisions for Christ; 12 renewed professions; 28 decided to join the Church; 9 new decisions for the ministry; several private decisions for missionary work; 34 undecided about vocation dedicated whatever it is to Christ.

In one college which sends many men into the ministry, 71 students were converted. Doubtless some of these will preach the Gospel.

It would be folly to attempt to tabulate now the results that will accrue to the Church in the life service of those students who, during these days of the power of the Most High in the Christian college, have conceived the desire or clinched the decision to give a life to the ministry or to some form of missionary life. Four hundred and forty-five decisions for religious life work have been reported, but only the records of earth and heaven will tell the full tale of victories.

BOYS AND THE MINISTRY.

During the year reported to the Assembly of 1916 not as many young men from Presbyterian sources were ordained to our ministry as were lost by death and dismissal to the ministry of other denominations. Barely enough were received from other Churches to provide a small net gain.

Such a situation calls for a more intensive endeavor to enlist for the ministry and an extension of the field of effort. Inasmuch as only a fraction of the youth of the Church is to be found in the Church colleges, recruiting activity must extend beyond these institutions.

The majority of vocational decisions are made, in the rough, at least, in the high-school period. It is here young men must have the challenge. Accordingly, at the instance of the Board, the Presbyterian churches in eight different cities assembled, for an evening, a total of 851 boys of high-school age, chosen for their "parts, personality and Christian earnestness," and invited by their respective Sessions. Ministers and Elders were hosts to the boys at table and all were addressed concerning the Christian principles of life-work choice. The boys were frankly told in advance that the ministry would be emphasized, but that they would not be asked to give any expressions of their purposes.

High-school boys appreciate being taken seriously on the life-work problem. One of them spoke for many when he wrote to the Board:

"It is hard to decide between the many callings that are open to a young man to-day."

Those invited to these conferences have been very appreciative. The fact that they are specially chosen by the authorities of the church who take the time to sit with them and consider their problem, predisposes the boys to give an earnest hearing to the words addressed to them.

They have been especially impressed by the earnestness with which successful laymen have exalted a minister's opportunity. In one city an attorney, prominent in the city and State, in addressing the boys on the subject, "Opportunities of the Minister as Seen by a Layman," said:

"If the vision had come to me sooner, I would not have been in the profession in which I have enjoyed some degree of success, but I would have been a minister of the Gospel. . . . If I had my life to live over again I would choose the ministry; or, what I believe is better, I would be a foreign missionary."

One who heard these words says he doubts whether the young men addressed had ever been more deeply impressed in their lives than they were by the appeal of this noted lawyer.

The mayor and superintendent of schools in another large city told the committee at one of these conferences that it was the greatest meeting they had ever attended.

The Board secures the complete registration of the young men who attend these conferences and addresses them appropriately in correspondence and literature.

St. Louis has held two of these life-work supper conferences and plans to repeat the event another year.

As the year closed, six other conferences were projected. It is believed that the "habit" can be established of assembling annually in various localities a total of about 2500 selected youths, and that the challenge given them at the right time, in the right way, under circumstances that emphasize their responsibility, will be effective in securing strong men for the ministry of the future. Already there are excellent men in our colleges whose determination to prepare for the ministry dates from the conferences that were held a year ago.

VOCATION DAY.

Fifty thousand copies of a Vocation Day program, entitled, "Publishers of Peace," were prepared for use in church and Sabbath-school to facilitate the challenge to prepare for leadership and to consecrate life service. Beside the hundreds of schools which used this program, many others presented the subject and observed the day in their own way.

One minister writes of expanding the suggestion of the Board and observing Vocation Month.

A pastor writes that he preached on the call to service in connection with a missionary campaign, and that, as a result, six of his young people are now preparing for distinctly Christian service.

BUREAU OF OCCUPATIONS.

Owing to the close relation held by the Board with students in general and with the training schools for lay workers in particular, it has been asked from time to time to assist pastors in finding lay helpers. The inquiries made in an endeavor to furnish the desired information uncovered the fact that pastors in large numbers are seeking paid lay helpers. No agency now exists to which a pastor can turn for information about available lay-assistants.

Here is an important opportunity for usefulness, and the Board is willing to act as a communicating medium between those who seek and those who can provide such lay help in the persuasion that much valuable service can thus be mobilized for the Church.

COUNCIL OF CHURCH BOARDS OF EDUCATION.

Progress has been made in the work of the Council, which now comprises eighteen denominational boards or societies of education. An executive secretary was elected last June—the Rev. R. W. Cooper, who will be succeeded in the fall by Dr. R. L. Kelly, president of Earlham College, Indiana. A survey secretary was also elected, who has done valuable work in Illinois. The results of the survey of colleges and universities in Illinois is now in print and is a real contribution to Christian education. The Boards support the Budget of about $7,000, but it is expected that adequate financing apart from the Boards will be accomplished during the year and that the interdenominational campaign for Christian Education now launched will be carried forward to complete success.

UNIVERSITY WORK.

The blessing of God has been clearly evident in the work with students this year. There has been an unusual seriousness of purpose and a readiness in response to the Gospel appeal. One student-pastor writes:

“Never have I felt such a deep interest in both faculty and students in the Christian life. There has been a more responsive spirit than ever before; more initiative among students and faculty in religious work, more willingness to assist in enterprises already established.”

Another writes:

“I have been having some extremely interesting types of conversion and renewed Christian experience. There is an atmosphere of evangelism, and some of the students have been laboring under a really old-fashioned conviction of sin."

These statements come from institutions noted a few years ago for their secular spirit and lack of interest in religion. They give a correct picture of such sections of the great universities as have been reached by the work of the Church.

STUDENT-PASTORS.

There are now fifteen men and one woman giving full time as student-pastors in fifteen institutions, and twelve men and one woman giving part time to work for students in twelve institutions.

The total resident student enrollment in the twenty-seven institutions was 120,000 last year.

We submit reports from twenty-four. Three began work so recently they prefer to make no report while finding their place in the complicated life of the university.

It is impossible within the space of this report to give any adequate account of the work of the student-pastors. In addition to teaching and pastoral duties they enlist volunteer helpers from the students, the faculty and the community, and direct the social service of many students. The following statements tell who and where they are and indicate a few of the results.

* Gives full time to student work.

University of California.—The students helped in the Home Mission survey of San Francisco, with effective service in the city-wide “dry” campaign, and sent Gospel deputations to the city missions. The residence headquarters has increased in valuation because of its strategic location, and has proven a great help in the pastor’s work, as it is in daily use for personal conferences, class and prayer groups, socials and committee meetings.

California Farm School.—The Presbyterian Church is the only Protestant church in the adjacent community. A residence headquarters and more class rooms are needed. A student-pastor, giving full time to student work, will be needed shortly as the school grows.

The University of Colorado, Boulder.—A remarkable all-day conference on the work of the ministry was held under the leadership of the Baptist and Presbyterian student-pastors. The students conduct Sunday-school—the only religious service held in a coal-mining camp. A residence and more class rooms are needed. Student-pastor is lecturer on religious subjects on the University Extension Department and a member of the State Commission on Bible study in the public schools.

State Teachers’ College of Colorado, Greeley.—The Presbyterian Church has secured a building lot near college and the city high school. Will erect new building with special reference to the needs of the students. The Bible school in this building will become a training school, preparing graduates of the Teachers’ College for teaching in the churches of the State.

Colorado State Agricultural College, Fort Collins.—The new church building has been recently completed. The pastor divides his time between large city parish and the students. Student-pastor is needed.

University of Illinois, Urbana.—The work is supported by an endowment fund. 250 students contributed systematically a total of $2,000 to local church and benevolences. The George B. McKinley Memorial Church is a student chapel under the management of Synod's committee. Four hundred and fifty students are affiliate members.

Indiana University, Bloomington.—Money has been secured for final payment on Westminster House, the Presbyterian residence headquarters. This building is in daily use. A special feature of the work is the interest in Bible study and conference groups in the fraternities and sororities. Student-pastor is captain of a student company of the National Guard. During Holy Week, services were held by the student-pastors.

State University of Iowa, Iowa City.—Personal conferences in the student-pastor's office, in the church building close to the campus, to which students come repeatedly by appointment, is a special feature of the work. New decisions for Christ during the year, 71, secular vocations dedicated to Christ, 155; number of students trained in personal efficiency, 312. Students are carrying the spirit of these office conferences into a country Sunday-school, a night school in the city, and after graduation into their home churches.

Iowa State College of Agriculture, Ames.—The new Tudor Gothic church building erected by the Board will be completed before the opening of the next term. The local Church has elected students to membership in the board of trustees and in the Session, an experiment that will be watched with interest. An organ is needed for the church building. It is expected that Bible classes and conferences will be held in the class rooms of the new building on week-days as well as Sundays, and that the Church will be a training school for lay workers in rural churches.

Iowa State Teachers' College, Cedar Falls.—The great majority of the students are Church members upon entering the college. Emphasis is placed in the church work upon Bible instruction and training in Bible teaching for the students who are soon to be high-school teachers and principals, to recruit and train them for teaching in the Sunday-schools in their home communities.

University of Kansas, Lawrence.—Westminster House is the residence headquarters and provides class rooms. Sunday classes are held in the local church; other classes and conferences are held in Westminster House throughout the week. Students applying for teaching positions in the public schools find they are given preference if they have taken one or more of the Bible courses. The university does not give curriculum credit for the Bible courses, but the School of Education keeps a record of all prospective teachers taking these courses.

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.—Mrs. Underwood is the first woman employed by the Board, giving full time as student counselor to women students. Her counsel is sought by a very large number of students. The student-pastor does the same work with the men. The students helped make Michigan dry. The immediate needs are a new church building and the remodeling of the residence headquarters buildings.

University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minneapolis.—Students work in three settlement houses, teach in Sunday-schools, in classes of English for new Americans, and help in city mission work. The students are widely scattered over the Twin Cities. The pastor near the campus cares for a large number, but a student-pastor is needed to organize the work in a group of churches.

University of Nebraska, Lincoln.—A new feature is a class of medical students under the student-pastor, studying the history and methods of medical missions. The student-pastor is chaplain of the student military company. A new church building is planned for the near future. A residence headquarters near the campus is needed.

University of Nevada, Reno.—Both the university and the community have been neglected by the churches, and there is no Christian Association in the university. The student-pastor in charge of the small local Church began work this year. Progress will be difficult until the church building is secured. The Church membership has been doubled, the Sunday-school membership increased six times and a band of students and citizens enlisted for the "dry" campaign.

Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.—Both the church and the student-pastor's home are at a distance from the campus. The amount of work done will be greatly increased when residence headquarters is secured in center of student population. The student-pastor does much work with foreign students and in the university infirmary. He is one of the directors of the Cosmopolitan Club.

Ohio State University, Columbus.—Northminster and Indianola Presbyterian churches have new buildings near the campus. A movement has begun to secure a residence headquarters for the student pastor. Presbyterian students are well organized for work within and without the university.

University of Oklahoma, Norman.—The pastor and the local Church have made heroic sacrifices to provide a church building that is not yet completed. Satisfactory work with students requires the completion of this building and a student-pastor.

University of Oregon.—There is one pastor for Church and students, with work enough for two men, and work is hindered by dilapidated condition of church building. The results of the year's effort are very good considering the handicap.

University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.—The student-pastor is Bible-study director for the united group of student-pastors and Association secretaries. Since the adoption of this united plan, the efficiency of all the workers has been increased. The Bible classes reported are in different churches and departments of the university. Large numbers of students are used in Gospel deputations, as counselors in summer camps for boys and in city missions.

Pennsylvania State College, State College.—The college maintains a chapel service Sunday morning with required attendance. The main feature of our Church work is in the Bible classes and in the use of students in conducting rural Sunday-schools.

University of Washington, Seattle.—One pastor for the local church near the university, giving part time to the work with students. A student-pastor giving full time is greatly needed, who will organize the work for students in the several churches of the city.

University of West Virginia.—The time of the one pastor is principally taken with the large city Church, and student-pastor and residence headquarters near the campus are needed.

University of Wisconsin, Madison.—The outstanding feature of the year's work is the large number of students attending Church services, morning and evening. The church building has been enlarged and is filled to capacity throughout the college year. There is great need for a building near the campus for classes and all week-day activities.

University of Wyoming, Laramie.—New pastor began work during the present college year. He makes no detailed report, but has made progress in becoming acquainted with the university. The university is the only institution of higher learning in the State and will grow to large importance.

Student-pastors began work during the present year in Yale University and Princeton University.

RESULTS.

At best, statistics are inadequate in reporting an enterprise whose values are moral and spiritual. The larger part of the work of the pastor does not show in results that can be tabulated. We find that a majority of students are communicant members of the Church when they enter the university. Conserving their faith and holding them to the ideals of the Christian life consumes the time and energy of the pastor in personal and group conferences, but does not give material for reports. Most of the students are preparing for secular callings. The main purpose is to have them consecrate their lives in these secular callings to Christian service.

Those acquainted with conditions of student life in the large universities will recognize the strong spiritual forces that have been at work to produce what is indicated by the following statements.

Fourteen hundred and eighty-two students united with local Presbyterian churches in university centers during the year; by confession, by letter or by affiliate membership. Affiliate membership means that the student in his new relation makes public confession before his fellows of his faith in Christ, and of his allegiance to the Church during his stay in the university. It has all the force of a regular letter and does not disturb his relation to his home church. This public confession by affiliate membership often means as much in the life of the student as his first confession. It at least means that after careful reconsideration under new conditions he reaffirms his faith, and it puts him in line to re-establish his habits of worship and service during the trying years of college life when so many drift away from Christian interests and activity.

BIBLE CLASSES.

Five thousand and eighty-five students were in one hundred and ninety-five Bible and mission-study classes, taught by experienced teachers. Under capable teachers the classes show a larger average attendance and persist longer than when taught by students. Student leaders are used to good purpose in discussion groups many of these leaders being trained in the regular classes.

PERSONAL CONFERENCE.

Seven thousand nine hundred and fifty-six personal conferences were held. These conferences deal with life problems, including the choice of vocation, with the personal relation to Christ as the heart of the solution. The pastor must first gain the unqualified respect of the students before they will come to him for counsel. The intrinsic value of the work and the students' growing appreciation are shown in the fact that each year a larger number go to the pastor's office for these conferences. In many centers the larger part of the time is taken by these office conferences arranged in advance. It means we have created a new office in university life of personal counselor in religion and choice of vocation, an office that calls for unusual ability and special training in the one who fills it. Attendance on these conferences is optional. They deal with those serious questions that students are apt to keep in the background. There is no attraction to bring the student except the sense of real value gained. This personal counsel has from the beginning been the heart of the Board's plan for taking the spirit and teaching of the Gospel message into the center of the great State universities. It is pastoral oversight raised to its highest power. Whatever the development of organizations in the future, it must remain.

VOCATIONS.

Twenty universities report one hundred and forty-three candidates for the ministry. Seventeen report one hundred and forty students preparing for foreign missions, thirty-five of whom are medical students. A larger number are reported as deeply interested, but holding the decision open until later in their course of study.

If these figures seem small, it must be remembered that State universities have not been recruiting grounds for the ministry. The great interest in the application of science to industry and to the conservation and development of the natural resources of the country by which fortunes are being made has not inspired young men and women to unselfish service. The superb training given for gainful pursuits has had a strong attraction and intensified in the university the prevailing material and commercial spirit of the age. The university is not to be criticised for this. It has done well the thing for which it was created.

Not all students go into commercial pursuits. The law, medicine and teaching professions, not considered financially profitable, secure their full quota because they have from the beginning been brought to the attention of the students. We have only just begun to press the claims of the Church for world-wide conquest upon the universities.

AN ILLUSTRATION.

A study of the graduates of the University of California shows the general condition in all the universities. Founded in 1869, it has sent out 12,706 graduates. The population of the State is about three million. Only forty-seven graduates went into the ministry of all Churches, or one for each 63,700 of population, while there was one doctor for each 3,230, one lawyer for each 2,350, and one teacher for each 1,575. Since our student-pastor has been at work, a change has been effected for which he modestly disclaims full credit. Twenty-seven students are now preparing for the Presbyterian ministry, and forty for foreign missions. One is included in both lists, making a total of sixty-six, and this takes no account of what is going on in other Churches.

THE RURAL CHURCH.

The conditions of life in the rural communities are largely in the hands of the State colleges of agriculture. Every important question affecting the farmer, except religion, is receiving attention in these colleges. Not only the young people, but the parents are going to the college for help, some for the winter short courses and some for the extension work done at home. Not only farm industries, but such problems as co-operative buying and selling, amusements, social life and education are considered. There is a rapid recasting of rural life going on with education as its central motive and force. The colleges are anxious for the help of the Church. There are many ways in which the Church may and ought to coöperate that do not find place in this report. But what we have begun doing for the students in the colleges of agriculture is the most important. It is not missionary money to help support the country church that is needed, but trained and consecrated laymen who will develop the rural church to self-support and make it a center of missionary enterprise.

We have made only a beginning at this solution of the rural church problem, but have gone far enough to know that this is the surest and most economical method. The Board has erected two church buildings, one at Pennsylvania State College of Agriculture, the other at Iowa State College of Agriculture, the latter to be completed before the opening of the next term. The farm students are more responsive to the Church than any other class of students. If we can have at each State-college center a suitable church building, adequately equipped and manned, we will in a few years show great results in the growth of country churches. It will mean the elimination of useless competing country churches, the strengthening of those that remain, and the active co-operation of the Church with the State in improving country-life conditions.

THE FOREIGN STUDENT AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The same holds for the training of the students from foreign countries to be lay missionaries when they return home. Pennsylvania University has 201 students from 44 foreign countries. Cornell has 164 from 30 foreign countries. Each of the universities and colleges has a group of such students. They are eager to learn American customs. We are just beginning to see the results of the work of the pastors with these select men and women. One a Christian Chinese, after four years' study of the Bible and agriculture in a State college, has returned to China as head of a Chinese college. Another foreigner, with his master's degree from one State university and his doctor's degree from another and trained in church work at both, has returned to his home in South Africa.

THE FACULTY.

It is worth mentioning that in twenty-one centers 479 faculty members are members of the local Presbyterian churches, 158 of whom united with the Church during the last three years. We are receiving more help from faculty members than formerly.

A DELAYED MOVEMENT.

To understand the present conditions we need to remember that the long delay of the Church to enter the State universities has made the task more difficult.

The doctrine of separation of Church and State means that each shall do its own work unhampered by the other. It does not mean that when the State founds a school the Church is to relinquish its own duty, but this is what was done. The State was allowed to take over the entire care of the students, their religious as well as their intellectual interests. There have always been clear thinking men who saw the danger in this. In 1872 Dr. Gilman, in his inaugural address as president of the University of California, pleaded for the aid of the churches and quoted the inaugural address of President McCosh at Princeton, in which he said:

"How is religion to be grafted on State colleges open to all, whatever their religious profession? Let the State provide the secular instruction and the churches provide the religious training."

In 1880, Professor Philip Schaff, of Union Theological Seminary, urged on the Assembly that the Church carry the spirit and teaching of Christ into the State universities. It was not until 1906 that these and many similar appeals were met with favorable action by the Assembly, and the Presbyterian Church was the first to enter this field.

The result of this long delay on the part of the churches was that the universities grew apart from the Church. A study of fifty-one State colleges and universities in 1912 showed that less than half the faculty members were members of churches, and that a very small proportion of students attended church. Student religious interests were left to the volunteer initiative of students, while all intellectual, social and athletic interests were in the care of trained specialists. There was little opposition to religion, it was merely neglected and suffered the consequences of neglect.

The result is that the Church has been weakened by the loss of the service and leadership of many of her young people who went through the university, for it is religious homes that supply the ambitious youth who go to the university. Instead of having helped the university in forming its customs and traditions, it must now work at a disadvantage because of the many activities that draw students away from Christian work.

California supplies an illustration that could be duplicated approximately in every State.

Last year the university had 10,325 resident students, or one for every 290 of the population. There are 50,704 Presbyterians in the State. Counting only the 801 Presbyterian students in the regular year courses, there was one Presbyterian student for every 63 of the Presbyterian population of the State, and if we include those in the summer session the proportion is one in every forty. Some allowance must be made for the number coming from other States, but the proportions would not be greatly changed. Add to these facts that the university has been for ten years growing at the rate of 20 per cent. annually, and that the Presbyterian Church in California has grown at the rate of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. annually, and the conclusion is evident. If even a majority of the Presbyterian youth how went through the university had been held loyal to the Church, the history of its work in the world would be written in brighter colors.

CLEVELAND CONFERENCE.

The Second Cleveland Conference on religious work in State universities, made up of representatives of the Y. M. C. A. and

Y. W. C. A., the Council of Church Boards of Education and the Conference of Church Workers in State Universities, was held in Cleveland, November 23, 1916. Minutes of this important conference, at which three commissions reported on evangelism, a comprehensive plan for religious work in universities, and schools of religion, are in print and can be had on application to this Board.

Following this conference, representatives of the International Committees of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and the Council of Church Boards of Education met and appointed a Joint Committee on Evangelism, consisting of seven representatives of the Council of the North American Student Movements and seven representatives of the Council of Church Boards of Education. This committee has met several times and issued a statement to the religious workers in the colleges and universities of the country in behalf of a comprehensive program of evangelism on the four-year basis. The object of the movement is:

1. To lead students to allegiance to and open confession of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

2. To reach the entire student body of each institution with a vital interpretation of Christian fundamentals.

3. To deepen the spiritual life of Christian students with a vital interpretation of Christian fundamentals.

4. To influence every student to unite with the Church of his choice and to enlist his active interest and participation in its life and worship.

5. To challenge students to the creation of a Christian social order and to recognize and promote that order in the world program of Christianity.

6. To recruit students for distinctive Christian callings, with special reference to the immediate needs of our times.

The Joint Committee on Evangelism will attempt to assemble a number of teams for evangelistic campaigns from year to year. It is believed that this forward interdenominational movement for evangelism in the educational institutions of our land will have far-reaching and beneficent results.

Representatives of the four bodies composing the "Cleveland Conference" have since visited the universities of Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Michigan in conference with the local church and association workers and faculty members, giving two days in each center to a careful study of conditions and of the best means for meeting the religious needs of the entire university.

It was discovered that where local churches are unusually strong, and the force of church and association workers active, that not more than one-half the students are brought under direct religious influences. Not only better organization for active co-operation, but a larger number of workers and better physical equipment is required if we are to take these universities for Christ and His Kingdom.

CHURCH BUILDINGS.

An adequate Church building is a necessity at each university and college center. We rejoice in having the active co-operation of the Board of Church Election in providing the funds for these buildings.

It is understood between the two Boards that the Board of Education will co-operate in planning these buildings to meet the needs of the Board's work for students.

IMMEDIATE NEEDS.

In addition to the Church Building, a Residence Headquarters building is needed in each university center, to supply a residence for the pastor and social and class rooms for use during the week. This need grows from the fact that the pastor may not use university buildings for religious classes and that the Church is usually too far from the student quarter to be available for use on week days.

An endowment fund to provide for the salary and expenses is also needed for the support of the work.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION AND THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

To the Board has been committed by the Assembly the duty of keeping the Church in touch with the progress of the movement in behalf of religious instruction for public-school children, especially as that instruction is closely related to the public-school system.

The Board's experience with religious instruction at State university centers has been valuable in pointing the way toward a proper approach to the work conducted in connection with the public schools. The conditions are the same except for the fact that the pupils are younger and live at home. The Board finds that when the university normal school or State college is small and in a compact community, the Sunday-school can be admirably used for providing suitable class instruction; but where there are large numbers of students scattered over a wide area, more than Sunday-school instruction is required.

Our student-pastors discover that they cannot get a majority of their students into classes in the Church schools, and that if they could, it would be entirely inadequate. They therefore provide religious instruction for their constituency throughout the week in convenient places, such as their own residences, guild halls, etc.

The purpose of the movement is to secure the teaching of the Bible and cognate matter, both for information and religious values, to the largest possible number, and to place this Biblical instruction upon a parity with the other important branches in the curriculum,

Progress is being made in the giving of credits toward graduation in the public schools, for Bible instruction given outside the schools. These credits are given only when instruction is supervised by the school authorities. In eight States plans for such credit study have been approved by some educational body of standing in the State. In eight other States such plans are now under serious consideration and are being tried in certain localities. In ten other States, plans are in operation in various parts, without the sanction of any State authorities. It appears from this that in twenty-five States something definite is being done by the public-school authorities to promote systematic and thorough Biblical instruction.

It is clear that the one great need in order to make these plans succeed is competent teachers. The student-pastors of our own and other communions are training college and university students to assume this work in their home communities after graduation. We earnestly call upon all colleges, universities and normal schools to enlist and train students for this work; and that churches in educational centers may be more deeply interested in this important development of our system of public education.

The co-operative methods of the Christian forces at State-university centers form a working model for any group of churches desiring to make adequate provision for the religious needs of public-school children.

LITERATURE.

Two special leaflets, "The Christian Boy's Great Problem" and "What Shall I Do With My Life?" have been issued by the Board in connection with the work of the Department of Candidate Enlistment. "Publishers of Peace," the Board's Vocation Day Exercise, has met with great acceptance.

The Vocation Library for students, which has been in process of preparation for a year or more, is now being issued from the press. It consists of four volumes as follows:

"The Triumphant Ministry," a series of letters to a prospective candidate, by Timothy Kilbourn; "Reapers of His Harvest," biographies of ministers and laymen, by John T. Faris, D.D.; "Their Call To Service," a series of biographies of successful Christian laymen, by Mr. Philip E. Howard; "Heroes of the Campus," biographies of great Christian students, by Joseph W. Cochran. A special memorial edition as a tribute to the late Dr. George W. Bailey of this Board is being issued and will be distributed to one thousand selected students in the colleges and universities. There have been 327,400 pieces of printed matter issued and distributed during the year and 25,922 multigraphed letters sent from the Board's office. The following printed matter has been distributed free of charge to churches and Sunday-schools:

"At the Source of Supply".....	231,000
"The Boy Who Was Called".....	10,000
"The Christian Boy's Great Problem".....	5,400
"What Shall I Do With My Life".....	5,000
"Vocation Day Program".....	50,000
"Publishers of Peace"—Vocation Day Supplements.....	13,000
Bulletin No. 4.....	7,000
Education Week—The Call of the Assembly.....	6,000

DAY OF PRAYER FOR COLLEGES AND EDUCATION WEEK.

We respectfully recommend that the Assembly name February 21, 1918, as the Day of Prayer for Colleges and the previous Sunday, February 17, as Vocation Day, when the youth of the Church shall be shown the importance of dedicating to God their life service and be informed of the need of trained leadership in the Church's work.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH WILSON COCHRAN, Secretary.

CHARLES WADSWORTH, JR., President.

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST.

All that the Board deems it important to furnish is its CORPORATE NAME, viz.: THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

The State laws differ so much that no one form will answer in all the States.

The following form may be used in most of the States:

"I give and devise to THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA the sum of..... dollars, to and for the uses of the said Board of Education." (If real estate or other property be given, let it be particularly described.)

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Ninety-eighth Annual Report of the Board of Education was presented to the General Assembly in session at Dallas, Texas, May, 1917, and was referred to the Standing Committee on Education, which consisted of the following:

Ministers.

REV. CHARLES G. RICHARDS, D.D., Chairman;
 J. MILTON GREENE, D.D.,
 ARTHUR C. LUDLOW, D.D.,
 BYRD R. SMITH,
 JAMES R. HENRY, D.D.,
 HUGH ROBINSON,
 STADO A. MUNNEKE, D.D.,
 R. A. MONTGOMERY,
 GEORGE W. BECK,
 SAMUEL MARTIN,
 LUCIEN W. SCOTT,
 CLARENCE A. SPAULDING.

Ruling Elders.

H. E. CLARKE,
 GEORGE T. COXHEAD,
 JOHN C. HERSHEY,
 F. B. BURK,
 WILLIAM H. ROOSE,
 ALBERT F. KOEPCKE,
 W. P. RHODES,
 H. C. STETSON,
 CHARLES S. LAWRENCE,
 A. C. COOPER,
 E. T. MATHIS.

The Committee presented its Report to the Assembly on Monday, May 21. It was accepted and the appended resolutions were unanimously adopted:

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That the Minutes of the Board, as presented by the Recording Secretary, be approved. That the report of the Treasurer for the year ending March 31, 1917, be approved and that the Board be instructed to look to the Budget Committee of the Executive Commission for help in any financial emergency that may occur, during the present year, as the result of the consolidation.

2. That the Ninety-eighth Annual Report be accepted and that the Board be heartily commended for its zeal and fidelity in prosecuting its task under the peculiarly difficult conditions of the past year, and in presenting such an able report of its work.

3. That churches and individuals be earnestly requested to consider the financial needs of our Presbyterian training schools and that their offerings go through the Board of Education. That all schools receiving scholarships from the Board of Education be requested to include in their curricula a course on the organized work of the Presbyterian Church and its benevolent system.

4. That in pursuance of requests that have come to the Board to this effect, the Board be authorized to act as a communicating medium between churches and pastors seeking paid lay helpers and those who may be available for such service.

5. That the Board for this year be directed to aid ministerial candidates, students for medical missions and other lay workers, according to its last year's scale of appropriations, and that in addition thereto, it continue to exercise its discretion in the education of Indians and other candidates for the ministry to our exceptional populations.

6. That the amended application for "New" men suggested by the Board, relating to more explicit statements of the students' financial resources, be approved.

7. That the Board be directed to continue its study of religious education as related to public instruction and to assist in this important task wherever possible.

8. That the Board be directed to continue its co-operation with other Christian bodies in the support of the work of the Council of Church Boards of Education and that its Secretaries be authorized to give such time to the work of the Council as the Board may approve.

9. That the Board's contracts with Synods engaged in religious work for Presbyterian and other students at State universities, colleges and institutions of higher learning, be approved, and the Board directed to prosecute vigorously this branch of its work; and that Synods which have arrived at self-support in Home Missions be urged to attain the same standard in this great branch of the Church's work. That an Emergency Campaign for the Board be authorized if and when the Board deems necessary, and that the Executive Commission co-operate with the Board in such campaign.

10. That the Joint Committee of the Board of Education and of the Assembly's Committee on Evangelism be directed to continue its work in the colleges, and to take such measures as, in its judgment, will increase the effectiveness of this strategic service. That, in case large numbers of our students shall be found in military training camps, the Joint Committee on College Visitation be directed to provide religious ministrations to students and others in camp as opportunity may offer.

11. That the work of the Joint Committee on Evangelism, representing the Council of Church Boards of Education and the national organizations of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, which contemplates a comprehensive program of evangelism for the colleges and universities of this country, be heartily endorsed.

12. That in view of the decimation of ministerial and mission forces in other nations of Christendom and the calling to the colors of vast numbers of our young men, and in view of the demand of the coming age for a superlative leadership, the Board be directed to continue its special challenge to selected groups of boys of high-school age, and to press with increased earnestness and, if need be, by additional measures, its distinctive work of recruiting for the ministry in home and church and college.

13. That Sunday, February 17, 1918, be recommended to the churches and Sunday-schools as "Vocation Day" when the youth of the Church shall be shown the importance of dedicating to God their life service and be informed of the need of trained leadership in the Church's work, and that the following Thursday be recommended as the "Day of Prayer" for colleges, to be observed in all our institutions for the deepening of religious life among students, and that all our churches be urged to plan their mid-week service with this in view.

14. That the following persons whose terms of office expire with this Assembly be re-elected to the class of 1917 to 1920:

JAMES M. HUBBERT, D.D.,	S. SPENCER CHAPMAN, ESQ.,
WILLIAM P. FINNEY, D.D.,	GEORGE W. WARREN, D.D.S.,
F. W. LOETSCHER, PH.D., D.D.,	MR. CRAIG N. LIGGET,
H. C. SWEARINGEN, D.D.,	MR. WILLIAM H. HENSEL,

and that Mr. H. H. Seldomridge and Mr. H. B. F. Macfarland be elected by the Assembly to fill the vacancies occasioned by the death of Dr. George W. Bailey and Mr. Walter E. Rex.

15. That in view of the approaching centenary of the organization of the Board of Education, which occurred in 1819, and in order that so important an anniversary may be fittingly observed, it is suggested that the city of Philadelphia, the cradle of American liberty and the birthplace of the mother Presbytery (as also of this Board) be earnestly considered as the place of meeting for the Assembly of 1919.

All of which is respectfully submitted by your Committee.

(Signed) C. G. RICHARDS, Chairman.

THE REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH SCHOOL WORK.

PRESENTED TO AND APPROVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT DALLAS, TEXAS, MAY 23, 1917.

Your Committee on the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work would respectfully report as follows:

It would be difficult to overemphasize the importance of the work of this Board. It deals not only with the beginnings of the Christian life, but with its training and development. The work of the Board is carried on under four Departments.

The first part of our report deals with the Editorial Department.

The Editorial Department

1. We heartily commend the periodicals of the Board and urge our schools to use them. We commend The Christian Educator to pastors, superintendents and other educational leaders in the local churches, and recommend that a club for the periodical be formed in every church.

2. We note with approval the Board's announcement of "a forward step in lesson making." The Departmental Graded Lessons are a distinct advance over the Closely Graded Lessons, and will be found useful in schools both large and small. This system provides one lesson for all the pupils of a Department, and gives all the lessons in the course in successive years. The Closely Graded Lessons will be available for all schools desiring them.

3. We urge pastors and sessions to push the circulation of "A Book of Family Worship," which the Board has prepared in accordance with instructions of the General Assembly of 1913.

4. In answer to the overtures from the Presbyteries of Twin Falls and Boise, asking that "Forward" devote space regularly to material on the Monthly Concert of Prayer for Missions, we recommend that no action be taken.

5. Regarding the overture of the Presbytery of Shenango for providing more Psalter Hymns, we recommend that no action be taken.

6. In keeping with the action of the General Assembly of 1916, we express our approval of the efforts of the Board to give the Church "a satisfactory series of hymnals"; and we sanction the request of the Board for the issuance of a supplement to The Hymnal to be known as "The Supplement of 1917," as follows:

1. The national anthem and words of Francis Scott Key, The Star-Spangled Banner, omitting verse 3.

2. The hymn of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, known as The Battle Hymn of the Republic, with its proper tune.

3. The hymn of Rudyard Kipling, known as The Recessional, set to the music most available for congregational use.

The Missionary Department

The second part of our report deals with the Missionary Department.

1. We recommend that the policy of the Board in coöperating with the Home Mission activities of the Church by placing missionary Sabbath schools under the care of neighboring churches wherever practicable, be commended as an effective means of developing and extending Home Mission parishes, besides providing for the permanency of such Mission schools.

2. That pastors and sessions be reminded of the importance of placing the cause of Sabbath-school Missions upon the regular budget of congregational benevolences, in addition to the offerings given by the Sabbath schools on Children's Day and Rally Day. A generous response to the budget feature of this recommendation will enable the Board to enlarge both its mission and colportage work as necessity may require.

3. That the Board be requested to prepare a patriotic program, with suitable exercises, for use in connection with Rally Day, 1917.

4. That the Sabbath schools be urged to observe Children's Day, not only as a means of developing the life and activity of the local school but as an appropriate time for remembering the needs of the children of our land who are without Sabbath-school privileges, providing by liberal offerings for the support of our Sabbath-school missionaries.

5. That the Assembly approves and commends the action of the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work and of the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation in making it possible for the Sabbath-school missionaries to become members of the Sustentation Fund.

6. In response to the request of the Home Mission Council asking the formation of a plan to secure "close and sympathetic contact of the field operations" of the Board of Sabbath-School Work and the Home Mission Board, the Committee recommends the adoption by Presbyteries and Synods in which Sabbath-school missionary work is being carried on, of the plan recommended by a previous General Assembly providing for interchangeability of membership of the Committees on Home Missions and Sabbath-School Work; and the holding of a joint meeting of the two Committees at least once a year. This plan is being successfully followed in a number of Presbyteries and Synods resulting in satisfactory coöperation in the prosecution of field work.

The Department of Religious Education

The third part of our report deals with the Department of Religious Education:

1. We heartily commend the efforts of this Department which has charge of the various educational agencies of the local church, including Young People's work, in vigorously prosecuting during the past year the work committed to it.

2. We note with interest and approval the increased activity of the Department in promoting organized Bible classes among the men of the Church, and we heartily commend its efforts to advance religion in the home and express the hope that a suitable manual for catechetical instruction may be prepared.

3. In response to the overture of Chicago Presbytery asking the Assembly to recognize The Vacation Daily Bible School as a permanent part of Presbyterian activity, we recommend favorable action, suggesting that the official supervision of these schools be committed to the joint oversight of the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work and the Home Board, leaving the amount of money thus to be used to the discretion of the two Boards.

4. We are glad to learn that Young People's Work is keeping step with the religious life of to-day in organizing among our young people such societies and organizations as will conserve the interests of our Church and advance the cause of Christ. We are especially pleased with the marked success of the Summer and Winter Conferences among our young people, and we approve of the enlargement of this work. In accordance with the action of former Assemblies, we recommend that the first Sabbath in February, 1918, be observed as Young People's Day, and that our young people on that day make a special offering for the work being carried on by our denomination in their behalf.

The Business Department

The fourth part of our report deals with the Business Department. Your Committee on the Business Department of the Board has carefully examined the reports for the year which they find in good shape and duly audited by the authorized committee as well as by the special accountants. We feel that the Board, considering the character of the business, has been able to make a very creditable showing.

We note that a special examination has been made by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company and are glad to learn that the accounts of the Board have been kept in such shape that they were, in the main, approved; and that such suggestions as were made will be put into effect as promptly as possible.

We cordially commend the policy of the Board in establishing and maintaining depositories or book stores in important centers throughout the country. We understand that this is done at considerable investment of capital, the returns upon which are not always adequate, but we believe the policy is a wise one and in no other way could the Board keep in close touch with its constituency and render to the Church the service which is demanded.

We are particularly gratified to learn that in San Francisco the Board is coöperating with the other Presbyterian agencies of that community by establishing Presbyterian headquarters, providing a room for the meetings of ministers, and sub-letting a part of their proposed new location to the Foreign and Home Mission Boards for the use of their representatives in that city.

We recommend that this policy of the Board have the hearty approval of the General Assembly.

Members Reelected

In conclusion, the Committee recommends that the Board's Minutes be approved; and that the Assembly confirms the election by the Board of C. H. Ruhl, Esq., of Reading, Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Honorable Bernard Gilpin.

2. We recommend that the following ministers and elders, whose term of office expires in June, be reëlected for a term of three years.

Ministers

REV. JOHN HARVEY LEE,
REV. FRANK LUKENS,
REV. JOHN B. LAIRD, D.D.,
REV. JAMES RAMSEY SWAIN,
REV. GEORGE H. MACK, D.D.,

Elders

ABRAHAM R. PERKINS,
ROLAND M. EAVENSON,
C. H. RUHL,
C. T. KIRKPATRICK,
T. EDWARD ROSS.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. SMITH,
Chairman.

Seventy-Ninth Annual Report

---

The Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work presents herewith its Seventy-ninth Annual Report to the General Assembly. The work of the Board was diligently prosecuted during the year, with results which will appear in the reports of the several departments.

Missionary Department

More missionaries have been commissioned and service has been rendered in a larger number of Presbyteries because of the generous response of the Church to the appeal for missionary funds. The contributions amounted to $215,442.71. The character of our missionary operations is changing with the changes on the field, becoming increasingly intensive as well as extensive. Added emphasis has been laid upon evangelistic work at our missionary conferences and in the labors of the missionaries.

During the year 159 missionaries were at work in 162 Presbyteries. The results are recorded on pages 11-24.

Department of Religious Education

The new Department of Religious Education, which has oversight of the various educational agencies of the local church, including Young People's Work, is promoting its work in many directions. A comprehensive program, known as the "Forward Movement in Religious Education," has been prepared. It includes, among other subjects, Religious Training in the Home, the Preparation of Teachers, Young People's Work and Conferences, and Missionary Education.

The department is also furthering Vacation Bible Schools, both for our church schools and for children usually not found in Sunday school, a work which is being carried on in coöperation with the Board of Home Missions. The attention of the Church is called to The Christian Educator, the magazine edited jointly by the Editorial and Educational Departments, as a periodical which should be in the hands of all who are interested in promoting Religious Education in the local church. Further reference to the work of this department will be found on pages 25-32.

Editorial Department

The Board of Publication was established by the Assembly of 1838 to furnish the Church with a religious literature. During the seventy-nine years of its service this has been one of the Board's leading activities. There has been a gradual evolution of the publication plans so that now its general policy is to publish books bearing more directly upon the doctrine, the education, the work, and the worship of the Church. Its chief service is rendered in the publication of Sabbath-school literature of all kinds, which has been growing in volume and in the estimation of our Sabbath-school workers.

The year's progress in the introduction of our Church and Sabbath-School Hymnals is reported on page 33.

Departmental Graded Lessons

In coöperation with the Publishing Houses of the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches in the United States and Canada, this Board, on January 1, 1915, entered upon the publication of Departmental Graded Lessons. This plan aims to give the same lesson for an entire department. The plan has been received with much favor, not only by our smaller schools but by many that had been using the more closely graded lessons.

Encouraged by this success, and believing that the time has come for a further development, we have decided, in conjunction with the Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, to issue Departmental Graded Lessons for the Intermediate Department as well as for the Elementary Grades. These lessons will be prepared with a view of meeting the needs of any school, and will, we believe, be thoroughly practical, from an educational standpoint. We regard this as a decided forward step in Sunday-school lessons. Further details will be found on pages 35-39.

Business Department

This department attends to the manufacture and sale of all the periodicals and books published by the Board. It maintains not only a store in Philadelphia, but also depositories in other cities. In this store and depositories a general book business is conducted, particular attention being given to the sale of books relating to the doctrine, the education, the work, and the worship of the Church.

Besides books and periodicals, church and Sabbath-school supplies constitute an important part of the Board's service. The magnitude of this business may be realized from the fact that last year the total sales amounted to $1,163,778.97, with net profits of $66,053.27.

This department is also charged with the maintenance and care of the Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, and the Presbyterian buildings in Nashville and Cincinnati, all of which are owned by the Board, and show valuation of $1,197,112.82.

The Board, realizing that a business of such magnitude should be efficiently managed, engaged the services of Price, Waterhouse & Company, who made a thorough study of its affairs, with the result that the system and methods were, on the whole, commended. Some changes, however, were suggested which it is hoped will insure still greater efficiency and economy.

Further reference to the Business Department will be found on page 45.

Election of Members of the Board

C. H. Ruhl, Esq., of Reading, Pa., has been elected a member of the Board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Bernard Gilpin. The Assembly is requested to confirm this election.

The term of office of the following members of the Board will expire in June:

Ministers:

REV. JOHN HARVEY LEE,
REV. FRANK LUKENS,
REV. JOHN B. LAIRD,
REV. JAMES RAMSAY SWAIN,
REV. GEORGE H. MACK,

Elders:

ABRAHAM R. PERKINS,
ROLAND M. EAVENSON,
C. H. RUHL,
C. T. KIRKPATRICK,
T. EDWARD ROSS.

The Board respectfully recommends that these ministers and elders be reelected to serve for three years.

The Board's Recommendation for a Representative Committee in Presbytery and Synod

The growth of the Board's work has called for the appointment of new committees in Presbyteries and Synods, particularly in the interests of Young People's Work and Religious Education. We find that this has created some confusion, inasmuch as two or more committees are at times found in the same Presbytery representing the work of one Board.

To meet this condition, the Board, at its December meeting, adopted a resolution recommending that Presbyteries and Synods appoint among their Standing Committees one to be known as the Committee on Publication and Sabbath School Work. This committee may be divided into two or three sub-committees, to coöperate with the several departments of the Board: Publication, Missionary, and Religious Education which includes Young People's Work. This action was taken in the interests of unity and for the purpose of making it possible for Presbyteries and Synods, through one strong committee, to care for the rapidly developing work of the Board, more particularly its educational and missionary interests.

Missionary Department

In completing its thirtieth year of service the Missionary Department presents a report which indicates considerable progress. It has been a year of expansion. New fields have been entered in response to appeals from Presbyteries. In other fields the work already organized has been strengthened and developed by the appointment of additional missionaries. More emphasis has been placed upon evangelistic effort, producing results that have been a source of blessing. The spirit of enthusiasm and unity pervades the entire service, every missionary feeling the stimulus of a clearly defined policy and the inspiration of united action toward the accomplishment of a common purpose.

Finances The extension of the work during the past year has been made possible mainly on account of the new plan approved by the General Assembly of 1916, providing for the financing of the educational work of the Board out of the profits of the Business Department, thus relieving the Missionary Fund of its expenditure for that work, which had averaged more than $16,000 annually. With a balance of $8,705.21 from the previous year, the sum of $25,000 was thus made available for additional work. An increase in the contributions for the year, together with an enlargement of our income from the Witherspoon Building and other permanent funds, brought us to the close of the year with a balance of $3,441.66. The total amount received in contributions is $215,442.71, being the largest amount ever received in a single year in the history of the work.

The following table demonstrates how this work has won the sympathy of, and established itself in the affections of, the Church as a factor in the evangelization of America:

Contributions from Churches, Sabbath Schools and Individuals

1905-06.....	$130,119.00

Administration

It should be a source of satisfaction to the Church to know that the growth of the field force and the extension of this Department's activities have not necessitated any appreciable increase in administrative cost. This work is being conducted in a most economical manner, the outlay for office expenses being reduced to the minimum consistent with efficiency. The amount expended last year for all salaries, printing, stationery, and other expenses of the Philadelphia office of the Missionary Department, is $9,846.59, or 3.7 per cent of the total budget.

The Work Afield

During the year 159 missionaries and colporteurs have been engaged in this work in 162 Presbyteries and 39 Synods. A new field entered last year was the Synod of New England, by the appointment of a missionary. In the Synod of Utah two additional missionaries were commissioned for the purpose of making an aggressive attack upon the strongholds of Mormonism. In the Synod of Tennessee two additional missionaries were placed to meet the needs of large districts into which our Church had not yet reached. In the Synod of Kentucky two new missionaries were appointed; with further additions in the Synods of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, and Michigan.

Another outstanding feature of the year's activities is the extension of our work into Alaska. The Board is glad to be able to announce to this General Assembly that after careful investigation of the field and a thorough canvass of the situation in Alaska, arrangements have been made for the appointment of a missionary for that region. He begins his labors May 1. This appointment was urged by the representatives of the Home Mission Board laboring in Alaska, and their full coöperation is promised. The influx of thousands of new settlers who are making permanent homes in Alaska make it a most inviting field for Sabbath-school missionary work.

Many of these new workers have been in the field but a few months and the full results of their labors do not appear in this year's summary of work; nor does the entire increased expenditure necessary for their support show in the financial statement. The balance which the Board reports in the Missionary Fund at the close of the year is fully pledged for the maintenance of these additional missionaries during the coming year.

Sabbath Schools Established

Within the past twelve months 911 new schools have been organized and 316 revived, making a total of 1,227, with an enrolment of 4,134 officers and teachers, and 37,936 pupils—a total of 42,070. (See page 21.)

System and Coöperation      Excellent results are being obtained under our present policy of attaching mission schools as out-stations to neighboring churches. In some cases, churches have become responsible for half a dozen mission schools, thus extending the boundaries of many home mission parishes, providing increased support for the pastor, and assuring the permanency of the work. At the same time, it provides adequately for the spiritual necessities of small rural communities without increasing the number of dependent churches.

Sabbath Schools Aided      To introduce the literature of our Church, the Missionary Department has followed, with encouraging results, the plan of assisting newly organized schools with donations of lesson helps; and frequently of Bibles and hymnals. Under careful oversight of the missionaries, these donations are continued only so long as the schools are unable to provide for their own needs. Usually, they become self-supporting after the first year. Last year the Board expended $8,161.47 in the purchase of equipment for such schools, more than 2,000 schools receiving assistance of this character.

Sabbath-School Development      Two phases of development work are emphasized. Each missionary is charged with the responsibility for the constant improvement of the schools which he brings into existence, and for the attainment of certain recognized standards of efficiency. For mission schools located in new districts, where only the simplest form of organization is possible, we have our Banner Sabbath-school Standard, consisting of ten points of organization and service which are within their reach. For larger schools having better advantages and facilities, we have the Interdenominational Ten-Point Standard which has been adopted by the Sunday School Council and the International Sunday School Association. These standards are made the goal of the missionaries' Sabbath-school development work. In connection therewith, we are coöperating closely with the Department of Religious Education, conforming to the policies and plans of that Department in every phase of this work. Special reports are made monthly by the missionaries, covering their efforts in promoting the work of teacher-training and class organization in order that complete records may be made; and the literature prepared by that Department is being given wide circulation by the missionaries throughout the entire field. Indeed, these missionaries, by the very nature of their work, are making a valuable contribution to the educational service of the Board. Moreover, they are coöperating in a helpful way in the promotion of Young People's Work, participating in summer and winter conferences held in their respective Presbyteries, circulating literature concerning young people's organizations of various kinds, besides organizing young people's societies wherever possible. Last year 83 societies were thus brought into existence, and reported to the Department of Religious Education. Resulting from these efforts 355 Cradle Rolls and 281 Home Departments were started; 407 teacher-training classes were organized with a membership of 3,597; 209 adult and 258 teen-age classes were organized. (See page 23.)

Church Development

The other aspect of Sabbath-school development work is that of coöperating with the Home Mission committees of Presbyteries in the holding of strategic points and preparing them for church organization. It is not the business of the Sabbath-school missionary to organize churches, but having done the preliminary work in organizing the school, the missionary, being familiar with the local situation, is able to render valuable service in preparing the people for church organization in cases where the Presbytery deems it advisable to plant a church. In such cases, the Board gladly coöperates with the Home Mission forces on the field. Last year 63 new Presbyterian churches developed from schools previously organized, besides 24 churches of other denominations. During the past thirty years, 1,836 Presbyterian churches have thus come into existence, and 695 churches of other denominations.

Church Property

These new organizations have become possessed of church property valued at $110,950, during the past year, and 50 buildings have been erected. Thus the Church has acquired additional property equal to 60 per cent of the amount expended for the support of the Sabbath-school missionary work.

Fostering Schools

The missionaries have under their fostering care at the present time 2,602 mission schools, with 11,225 officers and teachers, and 92,299 pupils, a total of 103,254. All of the schools are the object of the development work described in the foregoing paragraphs.

Evangelistic Work

Last summer, preparations were made for a season of special activity along evangelistic lines during the fall and winter months, with the view of strengthening the schools and developing workers. At our annual missionary conferences, attention was given to the discussion of evangelistic methods. The results have been most encouraging. The missionaries report such services having been held in 482 communities, with 3,567 professed conversions; but these figures do not begin to express the full extent of the good accomplished. Entire communities have been awakened and transformed; family altars have been erected; schools revived; parents enlisted in the work; and the blessing of the Spirit has been manifested in countless other ways. It is the purpose of the Board to continue to stress this feature of the work.

Home Visitation An important part of our field work is the visitation of scattered families who are beyond the reach of pastoral care. It would be difficult to estimate the results of this wayside ministry. Last year 110,344 families were thus visited with the Gospel message by our missionaries in the course of their labors.

Literature Distributed This visitation work affords opportunity for the distribution of large quantities of evangelistic and devotional literature, besides the periodicals of the Board. Last year 16,332 Bibles and Testaments and other volumes were sold and given away, besides 1,680,150 pages of tracts and periodicals.

Mission schools and churches have been assisted with grants of hymnals, libraries, and tracts; 8,625 volumes and 9,340,517 pages of tracts being thus distributed.

Clothing Distributed The missionaries are also enabled to relieve the needs of many who suffer from the lack of sufficient clothing to protect them during the winter. Ladies' Aid Societies, Mission Bands, and Sabbath schools have sent generous donations of clothing to missionaries located in districts where such assistance is needed. Last year 34 such donations were received, valued at $2,016.82.

Vacation Sunday-School Bands A feature of our work among the Negroes, which is developing into a movement of encouraging proportions, is the formation of Vacation Sunday-school Bands composed of pupils in the boarding schools conducted by the Board of Missions for Freedmen throughout the South. The members of these bands pledge themselves to engage in some form of Sabbath-school work in the vicinity of their homes, or wherever they may be during the summer vacation season. Last year 12 such Bands were formed, 650 pupils being enrolled. As the result of their work 18 new schools were organized, and schools already in existence were strengthened by the addition of 3,220 pupils to their membership. Many more will be engaged in this work during the coming season. The movement has spread to such an extent that nearly every one of the Freedmen Board's schools now has its Vacation Sunday-school Band.

*Surveying
The Field* In order that complete information may be available concerning the need of our missionary work, efforts are being made to obtain statistics showing the number of children of school age in each Presbytery, who are not enrolled in Sabbath schools. The gathering of these statistics is difficult in many cases because of the meager information available, but it is confidently expected that within a few months the Board will be in possession of facts which will enable it the better to plan and prosecute its work in behalf of the unreached and neglected children in our land.

*Entered
Into Rest* Two of our faithful missionaries have been called to their reward during the past year: the Rev. James V. Milligan, D.D., Synodical Superintendent of the Synod of Oregon on September 19, 1916; and the Rev. Joseph Brown, of the Synod of Wisconsin, on April 2, 1917. Dr. Milligan gave sixteen years of consecrated service to the cause and was called from the midst of his labors. His faithful service in the evangelization of the out-of-the-way places in Oregon was an important factor in the development of the Kingdom's interests in that State. Mr. Brown was known throughout the Church as one of the first of our pioneer missionaries, having been commissioned in 1888 and serving continuously for a period of twenty-nine years. Words cannot express the value of his service to the advancement of Presbyterianism in Wisconsin. His name and his spirit have been so wrought into the development of the Church in that great State that his influence will continue to bear fruit for generations.

Providing for the Missionaries Recognizing the additional burden which the missionaries have been called upon to bear on account of the increase in the cost of living, the Board has given careful consideration to the matter of advancing their salaries. We are glad to report that the salaries of many of the missionaries have been increased.

Sustentation A further provision for the missionaries has been made by an arrangement with the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation to enable each Sabbath-school missionary who is eligible under the rules of that Board, to obtain a certificate of membership in the Sustentation Fund. The Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work has offered to grant an increase in salary to all Sabbath-school missionaries who choose to become members of the Fund, equal to one-half the amount of their annual dues. Not only are we thus coöperating with the Sustentation Fund but we are relieving our missionaries of anxiety for the welfare of their families in the event of disability or death.

Children's Day and Rally Day

The special days continue to grow in popularity among our schools; Children's Day, especially, has been almost universally observed. Nearly 6,000 schools used our Children's Day services last year, more than 786,000 copies of the program and supplement being distributed. These exercises are sent only upon request of the schools. More than 2,000 schools used our Rally Day service, over 400,000 copies being ordered. The offerings given on these two special days show a substantial increase over previous years. Last year, for the first time in the history of this work, the offerings exceeded $100,000.

Missionary Conferences

Conferences with our missionaries were held in Estes Park, Colorado; Duluth, Minnesota; Birmingham, Alabama; and West Point, Mississippi. Three-fourths of the whole number of field workers were thus given the advantage of fellowship and instruction.

Congregational Offerings

The last General Assembly suggested to pastors and church sessions that they give the work of our Board a place in the congregational benevolences. During the previous year more than one-half the churches failed to send a congregational offering for this work. The fact that members of the congregation participate in the collection taken at the joint service on Children's Day, should not exclude this Board from receiving its share in the apportionment of the congregational missionary offerings, especially in churches which have adopted the Every Member Plan. Active correspondence has been carried on with the non-contributing churches, resulting in a substantial increase in receipts from churches during the past year. We are hopeful that as a result of the Assembly's action the coming year will show a still larger gain.

Coöperation of
Synodical Committees

We are deeply grateful for the cordial and helpful coöperation of our presbyterial and synodical committees. The chairmen of these committees, though busy with the cares of their own pastorates, have cheerfully responded to our requests. They share largely in the success of the work during the past year.

Catechism Memory Awards

The Board continues to offer a Bible to pupils in our schools under sixteen years of age who memorize the Intermediate Catechism, and a larger Bible to pupils under eighteen years of age who memorize the Shorter Catechism. Under this offer 825 Bibles were awarded last year.

Churches Without Sabbath Schools

Our missionaries have been urged to give special attention to the establishment of Sabbath schools in connection with all the Presbyterian churches in their respective fields. They have labored to accomplish this, and practically all our churches located in the Presbyteries where missionaries are working, conduct schools during at least a portion of the year.

As was noted in last year's report, our investigation of the situation a year ago indicated that very few churches which are alive, are without schools; and that the greater number of those reporting no school membership in the Minutes of the General Assembly, are abandoned churches which are being carried on the rolls of Presbyteries for property reasons; while others have been found to be maintaining good schools, but in reporting have failed to include their membership in their statistical statement.

Transportation Bureau

It has been the custom of many of the western railroads to favor our missionaries and the missionaries of other Boards, in certain fields, with free transportation on account of the missionary character of their work. In view of the increasing number of requests for such transportation, the railroad officials requested that the benevolent agencies of each denomination employing field workers should unite in establishing a Bureau of Transportation through which all applications for free transportation should be transmitted.

After conference between the representatives of the various Boards, official action was taken by each, assenting to the formation of such a Bureau. The Committee in charge of the Bureau is as follows: Rev. Edgar P. Hill, D.D., Chairman, Rev. W. S. Marquis, D.D., Clerk and Treasurer, and Rev. W. S. Holt, D.D., with the Rev. W. H. Kearns, D.D., as Transportation Secretary. No salaries are paid, the only charge upon the Boards being for office expense which is shared pro rata according to the amount of transportation which each receives.

Our Work Among Immigrants

Our missionary colporteur work is a recognized factor in the progress of immigrant evangelization.

We had 28 missionary colporteurs in the fields during the year, laboring in 10 Synods. They have visited 53,252 families, and have distributed by sale and gift 7,834 Bibles and Testaments, besides 15,970 other religious books, and 149,400 pages of evangelistic tracts in at least 20 foreign languages. Their total sales amount to $2,248.09. (See page 24.)

Extending the Work

It is the purpose of the Board to extend its missionary colporteur work during the coming year.

We are now in correspondence with Presbyteries, endeavoring to ascertain the number of foreigners of various nationalities residing within their bounds. Some very interesting reports have already been received and arrangements will be made with a number of these Presbyteries, where the need is most urgent, for the appointment of additional colporteurs to canvass the needy districts, opening the way for the establishing of permanent mission stations, and distributing evangelical literature.

Our Foreign Periodicals

In addition to the work of the missionary colporteurs, our weekly religious papers in foreign languages are accomplishing effective results in spreading the knowledge of the Truth among the immigrants.

For Bohemians

The first of our periodicals in foreign languages, "Krestanske Listy" (The Christian Journal), continues to minister in a helpful manner to the scattered Bohemian families on the farms in the West and Southwest, besides supplementing the work of the missionary pastors in the missions which have been established for Bohemian people in the more densely populated centers. The circulation is now 2,800 copies weekly.

Our Bohemian child's paper, "Besidka" (Story Hour), is popular, especially in the Bohemian Sabbath schools. The present circulation is 3,000 copies.

For Ruthenians

Among the Ruthenians, our weekly paper, "Sojuz" (Union), is a source of encouragement to the efforts being made to promote the cause of Protestantism. It is difficult to overcome the effect of centuries of ignorance and superstition, but gradual as the process may be, we have many indications that the seed sown through the medium of this paper will come to a bountiful harvest. The circulation of "Sojuz" is 1,200 copies.

For Hungarians (Magyars)

The editor of our Hungarian weekly paper, "Reformatusok Lapja" (Reformed Sentinel), Rev. Ladislaus Harsanyi, was obliged for physical reasons to transfer the work, with the approval of the Reformed Board and our own Board, to other hands. His brother, Rev. Alexander Harsanyi, Ph.D., of Homestead, Pennsylvania, has assumed the task, with Rev. George Kmecik, of Jessup, Pennsylvania, as associate editor. The new editors entertain hopes of greatly increasing its circulation besides developing its usefulness in the work of evangelizing the Hungarian people in America. Our Hungarian Sunday-school magazine, "Bibliai Tanito" (Bible Teacher) continues to be greatly appreciated by the workers in the Hungarian missions. Its circulation is 1,500 copies monthly.

For Italians Our Italian weekly paper also has undergone a change not only in the editorship, but also in name. Under the editorial supervision of the Rev. Francis J. Panetta, of New York, the paper is meeting with the universal approval and support of the Italian ministers and people. The name of the paper has been changed to "L'Era Nuova" (The New Era), and its circulation is increasing week by week, now numbering 3,000 copies.

For Poles The Board continues to make an annual appropriation toward the support of "Słowa Żywota" (Words of Life), the Polish bi-weekly paper published by the United Presbyterian Board of Publication, in consideration of which our colporteurs are supplied with copies for distribution.

Bible Picture Cards These cards are in great demand not only in the Sabbath schools, but in visitation among the immigrants everywhere. The colored Bible picture, with the Bible story printed on the back of the card, is always attractive to the immigrant. These cards are printed in Bohemian, Hungarian, Italian, Polish, Ruthenian, and Spanish, the quarterly output being 18,500 sets.

Acknowledgments Our thanks are rendered to the American Bible Society for the helpfulness of its donations of copies of the Scriptures for the use of our Sabbath-school missionaries; and to the Presbytery of Pittsburgh for the privilege of drawing upon its supply of literature in Slavic languages for the use of our colporteurs. The Committee on Foreign Work in Pittsburgh Presbytery is also coöperating very effectively in the supervision of the publication of four of our weekly religious papers in foreign languages.

In Conclusion The year's work thus reviewed shows progress and bears unmistakable evidences of the divine blessing. We have attempted larger things, and it has been our joy to see the promises of God fulfilled. As co-laborers with Him we enter another year of service confident of continued blessing.

Field Work

During the past year, the Secretary of the Department, the Superintendent of Young People's Work, Rev. Wm. Ralph Hall, and the three District Superintendents, Rev. George C. Fracker, Rev. Gerritt Verkuy, and Rev. C. W. Laufer, traveled about 89,000 miles, made 1,856 addresses, and conducted 225 conferences and institutes. Several of these institutes were for a period of five days, during which time the Board's representatives were assisted by local experts. The several Synodical Superintendents and many of the Sabbath-school missionaries also conducted educational conferences, promoted teacher-training and organized Bible classes, and in other ways coöperated with the Department of Religious Education in the promotion of the educational work. We mention with appreciation the gratifying constructive work being accomplished by the various field men.

Conferences and Institutes

During the year the Board assisted directly in the promotion of many schools of method, among them being the winter institutes, such as those held at Milwaukee, St. Louis, Kansas City, Rockford, Ill., and the summer schools at Macalester, Minn., Carroll College, Wis., and Alma, Mich. See also the list of conferences reported in the section on Young People's Work.

The Forward Movement

Early in September a four-page leaflet was issued setting forth the main features of a forward movement in the educational work of the local church. The program as outlined was cordially received and has been accepted as a working basis of the future. Progress has been made along the following lines:

The Council of Religious Education

The necessity of unifying and correlating the various educational agencies in the individual church is now generally accepted. A large number of churches are slowly bringing this about by the organization of a central Council or Committee on the educational work of the church.

Religion in the Home

The movement which was launched last May for the setting up of the family altar and the promotion of Bible-reading and religious training in the home has met with remarkable success. Twenty-five thousand copies of the leaflet, Christ and the Homes of America, have been purchased by churches for general distribution. Reports from the field, the sale of material, and the generally awakened interest in the subject, make possible the conservative statement that during the last twelve months about ten thousand Presbyterian homes have undertaken family worship and Bible-reading. Still greater efforts will be made this coming year to extend the influence of the movement.

The Sabbath School

Progress has been made along many lines. Membership and Evangelism The net increase in membership has been constant. During the last five years it has amounted to 207,257. The total membership in all Presbyterian Sabbath schools for 1916 was 1,412,387. The evangelistic aim of the Sabbath school is kept constantly to the front. From April 1, 1915 to April 1, 1916, the additions to the Church membership from the Sabbath school were 65,645 or 60 per cent of the total additions on confessions of faith.

Notwithstanding this fine showing, we confidently believe that it is possible to advance upon these figures when the Presbyterian Church takes the matter of membership increase and evangelism in the Sabbath school as seriously as it should. The department is maturing plans looking toward an aggressive move on the part of the entire Church in this direction.

One of the ideals which we are striving to realize is a comprehensive curriculum for the whole Church. Central in all of this is the lesson system in the Sabbath school. The Curriculum The Department of Religious Education has a Curriculum Committee which works in close coöperation with the Editorial Department. All matters pertaining to the materials and outlines of the comprehensive curriculum are discussed and formulated by this Committee. The three most important matters considered during the past year were the development and extension of the Departmental Graded Lessons, the creation of a Daily Vacation Bible School Curriculum, and a plan for the formulation of a graded course in missionary education and Christian giving.

In the Departmental Graded Lessons as the Departmental Graded Lessons Board now proposes to formulate them, we hope may be the solution of the problem of graded lesson making. We trust they may be given a thorough trial by every Sabbath school.

The revised Ten-Point Standard and also the Standards Advance Standard, are now being offered, and it is our hope that an increasing number of schools will strive earnestly to attain them. They represent all that is best and worth while in up-to-date Sabbath-school work.

Organized Classes

This feature of Sabbath-school work is developing rapidly. The organized Bible class has many splendid features to commend it, and its real possibilities are not fully understood. We expect to give this phase of the work special attention this coming year. The department has on its files the following number of organized and registered classes. With each of these we try to keep in close touch.

Organized Secondary Bible Classes now registered.....	1,807
Organized Adult Bible Classes now registered.....	2,513

Training

The work of promoting teacher-training has been reorganized and plans are about completed for an aggressive effort to have one or more teacher-training classes in every Presbyterian church. The textbook for the first year of the New Standard course has been prepared, two sections of which were written by the Secretary of the Department. A sixteen-page leaflet has also been prepared giving detailed information on the organizing and conducting of the teacher-training class. Twenty-five thousand of these have been printed for free distribution. We are happy to state that a satisfactory working arrangement has been made with a large majority of the State Associations, by which they will coöperate with the Presbyterian denomination in the promotion of its work. We are also glad to announce that the Board has engaged Rev. J. S. Armentrout to become Director of Teacher-Training and Organized Bible Class Work. Mr. Armentrout comes to us from the Pine Street Presbyterian Church, of Harrisburg, Pa., where he has done excellent work as Director of Religious Education. He takes up his new duties in May.

The entire enrollment of teacher-training classes has been carefully examined, only active classes being retained. One of the gratifying features of the work this past year has been the greatly increased number of diplomas granted. This report includes all classes organized by the Sabbath-school missionaries and other field men, also the examinations conducted on the field.

Total number of active classes enrolled.....	701
Number of pupils in classes.....	5,458
Number of papers examined during the year.....	8,258
Number of new classes formed during the year.....	554
Number of diplomas granted during the year.....	1,405

Young People's Work

For ten years the Presbyterian Church has had a Denominational Headquarters for its work in the interest of the young people's societies of all ages.

From a small beginning, the work has grown gradually until at this, the opening of the second decade of work, the task is a commanding one.

The field is large. YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK endeavors to maintain vital contact with the following:

Presbyterian Churches (Through the Pastor).....	10,000
Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, and similar organizations .....	6,000
Intermediate Organizations .....	1,500
Junior Organizations .....	1,800

WAYS OF WORKING YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK has a threefold mission, namely: (1) To help organize the young people of our Presbyterian churches for practical Christian training and service; (2) to help increase the efficiency of existing organizations; (3) to promote religious education in all young people's societies.

Among the many ways in which YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK has labored to carry out its commission, those worthy of mention are as follows:

- I. Organizing the forces.
- II. Securing reports from the field.
- III. Coöperating with other Presbyterian agencies working with the young people.
- IV. Promoting conferences and institutes.
- V. Issuing material and helps on religious education.
- VI. Circulating information through letters and the printed page.
- VII. Furnishing special programs for Rally Day and Young People's Day for all young people's societies.
- VIII. Field visitation.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK has coöperated in many ways, particularly in summer conferences and institutes, with the Women's Mission Boards which are interesting themselves in the missionary education, training, and service of young people. Cordial coöperation has also been maintained with other agencies.

No phase of work has been more favorably received or has given more promise of far-reaching results than the educational work of the summer conferences and winter institutes.

During the past year the following summer conferences were conducted:

Pocono Pines, Pa., for Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and New England.

Winona Lake, Ind., for Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

Storm Lake, Iowa, for Iowa, Minnesota, and the Eastern Dakotas.

Ovoca (Tullahoma), Tenn., for Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

San Marcos, Texas, for Texas.

Hollister, Mo., for Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Southern Kansas.

Hastings, Neb., for Nebraska, Northern Kansas, Western Dakotas, and Colorado.

Winter institutes promoted by YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK or in which YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK coöperated are as follows: New York City, N. Y., Milwaukee, Wis., Philadelphia, Pa., Chicago, Ill., Indianapolis, Ind., Roselle, N. J., St. Louis, Mo., Buffalo, N. Y.

Conference and Institute Programs include: Bible Study, Missions, Church History, Presbyterianism, Teacher-Training, and General Religious Education. There are also discussion groups led by specialists taking up all phases of education, training, and service in the young people's societies for the different ages.

Study Classes By correspondence, by special leaflets recommending the best books, as well as by conferences and institutes, Study Classes are promoted. A leaflet entitled Study Classes—Young People's Societies presents material for simple as well as fairly difficult study-class work for Juniors, Intermediates, and Young People. Helps for leaders of classes are suggested also.

Forward and The Christian Educator offer in each issue an article on the work of young people's societies.

Special Days For Rally Day, celebrated in the fall, a special program was issued for all young people's societies. The purpose of this day is to enlist the scattered forces and set up a comprehensive program for the months ahead.

The first Sunday in February was Young People's Day and a special program, a brief outline of ten years of work, and coin envelopes were printed and distributed.

The purpose of Young People's Day was to present to the whole Church the work of the local organizations, the work of Denominational Headquarters, and also to receive an offering for the support of the denominational young people's work.

A Look Ahead      The call for additional conferences and institutes, the demand for study classes, the ambition of churches to make the young people's societies vital factors in the church life, all give promise of splendid possibilities for YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK as we look out upon the opening year of the second decade.

Educational Progress

A Council of Missionary and Benevolent Education has been formed. It is composed of representative members of the various Boards of the General Assembly, and will have as its task the formulation of a graded curriculum of missionary and benevolent instruction for the entire Church which will be a closely correlated part of the more comprehensive curriculum in view.

High School Credits and Week Day Instruction      This phase of religious education is making considerable progress and the department is at work making suggestions, investigating experiments, and coöperating with various agencies in the promotion of the idea.

The Presbyterian Daily Vacation Bible School Movement      Nothing in the sphere of religious education promises such great returns for the time and money invested as the Vacation Bible School. The Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work and the Board of Home Missions have united in a joint program for the aggressive promotion of this aspect of Church work. The curriculum and all needed literature has been prepared. It remains for the Church to recognize the value of this work and to rise to its opportunity.

The Conference on Religious Education      The Board's Committee on Religious Education arranged for a conference which was held on November 23 and 24. Fifteen men prominent in the work of the Church were invited to attend and join with the officers and members of the Board in a general discussion of the problems of Christian education.

The findings of the conference, which proved to be of great value to all who participated, were presented by a Committee on Conclusions, and are as follows:

1. The primary necessity of establishing a more definite relation with the home through the family altar, literature for home reading, classes for the parents and for the children. We heartily endorse the Home Circle movement, and strongly urge the Department of Religious Education to push it. We suggest that the General Assembly be asked to request the Department of Religious Education to prepare a manual suitable for home instruction and catechetical instruction.

2. The imperative necessity of a comprehensive curriculum of Christian Education, which will make full provision for every form of education demanded by the Church. Such a curriculum ought to include the need of the Sunday school, the need of Missionary Education, the Young People's movement, and any other line in which education may be needed in our Church.

3. We endorse the principles of the Council of Religious Education, and advise pastors to study it carefully, and to adapt it to their particular needs.

The Christian Educator The Christian Educator is the department's medium of direct communication with the churches. The aim is to present from month to month such special features of the department's program as require immediate discussion, and to keep the whole Church well informed upon the various aspects of Christian education in the local church. With this in view the Editors will seek constantly to increase its usefulness. The reports and letters of commendation indicate that such a periodical is meeting a long-felt need.

The Future Task In the light of the great world crisis and the radical readjustments which must follow, Christian education takes on a new and a larger significance.

If ever we are to achieve a world democracy and a world peace based upon the Christian principles of righteousness, justice, and love, the Church must give the children of each generation a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. It is a tremendous, challenging task, but we turn with confidence toward the future.

Editorial Department

The Fourth Year Senior Graded Lessons

The Senior Graded Lessons have been completed; the final quarter of the fourth year will be offered for use beginning July 1, 1917. These lessons, by W. Beatty Jennings, D.D., are in use in many of our schools.

The Hymnals

Notwithstanding the unusual number of hymn books published in recent years, and the inducements to their adoption offered by their publishers, the Board is able to report satisfactory progress in the introduction of the series of Hymnals designed to cover the church service, the prayer-meeting, and Sabbath school.

In the case of The Hymnal published by authority of the General Assembly, we report the somewhat striking fact that we have sold 100 copies for every working day since its revision in 1911, totalling 168,348 copies. This, with 326,279 copies sold of the edition of 1895, makes a total circulation of The Hymnal of 494,627 copies. The book has been introduced by 164 churches during the last year.

Since the publication of the new Sunday-school hymnal, Allcluia, in December, 1915, 72,713 copies have been sold. The circulation of The Chapel Hymnal has now reached 293,171 copies; that of The Westminster Hymnal 70,329 copies.

The demand for these books during the past year has often exceeded the capacity of paper makers, printers, and binders to meet it under present trade conditions.

A Book of Family Worship

In accordance with the instructions of the General Assembly of 1913, the Board appointed a committee to prepare a Book of Family Worship. This was published in the summer of 1916, and has reached a sale of 2,510 copies. The authorship and full title are given on page 42.

A Year of Progress

During the year The Christian Educator has been added to the Board's list. This periodical is issued nine months in the year for pastors, Sunday-school superintendents, and teachers, and other educational leaders in the local church. Encouraging words come from readers. Forward, Kings' Treasuries, Queens' Gardens, and The Sunbeam hold their place as papers for the children and young people in the schools. That the Uniform Lesson quarterlies and the Lesson Leaf are in demand is shown by the circulation figures appended to this report.

In view of the announcement made under the head, "A Forward Step in Lesson Making," the fact should be emphasized that the Uniform Lesson periodicals will be continued, as heretofore.

In September, 1917, eight pages of a special number of The Westminster Teacher will be devoted to articles suggested by the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Reformation. The Westminster Adult Bible Class continues to grow in circulation and influence.

Under the general title, "The Vocational Library: Studies in Christian Heroism," there has been completed a series of four volumes designed to guide and inspire young people in their choice of life work. The volumes in the series are "The Triumphant Ministry," by "Timothy Kilbourn" (R. Ames Montgomery, D.D.); "Reapers of His Harvest," by John T. Faris, D.D.; "Their Call to Service," by Philip E. Howard, and "Heroes of the Campus," by Joseph W. Cochran, D.D.

Thoroughly Furnished

The first year of the New Standard Westminster Teacher-Training Course, based on the standard recently adopted by the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations and approved by the International Sunday School Association, has been prepared, as follows:

Part I. Ten Lessons on the Pupil. Prepared by H. T. J. Coleman, B.A., Ph.D., Dean of Faculty of Education, Queen's University, Kingston, Canada.

Part II. Ten Lessons on the Principles of Teaching, with Emphasis on General Psychology. By Robert Wells Veach, M.A., D.D., Secretary of Religious Education.

Part III. Ten Lessons on How to Teach the Life of Christ in the Different Grades. By Hugh T. Kerr, D.D., Pastor of Shadyside Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Part IV. Ten Lessons on the Sunday School, an Outline of the Aim, Curriculum, and Organization of the Modern Sunday School. By Dr. Veach.

Elementary Course. Preparation for Teaching, our popular teacher-training book, by Charles A. Oliver, of which more than two hundred thousand copies have been sold, is still offered to all who desire to use it; but according to the action of the Sunday School Council and the International Association, its study cannot be counted as a full first year's course toward the New Standard Diploma. Therefore, after January 1, 1918, the Board will award a special certificate of work accomplished to those who pass a satisfactory examination in Preparation for Teaching.

Departmental Sunday-School Manuals

The Series of Departmental Sunday-School Manuals which was begun last year is to be completed during 1917. The titles and authors are: The Cradle Roll, by Elizabeth W. Sudlow; The Beginners Department, by Emma G. Lemen, Superintendent Elementary Division Indiana Sunday School Association; The Primary Department, by Phebe A. Curtis, Elementary Superintendent Ohio Sunday School Association; The Juniors: How to Teach and Train Them, by Maud Junkin Baldwin, Elementary Superintendent International Sunday School Association; The Intermediate Department, by Eugene C. Foster, Secretary Boys' Work Department, International Young Men's Christian Association; The Senior Department, by Florence H. Darnell and Eugene C. Foster, and The Adult Department, by Ida S. Blick, Executive Secretary Wayne County Sunday School Association, Michigan.

A Forward Step in Lesson Making

On October 1, 1917, after testing the Departmental Lessons in three departments for three years, in hundreds of schools, the Board will offer to the Church an improved series of Departmental Graded Lessons for The Beginners Department, The Primary Department, The Junior Department, and The Intermediate Department.

There has been urgent call for but one system of graded lessons that will best meet the educational ideals and at the same time avoid the confusion so often created by too many systems. The lessons of the Departmental System, based upon the moral and religious needs of the group and so arranged as to be capable of individual and age adaptation, are to be issued as best meeting the new situation.

This is a real forward movement in lesson-making. The plan has been adopted only after careful investigation and experiment, and is based upon well-tested pedagogical principles.

There are two great differences between the Closely Graded Lessons and the Departmental Graded Lessons.

1. In the Closely Graded System a separate lesson is provided for the boys and girls of each year in each department. The Departmental System provides one lesson for all the pupils in a department, and gives all the lessons in the course in successive years. This is wise because the tendency to-day is in the direction of putting the emphasis primarily upon the group and upon the individual variations in the group, and secondarily upon the age limits within the group.

2. The new lessons are prepared for use in the Beginners Department for two years, and in departments of three years each, as follows:

Primary Department, 6, 7, and 8 years.

Junior Department, 9, 10, and 11 years.

Intermediate Department, 12, 13, and 14 years.

This simpler arrangement has been authorized by the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations because of the insistent demand of educators for a more rational grouping of the boys and girls. The change is not radical; it provides only for the teaching of boys and girls of twelve with the Intermediates, and the beginning of the Senior Department with those who are fifteen years of age.

The scriptural material is specially selected for each department, to meet the particular needs of that group. Thus, as the pupil advances from one department to another, he finds in the lessons direct points of contact with his own developing life. Lessons based on such material appeal to him and rouse him to active coöperation in the teaching process. In this way, the New Departmental Lessons embody the underlying principle of graded instruction.

The teacher's manual for each department will contain, in addition to a thorough exposition of the lesson material, a concise statement of the essential characteristics and religious needs of the children of the particular group, along with specific suggestions as to how to adapt the material, first to individual variations, and, second, to age difference. This feature marks a decided departure and advance in the whole method of lesson treatment.

More than ever before the lessons will apply the truths of the Bible itself to the needs of the child. Illustrative material from outside the Bible will be utilized, but such material will be emphasized only to present the truths of the Bible and their application to life.

The new lessons will be based largely, though not altogether, upon the outlines made by the International Lesson Committee. The chief difference is in the manner of treatment and presentation in the teacher's manual and in the further fact that all supplementary work, such as memory work, catechetical instruction, and missionary information, is, as far as possible, made an integral part of the lesson unit.

The Intermediate Lessons

A feature of the three-year cycle for the Intermediate Department is that during the months of January, February, and March of each year the lessons will be specially emphasized with a view to preparing the pupils for church membership.

Elective Courses After Fourteen Years of Age

It is a part of the plan to offer as electives the lessons on the outlines heretofore prepared for ages fifteen to twenty-one.

The Plan Approved

Already ministers and educators in the Church are speaking words of heartiest approval for this Departmental Lesson plan.

Rev. A. H. McKinney, D.D., says: "I have long felt that the method of closely grading our Sunday-school pupils according to age is an artificial one which in the process of development must be succeeded by something more natural and pedagogical. I rejoice, therefore, in the forward step which makes provision for individual and age adaptation within a department."

Rev. R. Ames Montgomery, D.D., Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, says, "I believe you have discovered a solution to the problems which we have tried to solve in the Closely Graded System."

H. T. J. Coleman, Ph.D., Dean of the Faculty of Education, Queen's University, Kingston, Canada, says, "It has the absolute merit of recognizing the fact that mental and moral maturity are not wholly matters of age and that consequently a considerable degree of flexibility in methods of classifying Sunday-school pupils is always desirable in the interest of efficiency."

Rev. Selby F. Vance, D.D., Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, says, "It seems to me that the extension of the Departmental Graded System to include the Intermediate Group will remove all real objections that have been offered to a graded system, and be a decided improvement on the Closely Graded System."

Rev. J. G. K. McClure, D.D., President McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, says, "My judgment is that this system is the wisest that has ever been proposed for Sabbath-school instruction."

Rev. P. W. Snyder, D.D., Homewood Avenue Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, says: "We are greatly pleased with the Departmental Graded Lesson System. . . . It seems to me that the things you suggest in 'The Forward Step' will be a great help in bringing about greater efficiency in Sunday-school work."

Rev. James T. Veneklasen, First Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven, Michigan, Chairman of Synod's Committee on Sabbath School Work, says: "The plan is psychologically and pedagogically sound. It is what we have been wanting for a long time."

Rev. Hugh T. Kerr, D.D., Shadyside Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, says: "The mistake of the Closely Graded System is that it is planned for large schools and ideal conditions, and we face the fact that there are no ideal conditions in the present-day Sunday-school situation. The Closely Graded System gained in pedagogy, but lost in religion. The new lesson system is planned upon right principles, and I look forward to an enthusiastic reception for the new course."

Rev. Edgar Whitaker Work, D.D., Fourth Presbyterian Church, New York, says: "The principles underlying it seem to me to be pedagogically sound. The departure from strict grading according to age is, I think, wise and the method of cycles appeals to me as wise and strategic."

Rev. S. S. Estey, D.D., First Presbyterian Church, Topeka, Kansas, says: "I wish to express the heartiest approval of the plan. I confidently believe that in the Departmental Graded Lessons we have the nearest approach that has yet been made to a practical and at the same time pedagogically correct course of religious instruction for the average Sunday school."

Professor Edward A. Wicher, D.D., San Francisco Theological Seminary, says: "I am in fullest accord with your plan. The new system promises to be both scientifically progressive and sufficiently elastic."

Rev. Samuel Garvin, D.D., First Presbyterian Church, Colorado Springs, says: "The sanity of the thing appeals strongly. You are on the right track."

Rev. Samuel Charles Black, D.D., Collingwood Avenue

Presbyterian Church, Toledo, Ohio, says: "I am especially glad to see a plan proposed that recognizes the individuality of the pupil and permits him to enter a group where he will do his best work. Rigid grading by years has surely been a mistake."

Rev. George Dugan, D.D., Fourth Presbyterian Church, Albany, New York, says: "The Departmental Graded Lessons are just what we have been looking for. From the standpoint of pedagogy, practical administration, and the best interests of the pupil I am persuaded that these lessons take a safe course between the Scylla of the Uniform Lessons and the Charybdis of the Closely Graded plan. We have found them of very great help in the extension of our graded teaching."

Presbyterian Publishers and Editors Coöperate

The publishing houses of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the Reformed Church in the United States, and the Reformed Church in America, join with us in issuing these new Departmental Lessons.

An examination of the following "Analysis of the Periodical Publications" will show how the Board's Advance Step in preparing and issuing the Departmental Graded Series simplifies the lesson situation and decreases the number of periodicals required by the school that desires to teach graded lessons.

Business Department

The service rendered to the Church by the Business Department in marketing the products of the Board is illustrated in the variety of the business done as well as in its steadily increasing volume. The Lesson Quarterlies and Illustrated Papers for the Sunday-school constitute by far the largest part of the business. The issuance of the standards of the Church, including hymnals for the church, prayer meeting and Sunday-school, form an important part; the manufacture and sale of an infinite variety of supplies for use in the Sunday school and church, which tend to promote greater efficiency, are also valuable features: and, last but far from least, is the maintenance of book stores in important centers throughout the country; where there is kept on hand a large stock of current religious literature for the needs of pastors, officers and church workers in general, including not only the publications of the Board but also those of other houses.

Sales and Profits

A glance at the following tabulated statement of sales for the fiscal year just closed will reveal the relative importance of these various lines of activity:

Sales:

Books published by the Board.....	$ 92,021.67
“ “ “ Other Houses .....	200,592.52
Church and Sunday-School Supplies.....	188,406.17
Lesson Periodicals and Illustrated Papers.....	682,758.61

an increase over the business of the previous year of $55,595.34.

Of the first item, about $40,000.00 is represented in the sale of hymnals, which speaks well for the loyalty of the Church to its own publications. Many of the Board's publications, notably the hymnals, are issued without thought of commensurate mercantile profit, and this represents but one phase of the service the Board renders to the Church.

At the same time the Church expects the Board to exercise intelligent and economical methods, so that proper returns may be made upon the capital and skill invested in the conduct of its business. That such has been the case is evidenced by the fact that the Business Department is able to declare a profit on its business operations for the past year of $66,053.27. One-half of this will accrue to the capital at the beginning of the year ($467,908.54), making the present capital $500,935.17. The remaining half ($33,026.64) will be credited to the Department of Religious Education for the prosecution and development of this important work committed to the Board by the General Assembly.

Industrial Conditions

We have suffered, in common with other publishing houses, to some extent by the economic conditions prevailing, which affect not only the prices of all raw material entering into the manufacture of our output but also the cost of labor. We are fortunate, however, in having been able to enter into very satisfactory contracts for paper, printing and binding, so that in many instances we have not been compelled to advance the prices of our publications. We hoped that these contracts would extend over the period of unrest but as to this we have no means of knowing. We can only hope that the coming year will bring peace to the world and a resumption of business along more normal lines, making it unnecessary for us to increase the price of our periodicals.

Depositories

The headquarters of the Board are at Philadelphia in the Witherspoon Building, which is owned and controlled by the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work. A large portion of the building is used for different agencies of the Church from which no revenue is derived. The net income of the building, which this year amounts to $36,483.20, is devoted exclusively to the furtherance of the work of the Missionary Department. The Business Department has its offices here, conducts a retail store on the second floor, and pays a rental for the space occupied. In addition to the store in Philadelphia, the Board maintains six Depositories situated in important centers throughout the country, one Special Agency in Pittsburgh, and four Representative Houses which handle the Board's supplies. These Depositories and Agencies are located as follows, and, with the exception of the one in London, furnish the Board's publications at uniform prices:

FORTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

The Board of the Church Erection Fund

OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

I.

Review

The Board of the Church Erection Fund herewith submits to the General Assembly its Forty-seventh Annual Report.

The past year has been successful and the members of the Board feel much encouraged. Many letters have come from all parts of the field expressing gratitude for assistance rendered. The reports from Presbyteries and Synods show that the work of erecting houses of worship and manses, in every part of the country, has been carried forward successfully the past year.

II.

Recommendations of Last Assembly

The last Assembly made numerous recommendations which the Board has endeavored faithfully to carry out. These recommendations dealt with abandoned churches, grants and loans, portable chapels, work at University Centers and in the vicinity of Presbyterian Colleges and among foreign-speaking peoples.

The elimination of the personal collateral bond from the requirements of the Loan Fund, by the last General Assembly, has been appreciated by the officers and people of many congregations.

The amended manse rules, by which the Board was authorized to make larger loans, without interest, and in some cases grants, has been of special assistance to churches.

III.

Appropriations and Income

During the past year the Board has made appropriations for 202 church buildings and 94 manses, aggregating $537,870, and the churches have qualified to receive $444,948.

The Board comes to the Assembly with a substantial balance accounted for by the fact that a good many churches did not qualify to receive the appropriations voted; by the activity of the Field Secretary in the sale of old properties; by repayments of grants and loans, and by increased contributions from churches. The increase in contributions from church offerings being $19,000 more this year than last year.

IV.

Plan and Scope of the Board's Work

The members of the Board have spent considerable time during the year in discussing the scope and functions of the Board's work and in looking, carefully, into the history of the past seventy-three years.

There has been a growing desire on the part of the members of the Board to make this agency of the Church not only a greater missionary force, but also more helpful to congregations erecting houses of worship and manses.

A study of the Board's history revealed the fact that in 1854, in the Plan adopted by the Assembly, it was made the duty of the Board to present to the General Assembly, not later than the third day of its session, a full report of their proceedings and of the state of the Fund, together with any suggestions or recommendations which they may deem necessary or suitable.

V.

Changed Conditions Necessitate Changes in Plan and Rules

Since the organization of the Board there have been many changes in the form of Christian work and the Assembly has found it necessary to adapt the rules to suit the changed conditions. It is evident that the Board can perform its work successfully and keep pace with the ever enlarging work of the Church at large only by adapting itself to changed conditions. The Church of Christ was not cast into an iron mould. Its laws and rules are not like the laws of the Medes and Persians. The Church is a living organism and must be ready to make whatever changes are necessary in order to keep in touch with new forms of Christian work. It has been the policy of the Assembly to amend the Plan and the rules to enable the Board to keep step with the ever increasing activities of the Church. Changes in the Plan and rules, and in the articles of incorporation should not be made simply for the sake of making changes, but to adapt the machinery of the Board to do the work of the Church more effectively.

VI.

Payment of Old Debts

Doubtless a debt is an incubus on the average congregation and should be removed, if possible. Year by year requests come to the Board from congregations to make appropriations to pay mortgage and other indebtedness. These requests aggregate, annually, many thousands of dollars.

What is to be done by the Board when such requests reach it? Doubtless its action, as in all other matters, must be determined by the Assembly, and in 1854 the General Assembly enacted that "No Grant shall be made for the payment of any debt, except that which has been contracted one year previous in erecting a house of worship." By the word "Grant" appropriation is understood.

Not only so, but it is one of the rules of the Assembly governing the action of the Board that before any appropriation is made a church must certify that the appropriation will remove all debt, direct or indirect. The Church at large, the Mother Church, desires to see its individual churches free from indebtedness when dedicated to the work and worship of Almighty God and pastors left free to prosecute Christian work without undue worry in securing money to meet old indebtedness.

The Board has many cases of indebtedness presented to it year by year that are truly heartbreaking and which draw upon the sympathy of the members of the Board. Each case is considered carefully and sympathetically and a faithful effort is made to carry out the instructions of the Assembly and to deal fairly with every congregation and to show no partiality.

VII.

Question of Grants

A grant is a sum of money given to a congregation to assist in the building of a church edifice or a manse. The appropriation of the Board is secured by first mortgage, but this mortgage is not enforceable until a church is disorganized by an act of a Presbytery or seeks to alienate itself from the Church.

The Board has now outstanding in grants the sum of $3,260,-301.

Grants are made to encourage churches to erect houses of worship and manses, and no legal obligation exists to repay a grant until a church is disorganized or disbanded or severs its connection with the denomination.

Many grants were given to congregations when young, small and feeble, but which since have grown strong. If a church aided by a grant when young and weak finds itself in a position to repay the grant, should it not do so? Should the Board be required, by the Assembly, to make an effort to recover old grants?

The Minutes of the General Assembly show that year after year action was taken in regard to the repayment of grants.

1888. Any church making an annual contribution to this Board of not less than ten per cent. of the amount originally granted to it, shall be deemed as paying in such contribution an installment of like amount upon the mortgage held by the Board; and when such payments in the aggregate shall equal the amount of the grant, the Board shall execute a release of the mortgage and thus remove its lien from the property of the church; provided, that such church, at the time such contribution is sent, shall notify the Board that it desires such application thereof to be made.

1890. The Assembly called the attention of churches receiving aid, and which had now become strong and self-sustaining, to the desirability of paying off the mortgages which stand against their property.

1914. The Assembly took action as follows:

"We commend very heartily the effort of the Board to secure the return of grants made to churches when they were weak, and in need of such help as the Board could give, but are now strong and in financial condition to return to the Board the amounts once granted."

1915. The Assembly took action as follows:

"We heartily approve the efforts of the Board to recover old grants in cases where the churches have grown sufficiently able in their turn to help bear the burden of the weak."

1916. The Assembly took action as follows:

"That Article 15, of the Plan of the Board, be amended so that the annual contribution to the Board of Church Erection Fund of any church aided by a grant from the Board may be applied to the liquidation of the Board's claim, and where the total of the contributions of any church may equal in their aggregate the amount of the grant mortgage, the Board may execute a release of the mortgage."

VIII.

Report of the Field Secretary

The Field Secretary, Rev. Jesse C. Bruce, D.D., has been active and successful in the prosecution of the work assigned to him. He has visited many churches in various parts of the country, made adjustments and secured considerable sums of money from the sales of old properties.

The experience of the Field Secretary shows the necessity of coming into personal touch with congregations and in his report Dr. Bruce dwells upon this part of his work and argues that the personal touch is necessary.

1. In relation to delinquent payments.

Correspondence fails to get all the facts and often misses the most important. Correspondence cannot give a view of the church property, or the field and all that is implied in this,—the town, community, other churches, special obstacles in the way of the success of a particular church, disasters that have overtaken the community. A visit on the part of the Field Secretary is often necessary because only in this way can he come face to face with church leaders and get a fair impression of their spirit, and also it is equally important to give to pastors and church officers a proper impression of the attitude and spirit of the Board toward all the churches.

2. Personal touch is necessary relative to new matters.

The Board, from its experience, finds it wise and even necessary, in most cases, to have the Field Secretary or some representative of the Board visit and investigate a field before it takes action on an application for aid, and more especially when the amount of aid asked for is large.

It meets a felt and impressed need and produces a good impression to have the Board's representative go out and meet the people at a time when they are seeking suggestion and counsel.

It is possible for the Field Secretary to give to pastors and officers some of the valuable experience that the Board has in matters pertaining to church building, such as plans, including styles of architecture suitable to the needs of a locality and methods of financing.

A personal visit of the Field Secretary gives opportunity, as correspondence cannot, to explain the rules of the Board, and particularly the reasons underlying the rules; especially to explain why the Board must be careful in requiring the church to make sure provision for all indebtedness incurred in the building; other than that to the Board in the help it may be ready to give; and to make sure provision before the Board's help can be given. Personal conference between the two parties in interest, the church and the Board, through discussion by question and answer,—not of generalities, but of concrete things, threshes out the whole building problem. The most wholesome and helpful impression left is that the building of a particular church or manse is a joint enterprise between the local congregation and the Church at large, as represented by the Board.

3. The visit and personal touch of the Field Secretary gives him an opportunity to make a survey, to form a judgment, and to report upon the whole field of operation.

It is a fundamental principle in the work of the Board that due regard shall be had for the need of the whole field of the Church. The Assembly enjoins upon the Board to treat every church fairly and to show no partiality.

Consistent, however, with this regard for the whole Church is observation and regard for strategic centers. Business, population and consequent demand for church extension are not equal in their development over the whole country.

Owing to the superiority of natural resources, geographical location and facility of transportation centers of rapid growth spring up.

Church statesmanship must vie with business statesmanship in providing instrumentalities to properly care for the Church's legitimate and pressing interests. The personal touch of the Board through its representative on the field acquaints the Board with the facts of opportunity and duty relative to these opening and inviting fields. It also prepares the way for the Board to extend special sympathy and encouragement and to co-operate with local forces for the upbuilding of the kingdom where need is greatest and most urgent and where prompt, wise and liberal investment will bring greatest and richest returns.

The day of clear, and what promises to be, clamant call from many strategic centers is here. The Board hears it and, doubtless, will act upon the authoritative injunction,—“these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone,” as it surveys the field as a whole and this new phase of its developing needs.

The Field Secretary, who has been in personal communication and close touch with many churches, is able and glad to report gratifying success during the past year in the work committed to him.

IX.

Manse Building

The Manse Movement is taking firmer hold year by year upon the Church. It is a truly popular movement and it is gratifying that about one-half of our Presbyterian pastors have already been provided with manses.

What about the other half? How do they live? In some cases it is difficult to find a suitable house in which the minister and his family may live. In some new sections it is impossible to find any house and the minister and his family must live in a few rooms or share a house with another family. Some of our ministers are required to move frequently and it is pathetic to see pastors under the necessity of moving once or twice a year for the reason that congregations are not able to provide manses. Constant removals are not only the source of sadness and sorrow to pastors and their families, but also much energy and valuable time is lost. Every congregation owes it to its minister to provide a comfortable manse. A manse gives stability to the work of a congregation and lengthens the term of ministerial service. Our pastorates are already too short, and some means must be devised for lengthening them. Providing a manse is one of the best means for making more stable the pastoral relationship. Too much cannot easily be said in favor of the "Manse Movement." Often a poor house is the cause of sickness. Many ministers, in their letters, have told the Board of their experiences in poorly constructed, damp and unsanitary houses, with outbreaks of typhoid, diphtheria and other forms of disease. Many pastors and their wives look back, with sadness and sorrow, on the months and years spent in such houses. The memory of sickness and the death of children is a perfect nightmare to many a faithful pastor and his wife. It is time to put a stop to it and the church is endeavoring to do so by assisting congregations to provide manses for their ministers.

The Board has two Funds from which assistance is given in the building of manses, and these Funds need strengthening. The Board should have at its disposal three or four times the money it has with which to assist in building manses. We need an additional $100,000. for this work, and a Presbyterian man or woman of means could not make a better investment than to create, by gift or will, another Manse Fund. The Board pleads for this part of its work and lays it upon the consciences of our church members to provide adequate funds with which to assist congregations in building manses for their pastors.

Literature

It is now the policy of the Board to issue one well-printed and illustrated leaflet each year rather than several leaflets. The leaflet of last year was in great demand. The first issue of 100,000 having been exhausted, it was necessary to provide a second edition to meet the requirement. The Board stands ready to supply churches with literature upon request.

XI.

Financial Statements for Use of Synods and Presbyteries

From time to time the Board receives requests from Presbyteries and Synods for statements in regard to the amounts appropriated by the Board. The treasurer has prepared lists for use of Presbyteries and Synods showing the date of grants and loans, amounts, condition of payment, amounts due to the Board, and the total amount of appropriations. These lists will be sent to the Stated Clerks of Presbyteries and to Chairmen of Committees.

XII.

Churches at University and College Centers

For several years the Assembly has expressed its deep interest in the work of churches in the vicinity of Presbyterian colleges and at State universities, and has suggested ways and means by which adequate church facilities may be provided for Presbyterian students attending these institutions.

The Board of Education was first commissioned by the Assembly to take charge of this work. For several years this Board has reported its achievements and received the commendation of the Assembly for its faithfulness.

In 1915 the Assembly suggested that the Board of Education co-operate with the Board of Church Erection in financing the building operations at Presbyterian colleges and State universities, where additional church accommodations were necessary to provide for the students in attendance. The Board of Education sought the co-operation of the Board of Church Erection and for a year the work was cared for by the Committee of these two Boards.

The Assembly of 1916 authorized and instructed the Board of Church Erection to take over the work of the Joint Committee and that special and vigorous efforts be put forth to create a fund of not less than $200,000. in order that provision might be made for Presbyterian students at Presbyterian colleges and State universities. In this work the Board of Church Erection was, under the rule of the Assembly, to co-operate with the Board of Education. The Board was also authorized to employ such agencies as might be necessary to carry out this work.

Realizing the importance of the work, the Board of Church Erection, after careful consideration, elected the Rev. Louis Edward Holden, D.D., LL.D., former President of the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, as Special Representative to present to individuals and the Church at large the need for churches at educational centers. Dr. Holden began his service on September 21, 1916. His personal knowledge of the conditions existing in many educational centers made him willing to assume the burden of this work. His long experience in educational work enabled him to comprehend the importance of this new field of activity. From October, 1916, to the present hour Dr. Holden has sought to arouse the Church to respond to the call of the Assembly to secure the Special Fund of $200,000., but up to the present time the fund has not been secured.

With all the efforts that have been put forth it does not seem probable that the fund will be secured immediately and possibly not for some time to come. However, the Board has gone to the limit of its power in rendering assistance to churches at educational centers and has made appropriations amounting to $76,000. Of these appropriations $61,000. have been paid. The applications that the Board has received from Presbyterian churches for the purpose of enlarging their buildings, or to assist in the work of new buildings in order to meet the religious needs of Presbyterian students attending these institutions have revealed to the Board the conditions now existing at many educational centers.

The last report of the United States Commissioner of Education shows that we have entered upon a new era in education. Of 563 institutions of college and university standing in this country, 91 are under State or municipal control. Of the 237,- 168 students in colleges and universities 96,676 attend State and municipal institutions. It is estimated that 25 per cent. of these come from Presbyterian homes. This is no reflection upon the efficiency of Presbyterian colleges. Probably a large percentage of the Presbyterian colleges do not furnish courses in agriculture, domestic science, ceramics, mechanical and civil engineering, law, medicine, and other subjects. The Presbyterian college, faithful to the programme of the Church, has remained, in most cases, strictly a cultural institution.

A careful study of University centers shows that the Presbyterian churches were erected long before the university was founded. At first these churches were large enough to meet all the local religious needs of the population. Sometimes the site of a university is a considerable distance from the center of the town and too far removed from the Presbyterian Church. To meet the new condition and to serve the community and university life the church must enlarge or erect a new building near the university. In many cases the local church is financially unable to meet the new condition from its own resources and unless help comes from without the church is not able to serve the university.

In many places where the older universities are located and which have imposing buildings, the provision made for the religious culture and activity of the students is not adequate because the church is often small and unattractive. Students accept this condition at State university centers without comment, for they clearly understand that the law of the State does not permit nor provide for the teaching of the Bible in the university. However, when a student finds that the local church of his own denomination has made no adequate provision for students either to attend the church or Bible classes, the schoolmaster rather than the minister becomes his priest and prophet and attendance upon church services is irregular and of little moment in his life.

Indeed, it has been found that this condition prevails at some of our Presbyterian colleges which have failed to provide adequate accommodations and Bible school facilities for students. The result is practically the same at the State university—a drifting away of students from the church of their fathers.

This condition of things makes a strong appeal to the Church at large to provide adequate accommodation for Presbyterian students at educational centers.

If America is to take her place as a great moral leader she must look after her young men and women during the years of their college life. The Presbyterian Church should be foremost in laying emphasis upon Christian education and to do this must even to a greater degree than in the past prepare her youth for the great task of Christianizing the world.

The work of the Church in supplementing education as pursued in State universities with religious training, and reach the vast host of young men and women preparing for the activities of life is at once the most extensive and perplexing problem of the age. The call of the college and university to the Church is strong and appealing.

Will the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America not answer the call in the most effective way by providing church buildings and spiritual teachers for the students in our colleges and universities?

Co-operation With Other Boards

As in previous years, there has been the closest possible co-operation with other Boards of the Church, especially with the Board of Home Missions, The Board of Education, The Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work and the Board of Missions for Freedmen. This co-operation has, in some instances, taken the form of correspondence in regard to the needs of various churches and communities, but in addition to correspondence there have been numerous conferences between the Boards of Church Erection, Education, Home Missions and Freedmen.

The officers and members of these Boards feel that the work of the Church is one and in the various conferences held the spirit of unity and co-operation has manifested itself.

question, giving the name and the post office address of the minister, such description of the building as will indicate its appearance and value, and accompany the application by a statement of existing facts. Whenever possible, send photographs of the building.

4. Having filled out the application, submit it to the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the church belongs, for approval.

The application should be signed by all members of a Committee when it is possible, and if signed by the Chairman this should be done by a vote of the Committee. With the application should be sent a copy of the Deed and diagram of the lot.

Committees on Church Erection in Presbyteries should designate proper Counsel to advise Trustees and to sign the Counsel's Certificate.

5. The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month except August. However, in view of the fact that a Docket must be prepared and sent in advance to all members of the Board, applications should reach the office not later than the 5th of the month in order to have a place on the Docket.

Funds of the Board

THE GENERAL AND ALLIED FUNDS

The General Fund is the working Fund of the Board. It has no principal but is an income Fund only, being made up of contributions from churches and Sabbath schools and other church organizations, gifts of individuals, sales of abandoned church properties, and moneys received from churches in repayment of Grants, Loans and interest from the Permanent Fund.

From this Fund grants and loans, without interest, are made to assist congregations to erect houses of worship. The total amount of this Fund available from year to year averages about $225,000. It is from this Fund that, under the rules of the Assembly, the Board makes Grants of $2,000., and Loans without interest of $4,000., principal to be returned, usually, in ten years.

RULES GOVERNING THE GENERAL FUND

I. APPLICATIONS

The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month except August. In view of the fact that a Docket is prepared and sent out at least ten days in advance of the meeting in order that it may reach members of the Board living at a distance, applications should reach the office not later than the 5th of each month.

1. Applications should be made on the blank form furnished by the Board, and all questions should be answered as fully as possible.

2. The application, when filled out, should be sent for approval to the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the church belongs.

3. The certificate on the third page of the application should be filled up and signed by the counsel designated by the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery. If necessary to substitute another counsel, the change must be approved by the chairman of the committee.

4. With the application there should be sent a copy of the deed to the property, certificates showing values of lot and building, and also a diagram of the lots, on which a mortgage is to be given.

5. These papers should be forwarded, together with any correspondence that may be of service in considering the matter, to the Corresponding Secretary of the Board.

It is important that, before application is made to the Board, every effort be made to secure subscriptions in the community to be benefited by the proposed church edifice; but a general appeal should not be made to the Church at large.

6. That the Board shall adhere to the following principles in granting aid to churches.

(1) The Board shall grant aid only where it is needed and in amount not in excess of the actual need.

(2) The Board shall exercise care in its consideration of applications that no one section of the Church be benefited at the expense of any other section.

(3) That the location of the proposed building shall have been approved by the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the church belongs.

(4) Grants not exceeding $2,000 (except in cases of churches contiguous to University Centers, or Presbyterian Educational Institutions, in which case the Board shall have discretion to make grants or loans not exceeding one-third of the actual cost of the building) and loans without interest not exceeding $4,000 may be made to churches from the income of the Board. No Grant or Loan shall be made for the payment of a debt contracted more than two years prior to the time of the application.

II. APPROPRIATIONS

1. No Grant, or Loan without interest shall be made to any congregation unless the title to the lot on which its house of worship is situated or on which it proposes to build is in fee simple, free from all legal encumbrance and vested either (1) in such congregation as a corporate body (if the statutes of the State permit incorporation), or (2) an incorporated Board authorized by law to hold such title, or (3) in an incorporated Presbytery or Synod of the Presbyterian Church, or (4) in one of the incorporated Boards of the General Assembly.

2. The church must in every case be incorporated, unless in the State or Territory in which it is located there is no law for the incorporation of religious societies.

3. The sum granted to any congregation shall not be, save in special exceptional cases, more than one-third of the entire value of the property.

4. The Board is directed, whenever practicable and in accordance with the best interests of the church aided, to engage with said church that the amount granted shall be regarded as a Loan, without interest, to be repaid to the Board in specified annual installments which shall be credited to the church as its annual contribution to the work of the Board. (General Assembly, 1893.)

5. Churches other than those deemed by the Board to be exceptional shall hereafter be required to promise an annual contribution to the Board, such contribution to be credited upon the grant mortgage. (General Assembly, 1917.)

6. The appropriation, whether Grant or Loan without interest, is subject to the following provisions of Article XII of the General Assembly's plan, viz.:

"The condition of all donations from this source shall be that in case the church or congregation shall cease to be connected with the General Assembly, or their corporate existence shall cease, or their house of worship be alienated except for the building or purchase of a better house of worship, they shall refund to the Board the amount which they have so received, with interest from the time of receiving it."

III. PAYMENTS

After the appropriation is made by the Board, the conditions to be fulfilled before the payment of the money are as follows:

1. The Trustees shall certify the amount needed to complete their house of worship, the amount collected, and that the sum to be received from the Board will entirely complete the building and leave the congregation free from debt; provided that, in the case of a Grant or Loan without interest to a church that is the first to be organized in a new community in which there is no other church of any evangelical denomination, the Board, after the lot has been secured to the congregation in fee simple, and after a mortgage upon it to the Board for the amount of its Grant or Loan without interest has been effected, may, at its discretion, advance to the church, from time to time before the completion of the edifice, such installments of the amount of the Grant or Loan without interest as shall not at any time ordinarily exceed one-half of the amount collected for the erection of the building, and one-half of the value of the lot, no such installment, however, being less than one-quarter of the amount of the Grant.

2. A mortgage upon the church property duly executed and acknowledged by the Trustees, and recorded in the County Clerk's or Register's office, is to be returned to the Board with a certificate endorsed upon said mortgage by an attorney-at-law, designated by the Presbytery or its Committee, to the effect that the church has a valid title to the property, and has full liberty to mortgage the same, and that said mortgage is a first lien upon the property, and has been properly executed, acknowledged and recorded, according to law; provided, that in the case of churches located upon Indian reservations, or in mining towns, or on Government reservations, where no title in fee simple is attainable, the Board may accept, in place of the mortgage, a bond of the trustees or officers of the church, to fulfill the usual conditions of the mortgage, and to give a first mortgage whenever such church shall be able to secure a title in fee simple. (General Assembly, 1889 and 1903.)

3. The insurance to the amount of the Board's mortgage interest shall be procured or carried by the Board. The premium upon such policy shall be deducted from the amount of the Grant or loan in the first instance, and afterward, in accordance with the terms of the mortgage, the insurance shall be renewed at the expense of the church aided.

4. Blank forms for the above-mentioned certificates, mortgages and insurance surveys will be furnished by the Board. Care should be taken to secure accuracy in the form of the papers—especially the mortgage instruments—to be executed at the time of receiving the appropriation, as only in this way vexatious delay will be prevented. The Board is not at liberty to depart from the rules established by the Charter and by the General Assembly.

IV. RELEASE OF MORTGAGE

1. Any church making an annual contribution to this Board shall be deemed as paying in such contributions upon the mortgage held by the Board as security for such Grant or Loan without interest, and when such payments in the aggregate shall equal the amount of the Grant, the Board may execute a release of the mortgage, and thus remove its lien from the property of the church.

2. The Board may, at its discretion, release any such mortgage upon the receipt, in one payment, of 77 per cent. of the amount secured by such mortgage.

Blanks for the above mentioned mortgages and for insurance surveys will be furnished by the Board. Care should be taken to secure accuracy in the form of the papers—especially the mortgage instruments—to be executed before receiving the appropriation, and thus vexatious delays will be prevented. The Board is not at liberty to depart from the rules established by the Charter and by the General Assembly.

The Stuart Fund supplements the General Fund and is to be used in exceptional cases and to meet cases of great need that do not come under the rules of the General Fund. The principal of this Fund has been distributed in Grants to churches. From time to time churches repay these Grants which gives the Board a balance in the Fund available for new appropriations. The balance remaining in this Fund at the close of the fiscal year, March 31, 1917, was $1,841.

The Ellen M. Bailey Fund is a trust fund, the principal, approximately $17,000, is held by the Fidelity Trust Company of Philadelphia. The annual income is paid to the Board to be used toward the erection of churches in any part of the United States and Territories West of the Mississippi River, when the congregations of such churches are composed principally of Protestant immigrants, no church to receive more than Five Hundred Dollars.

The Barber Fund. The principal of this Fund, $289,508, is held by the Trustees of the General Assembly, divided as follows: Freedmen's Board, one-half; Home Missions, one-quarter; Church Erection, one-quarter. This Fund is to be used for church buildings for Presbyterian colored congregations in the field outside of the Freedmen's Board. The rules governing this Fund are the same as those governing the General and Manse Funds.

The Gilchrist Fund is a Trust Fund of $10,000. The income of this is to be used in aid of church building within the bounds of the Presbytery of Boston.

The Van Meter Fund is a Trust Fund of $4,050, held by the Board. The income of this Fund is used for church building within the bounds of the Presbytery of West Jersey. The rules governing this Fund are the same as those governing the General Fund.

LOAN FUNDS OF THE BOARD

There are four funds of the Board used for extending aid in the building of churches and manses. The Loan Fund is used exclusively to aid in the building of churches, and the other three are used to aid in the building of manses.

Loans from the Manse, Raynolds and Loan Funds are repayable in annual installments in five, usually ten years, the Board, however, has discretion to fix the payment at such times as it deems wise, not exceeding 20 years.

Before the Board can make a loan to any church the location of the proposed building must have the approval of the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the church belongs.

The Loan Fund originated in 1891. From year to year this Fund has been increased. The largest amount added to the Fund was by action of the General Assembly of 1913, which instructed the Board to transfer $500,000 from the principal of the Kennedy bequest to this Fund. Up to March 31st, 1917, $330,708.15 had been transferred, leaving $169,291.85 to be transferred. Transfers are made as required by demands made upon the Loan Fund. At the close of the fiscal year Loans from this Fund on the books of the Board amounted to $793,149. The total amount of the Loan Fund amounts to $889,740.

RULES GOVERNING THE LOAN FUND

I. APPLICATIONS

The Board meets on the Third Thursday of each month. In view of the fact that a Docket is prepared and sent out at least ten days in advance of the meeting in order that it may reach members of the Board living at a distance, applications should reach the office not later than the 5th of each month.

1. All applications shall be on blank forms furnished by the Board; and these must be endorsed by the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery.

2. In filling up the form of application, answer clearly, so far as possible, each question. All are important. Be particularly careful to give the post-office address of the minister. Give such description of the building as may indicate its appearance and value, also if possible, a photograph or plan, and with the application send a copy of the deed and a diagram of the lot. The charter of the Board forbids it paying any appropriation unless the title to the property of the church receiving it is vested in said church as a corporation (if the statutes of the State permit such incorporation), or in an incorporated Presbytery, Synod or Board of the Church.

3. When the application is fully made out, it must be submitted to the Standing Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery, to be approved, signed, and forwarded by such Committee with its recommendation to the Board.

4. The same Committee should appoint or approve of the appointment of a proper counsel to advise the trustees and sign the counsel's certificate appended to the application.

II. APPROPRIATIONS

1. Loans from the Loan Fund, To Aid in Erecting Houses of Worship, may be made at a fixed rate of interest to be determined by the Board from time to time.

2. No Loan shall exceed 50 per cent. of the value of the buildings and land upon which the church is erected.

3. The values of the land and buildings shall be certified by a competent appraiser living in the locality.

4. Title to the property shall be carefully examined and approved by an attorney acceptable to the Board before the Loan is consummated.

5. The Board shall make no Loans except where there is actual need.

6. No church can secure a Loan from the Loan Fund so long as it holds a Loan from the Board without interest.

7. No Loan shall be made to any church that is not incorporated, and the title to whose property is not vested in a religious corporation in fee simple and unencumbered otherwise than to this Board; provided that, in the case of churches building upon leasehold property, the Board, at its discretion, may make a Loan upon such mortgage as the Finance Committee and Counsel shall approve.

8. No Loan shall be made to pay a debt which is more than two years old.

III. PAYMENTS

After the Loan is voted, the conditions to be fulfilled before the payment of the money are as follows:

1. Before paying the amount of the Loan the Trustees shall certify, that excepting the Loan to be received from the Board, the entire amount necessary to complete the building without debt has been collected.

2. A mortgage upon the church property, duly executed and acknowledged by the corporation holding title, and recorded in the County Clerk's or Register's office, is to be returned to the Board, with a certificate furnished by the Board to be filled in by an attorney-at-law designated by the Presbytery, to the effect that the mortgagor is seized of a perfect title in fee simple to said property, free from all legal encumbrance other than the said mortgage, and that the said mortgage and other papers connected with the Loan thus secured are executed in accordance with the laws and usages of the State.

3. The church shall furnish the above mortgage, together with an Abstract of Title to the property, and a satisfactory policy of insurance.

4. The Board furnishes blank forms for Bonds, Notes, Trustees' Certificate and Counsel's Certificate, all of which are to be properly executed and returned.

Care should be taken to secure accuracy in the form of the papers—especially the mortgage instruments—to be executed before receiving the appropriation, and thus vexatious delays will be prevented. The Board is not at liberty to depart from the rules established by the charter and by the General Assembly.

The Manse Fund has been built up by requests from many persons, among them, Mr. James R. Hills, New York; Mr. R. L. Stuart, New York; Mr. Henry R. Wilson, New York. From this Fund loans not exceeding one-half the cost of the building, up to $1,000 are made, without interest (and in exceptional cases grants not to exceed one-third the cost of the building and not exceeding $600) to congregations erecting inexpensive manses. Loans from this Fund are returned in annual installments, to be reloaned to other churches.

The total Fund, March 31st, 1917, was $88,607; of this amount $83,814 is loaned to the churches.

I. APPLICATIONS

The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month. In view of the fact that a Docket is prepared and sent out at least ten days in advance of the meeting in order that it may reach members of the Board living at a distance, applications should reach the office not later than the 5th of each month.

1. Application should be made on blank form furnished by the Board.
2. All questions should be answered as fully as possible.
3. The application, when filled out, should be sent for approval to the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the church belongs.
4. The certificate on third page of application should be filled up and signed by the Counsel designated by the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery.
5. With the application there should be sent a copy of the deed by which the church holds title to the property and a diagram of the lots upon which a mortgage will be given if loan is made. The charter of the Board forbids it paying any appropriation unless the title to the property of the church receiving it is vested in said church as a corporation (if the statutes of the State permit such incorporation), or in an incorporated Presbytery, Synod or Board of the Church.
6. These papers should be forwarded (together with any correspondence that may be of service in considering the matter) to the Corresponding Secretary of the Board.

The Manse Fund is now all in use, being distributed among the churches to which loans have been made. The return of installments upon these loans provides each year a limited sum to be advanced in new loans. The Fund, therefore, must be strictly held for the benefit of the weaker churches seeking small loans for inexpensive buildings. Stronger churches desiring loans of larger amount than $1,000, should apply to the Reynolds or Hoyt Funds, which permit of such increase but call for interest at a low rate.

N. B.—Before formal application is made to the Board, every effort should be used to secure subscriptions in the community benefited by the church or proposed manse; but it is advised that private appeals be not made to other churches.

II. APPROPRIATIONS

1. No loan shall be made to any congregation, whose title to property is not fee simple and free from all legal incumbrance.
2. No loan shall be made for the payment of debt contracted more than a year prior to the time of the application.
3. The appropriation in all ordinary cases shall be made as loans, the amount, without interest, to be repaid by installments, within ten years, such loans never to exceed one-half of the cost of the building.

4. The Manse Fund is for the feeblers and mission churches. If the amount needed shall exceed $1,000 application should be made to the Raynolds or Hoyt Funds.

III. PAYMENTS

After the loan is voted, the conditions to be fulfilled before the payment of the money are as follows:

1. Before paying the amount of the loan, the trustees shall certify that the amount necessary to erect and complete their manse, less the amount of the loan of the Board, has been actually subscribed, that the building is so far completed that the sum to be received from the Board will, with the amount in hand, complete the building and leave the congregation free from debt.

2. A mortgage upon the manse property, duly executed and acknowledged by the corporation holding title, and recorded in the County Clerk's or Register's office, is to be returned to the Board, with a certificate endorsed upon said mortgage by the Attorney-at-Law designated by the Presbytery, to the effect that the mortgagor has a valid title to the property, and has full liberty to mortgage the same, and that said mortgage is a first lien upon the property and has been properly executed, acknowledged and recorded according to law.*

3. The insurance to protect the Board's mortgage interest in the loan shall be procured or carried by the Board. The premiums upon all insurance are deducted from amount of the loan in the first instance, and when the loan is repaid, a rebate of the unearned premium, if any, is returned.

Blanks for the above mentioned mortgages and for insurance surveys will be furnished by the Board. Care should be taken to secure accuracy in the form of the papers—especially the mortgage instruments—to be executed before receiving the appropriation, and thus vexatious delays will be prevented. The Board is not at liberty to depart from the rules established by the charter and by the General Assembly.

The Raynolds Fund. By the bequest of General William F. Raynolds, of Detroit, Michigan, there was established a Fund that, by the terms of his will, may be invested in loans, at a low rate of interest, for the building or purchase of manses.

For the administration of this Fund the General Assembly has approved the following plans and rules:

RULES GOVERNING THE RAYNOLDS FUND

The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month. In view of the fact that a Docket is prepared and sent out at least ten days in advance of the meeting in order that it may reach members of the Board living at a distance, applications should reach the office not later than the 5th of each month.

PLANS

1. The Fund shall be used for the building of manses.
2. Loans from this Fund may be made to churches that seek an amount larger than that provided by the ordinary Manse Fund. No loan shall be made to pay a debt which is more than two years old.
3. Loans shall be made only to churches that are incorporated and that hold their manse property by a deed vesting the title in a religious corporation in fee simple, and unencumbered otherwise than to this Board.
4. Loans are not to exceed in amount one-half the value of the entire manse property.
5. The loans are to be repaid in annual installments running ordinarily through a period of five years, and not exceeding ten years, with interest at four per cent.
6. Loans are to be secured by the notes of the corporation, by a first mortgage upon the property or a deed of trust, and by insurance covering the amount of the loan.

RULES

1. The Board will furnish blank forms for applications, the questions upon which should be answered as fully as possible.
2. Each application, after being filled out and signed by the trustees of the church, shall be submitted for approval to the Committee upon Church Erection of the Presbytery, which shall also appoint a counsel to supervise the legal formalities required.
3. Each application shall be accompanied by a certificate from the properly appointed counsel showing that the title to the property is legally vested in the corporation in fee simple and unencumbered.
4. With the application there must be sent a diagram of the lot, certificates showing values of lot and building, and a copy of the deed to the property.
5. Before sending the amount of the loan a certificate shall be executed by the trustees showing that, with the amount of the expected loan, a sufficient sum has been collected to complete the manse without debt otherwise than to the Board.

The Hoyt Fund is a Loan Fund for the purpose of aiding in the building of manses and was founded by Dr. Ezra P. Hoyt, of New York. Loans are made at a low rate of interest to be fixed by the Board, according to the needs presented in the application. This is a Fund intermediary between the Manse and Reynolds Funds. This Fund amounts to $13,854.10, of which $8,960 is loaned.

XV.

The Inspiration of the Work

1.

The members of the Board endeavor to face the task assigned to them in the right spirit,—in a Christian spirit. Applications are considered promptly and, when all the facts have been furnished, there is no delay.

The members of the Board realize that many of the churches applying for assistance have undertaken difficult tasks, and for this reason each application is considered sympathetically, and in a missionary spirit.

2.

The greatness of the field is an inspiration. The field assigned to the Board by the General Assembly is a national one. Assistance is given to congregations building churches and manses in every part of the United States, Porto Rico, Cuba and Alaska. The members of the Board realize that the Church is endeavoring to take the whole land for Christ.

3.

THE MISSIONARY CHARACTER OF THE WORK

Many of the churches assisted are in new and needy fields and unless assistance is rendered by the Church at large church edifices and manses cannot be built. New communities are springing up in every part of the land and must be provided with houses of worship. It is an inspiration to the members of the Board to be able to assist in such a work.

4.

CHURCH BUILDING GIVES PERMANENCY TO CHRISTIAN WORK

A houseless congregation cannot render effective service year after year. A congregation, like a family, must have a meeting-place,—a home. Where adequate church facilities are provided Christian work becomes stable.

5.

MINISTERS AND THEIR FAMILIES ARE MADE COMFORTABLE WHEN FURNISHED WITH MANSES

A manse is a rallying place for members of a congregation and the center of good and holy influences. In this day of small ministerial salaries and excessive cost of living there should be a forward movement in manse building. In every Presbytery and Synod there are congregations without manses and an effort should be made at once to provide a manse for every settled pastor.

6.

A CHURCH BUILDING IS AN HONOR TO ALMIGHTY GOD

In the sanctuary Christian people meet to hear the word of God read and explained, to unite in prayer and praise, to commemorate the death of the Redeemer in the Lord's Supper, to dedicate children to the service of Christ, and to receive inspiration for the task of each week. No form of Christian work is more necessary, attractive and inspiring than church and manse building.

The members of the Board are profoundly thankful to the Head of the Church for what has been done the past year and unite in the hope that the coming year may be made memorable by the building of an increased number of manses and houses of Christian worship.

XVI.

Insurance Matters

Under the rules of the Assembly the Board is required to take out insurance covering appropriations from the General and Manse Funds. In the first instance the insurance premium is deducted from the amount of the appropriation. When the second premium falls due the Board pays it and sends the bill to the church whose property is covered.

However, on account of oversight, neglect or financial inability, many churches do not pay these advanced premiums.

Not a few churches on distinctively missionary grounds, Indian churches, colored churches, churches among foreign-speaking people, and churches financed by some of the smaller Presbyteries are not in a financial position to pay insurance premiums. The result is that there is an annual loss to the Board of about one thousand dollars.

In view of this the Board suggests and recommends to the Assembly that Article 13, Section 3, of the Plan of the Board be so amended as to permit the Board, at its discretion, to carry its own insurance on all its mortgage interests at a premium rate to be paid to the Board by the churches insured, which rate shall not exceed the prevailing rate of companies approved by the Board, if, in the opinion of the Board, this can be done with safety and more economically than the method now pursued by the Board.

It is further suggested and recommended that where the value of land owned by a church, exclusive of buildings thereon, exceeds twice the amount of the interest of the Board in such land, neither the owner of the land nor the Board shall be required to carry fire insurance as an additional protection to the interest of the Board therein.

XVII.

Security from Church Boards

It is suggested and recommended that Article 14, Section 6 (see page 8, Plan of the Board), adopted in 1854, be so modified that a receipt and refunding agreement may be taken instead of a mortgage from any of the incorporated Boards of the Church,—the amended article to read:

“That in case the title to the lot on which the house of worship is situated or on which it is proposed to build is vested in one of the incorporated boards of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the Board of the Church Erection Fund may, in its discretion, accept in lieu of the mortgage provided for herein an agreement duly made and executed by said incorporated Board containing the usual covenants of the mortgage provided for herein. In the event that, at any time thereafter, the said incorporated Board desires to transfer the title of said property to any congregation, incorporated Presbytery, or Synod of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the Board of the Church Erection Fund may, in its discretion, accept, in lieu of said agreement, the obligations of the congregation, incorporated Presbytery or Synod of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America secured by a mortgage on said property, upon the conditions and containing the provisions herein provided for, if the obligation and mortgage had been given by said congregation, incorporated Presbytery, or Synod, in the first instance."

XVIII.

The Appeal of the Work

The greatness of the field and the fundamental importance of the work of building churches and manses is appealing more and more, year after year, to the Church at large, as is clearly shown by the increased contributions from churches—$19,000. more having been received this year than last.

May the work continue to prosper and the time come when every Presbyterian minister will be living in a comfortable manse and every community have its well equipped house of worship.

DAVID G. WYLIE,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON CHURCH ERECTION

TO THE

REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S WORK

Your Committee has examined with care the annual report of the Board, and finds that the year just closed was most successful. The offerings from the Churches have increased $19,000. over last year, and from all other sources $50,000. The Minutes of the Board show that the members have been most faithful in attendance upon the Board meetings and have given much time to the work committed to them. The Field Secretary, the Rev. Jesse C. Bruce, D.D., has come into personal touch with Church officers in every part of the country, and his work has been faithfully and successfully performed. During the past year, the Board has assisted in erecting 202 Churches and 96 manses, and appropriations have aggregated $537,870. The Board comes to the Assembly with a substantial balance, accounted for, as the annual report states, by the fact that a good many churches did not qualify to receive the appropriations voted; by the activity of the Field Secretary in the sale of old property; by re-payments of grants and loans, and by increased contributions from Churches.

It is a gratification to your Committee to be able to report that since the organization of this important agency of the Church the Board has assisted in building 11,191 Churches and manses, and has expended in this work $8,836,727.

The Board issued last year a most attractive leaflet, 200,000 of which have been called for by the Churches.

There has also been an honest effort made by the Board, through its special representative, Rev. Louis E. Holden, D.D., to secure a fund to aid in the building of churches in the vicinity of Presbyterian colleges and state universities.

The recommendations of the last Assembly have been faithfully carried out by the Board.

An examination of the Treasurer's report shows that the various funds are in good condition, the only weakness being in the Manse Fund, which needs supplementing. The report further shows that the members of the Board have a statesmanlike grasp of the whole situation, and are inspired by the greatness of the field, the missionary character of the work, and by the fact that church and manse building gives permanency to the work of all the Boards of the Church. Not only so, but the tide is rising, and the interest of the Church at large in this fundamental work is increasing. All this is brought out by the Secretary, the Rev. David G. Wylie, D.D., in his annual report, in which he says: "The greatness of the field and the fundamental importance of the work of building Churches and manses is appealing more and more, year after year, to the Church at large, as is clearly shown by the increased contributions from the Churches."

Eleven Overtures were referred to your Committee on the general subject of Church architecture, and were considered by the Committee.

The Minutes of the Board have been examined and found to be accurate and well kept.

Your Committee begs to report to the General Assembly that with a proper interest manifested in the work of the Board and by increased contributions, it will be possible to provide a church for every needy community and a manse for every minister.

Resolutions and Recommendations

We beg to offer the following recommendations:

AID BY GRANTS AND LOANS

1. That the action of the Assembly of 1916 in relation to grants and loans, be reaffirmed. The action was as follows: "That Churches asking for aid be urged to apply for loans instead of grants, and that the Board be advised to make grants to Churches only when in the judgment of the Board there is urgent necessity."

CHURCHES AIDED MUST PROMISE AN ANNUAL CONTRIBUTION

2. That the rule in regard to grants be amended as follows: "Churches other than those deemed by the Board to be exceptional shall hereafter be required to promise an annual contribution to the Board, such contribution to be credited upon the grant mortgage."

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR REPAYMENT OF LOANS

3. That the rules governing the Manse, Raynolds and Loan funds be amended so as to give to the Board discretion to fix the payment of loans at such times as it deems wise, not exceeding 20 years.

STUART FUND AND EMERGENCY NEEDS

4. That the Board be authorized, from time to time, as necessity requires, to place in the Stuart Fund from any undesignated or unappropriated income, such sum as may be adequate to meet cases of great need.

LOCATION OF CHURCHES TO BE AIDED TO BE APPROVED BY PRESBYTERY'S COMMITTEE

5. In view of the fact that the Board of Church Erection is often called upon to appropriate money for the erection of church buildings which are poorly located, the Board be instructed to make no grants or loans until the location of the proposed building shall have been approved by the Committee on Church Erection of the Presbytery to which the Church belongs.

PLAN FOR INSURANCE AMENDED

6. WHEREAS, The present method of insuring the properties upon which the Board has claims is inadequate and unsatisfactory to the Board,

Resolved, That the plan of the Board, Article 13, Section 3, which required the Board to take out a policy of insurance in some trustworthy company be amended and the Board authorized at its discretion to carry its own insurance according to a plan to be adopted by the Board; and that where the value of the land owned by a Church, exclusive of buildings thereon, exceeds twice the amount of the interest of the Board in such land, neither the owner of the land nor the Board shall be required to carry fire insurance as an additional protection to the interest of the Board therein.

CHURCHES AT UNIVERSITY AND PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE CENTERS

7. That the General Assembly deeply appreciates the need of aid in the erection of church buildings at university centers, and in proximity to Presbyterian colleges.

AGENT FOR SECURING FUNDS

8. That in order to quicken the interest of the Church in this most vital and imperative work, and to secure larger contributions for this work, the Board of Church Erection be authorized to employ, from time to time, such agent or agents as the Board, in its discretion, shall deem advisable.

PLANS TO BE SUBMITTED TO BOARD

9. That churches, Presbyteries, Synods and the Board of Education having initiated work in the vicinity of Presbyterian colleges and State Universities, that shall apply to the Board for aid, be urged before beginning the work of building, to submit plans and confer with the Board of Church Erection.

TERM COLLEGE OR UNIVERSITY CENTER DEFINED

10. That the term "College" or "University Center" is hereby defined to be a place where is located an institution of learning which can qualify as being of collegiate standing.

APPROVED OF BOARD'S ACTION IN GIVING AID

WHEREAS, In 1916, the General Assembly instructed the Board to put forth special and vigorous efforts to secure a Special Fund of not less than $200,000. for the erection of Presbyterian Churches in University centers, and in carrying out this work the Board has expended the sum of $62,382.86;

WHEREAS, In anticipation of raising such a Special Fund and in response to pressing appeals for appropriations for the erection of Churches at various University Centers and Colleges, the Board has appropriated $76,000. and has actually paid out of its ordinary income during the past year various sums ranging from $6,000. to $15,000., and aggregating $61,000. for the erection of Presbyterian Churches in University Centers;

WHEREAS, After special and vigorous efforts by the Board to secure such Special Fund, it has been possible to raise, including pledges, only $6,739. part thereof ;

Resolved, 11. That the action of the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in respect to the above mentioned appropriations and payments, and in respect to the conduct of its work above outlined, be, and the same hereby is, in all respects ratified and approved.

RULES GOVERNING LOANS AND GRANTS

That the Board is authorized and empowered hereafter to loan or grant, at its discretion, out of any undesignated or unappropriated income of the Board, such sum or sums as it may deem wise for the erection or improvement of Presbyterian Churches at college or university centers, not exceeding one-third of the actual cost of the building or improvement. All churches applying for aid under this rule are requested, before beginning to build, to submit to the Board plans and specifications of proposed new edifices or improvements. Such loans and grants, however, not to exceed $200,000. in the aggregate, including the sum of $62,382.86 already appropriated and paid, until further authorized.

That any and all rules that heretofore prevented such loans or grants for the purpose aforesaid be and are hereby amended so as to permit loans and grants as herein described.

COMMITTEE AND EXECUTIVE COMMISSION TO WORK OUT PLAN

In view of the fact that it has not been found possible for the Board to raise a fund of $200,000., as directed by the General Assembly of 1916, to assist congregations in building churches in the vicinity of Presbyterian Colleges and State Universities; and in view of the fact that for this year the Board stands ready to respond to the pressing calls of Churches near Presbyterian Colleges and State Universities from the balance in the treasury of the Board; and in view of the great importance of the work of providing Churches for the accommodation of Presbyterian students attending our Colleges and State Universities;

12. Resolved, That the Board of Church Erection and the Board of Education be instructed to appoint Committees for the purpose of conferring with the Executive Commission with the view of formulating a comprehensive plan by which provision shall be made for the religious culture of Presbyterian students attending our Colleges and State Universities, this Committee to report to the next Assembly.

GENERAL FUND RULE AS TO AMOUNTS OF GRANTS AND LOANS

AMENDED

13. That the rule governing the General Fund limiting grants to $1,000. and loans without interest to $3,000. be amended as follows:

"Grants not exceeding $2,000. (except in cases of Churches contiguous to Presbyterian Colleges and State Universities, in which case the Board shall have discretion to make grants or loans not exceeding one-third of the actual cost of the building or improvement), and loans without interest not exceeding $4,000. may be made to Churches from the income of the Board.

BOARD CANNOT MAKE APPROPRIATION FOR DEBTS OVER TWO ##### YEARS' STANDING

14. That no grant or loan shall be made for the payment of a debt contracted more than two years prior to the time of the application and that this rule shall apply to all funds of the Board.

MINUTES OF THE BOARD

15. That the Minutes of the Board be approved and that the Board be complimented for keeping its records so neatly and accurately.

OVERTURES ON ARCHITECTURE

16. That Overtures Nos. 280-291, bearing upon the general subject of Church Architecture, and asking the General Assembly to take action looking to the Board's control of the architecture of all church buildings, for the erection of which aid is asked of the Board, be answered in the negative for the following reasons: 1. It would involve an architectural department. 2. It would largely increase the cost of administration. 3. The Board already has a Committee on Architecture, the chairman of which is a member of a well known firm of architects of New York

City, and this Committee is about to issue a booklet of plans for churches and manses. 4. The Board realizes the importance of the subject, and is giving it careful consideration, and is seeking to assist congregations that are building churches and manses by sending sketches of church and manse buildings, and by offering suggestions.

OVERTURE ON LIBERALIZING RULES OF BOARD RESPECTING AID

It is recommended that the Overture from the Presbytery of San Francisco and Oakland, asking for a change in the rules enabling the Board to initiate work and exercise more liberality in making grants and loans, be answered in the affirmative, for the reason that the Board has made suggestions and recommendations to the Standing Committee looking toward a more liberal policy and suggesting that the rules be amended to enable the Board to make larger grants and larger loans without interest.

RESOLUTION OF PRESBYTERY OF CLEVELAND

That the following resolution, from the Presbytery of Cleveland, be ordered referred to the Board of Church Erection for its consideration:

Resolved, That the General Assembly request the Board of Church Erection to co-operate with Church Extension Committees of Presbyteries, containing large cities, in the purchasing of sites and the building of church edifices at strategic points in such cities, and that the Board of Church Erection be authorized to add secretarial assistance, if necessary, for the prosecution of this work.

RE-ELECTION OF MEMBERS

17. That the following members of the Board, whose terms of office expire in 1917, be re-elected for three years:

Rev. F. Boyd Edwards.	Hon. Warner E. Settle.
Rev. Paul R. Hickok.	Roy M. Hart.
Rev. Ford C. Ottman, D.D.	Robert Johnston.
Rev. J. Frank Smith, D.D.	William K. Gilchrist.
Rev. Newell W. Wells, D.D.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN McNAB, Chairman.

TREASURER'S REPORT

---

During the past year all the grant mortgages of the Board to the number of 6,439 have, in addition to the 1,077 loan mortgages, been examined, numbered, checked, filed and made to correspond with the Board's records. In the course of the checking many mortgages and other legal papers whose status as a contingent asset was not clear or certain, were definitely determined. The correction of the records is resulting in a statement to each Presbytery showing the list of churches aided now on the books of the Board. A summary for each Synod is in preparation and will be ready for the fall meetings of the Synods.

The assets of the Board show an increase over last year on account of receipt of additional permanent funds and loans made from the General Fund.

Attention is particularly called to schedule "A" continued, showing the grant mortgages and other contingent assets. Figures given a year ago were estimated. Figures given this year are correct. It was found that the Board a year ago was carrying in unavailable assets accounts, many items which had been received and used in current fund account.

Churches by their increased free will offerings have manifested a greater interest in the work of the Board than ever before; churches having loans have been unusually faithful and prompt in repaying the same. Special efforts were made to collect insurance premiums in arrears with good success and to sell abandoned churches. Many churches have shown a desire and willingness to pay off old grants. The increase from this last mentioned source this year was over $7,000. The total increase from the sources mentioned above over previous years was over $30,000.

Particulars of the funds and financial operations for the year are given in detail in the schedules which follow.

GEORGE RUTGER BRAUER, Treasurer.

*NOTE.—In addition to Assets shown in Schedule "A," the Board holds mortgages given by churches to secure grants paid out of the various Funds. These mortgages are not due or collectible as long as the church maintains its denominational connection and complies with the conditions on which the money was paid. The Board derives no income from these securities except when a church makes a partial or full payment on same. Unavailable Assets and Prospective claims consist of the following: (1) Advances made by the Board to protect its mortgage interests. (2) Unsecured notes. (3) Various kinds of securities of problematical value received as part or full payment of a legacy. Real Estate held is taken in settlement of a mortgage or received as a legacy. Occasionally these items become an income.

To the Finance Committee of the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

GENTLEMEN:—We have completed our examination and audit of the books, records and accounts of the Treasurer of your Board for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1917, and have prepared and submit herewith a Statement of Assets and Liabilities as of this date.

Our audit proved that all cash received as recorded on the books during the year was deposited to the credit of the Board in the several bank accounts, and that all the disbursements were supported by canceled checks or other proper evidences of payment which were duly examined by us. The balances of cash on deposit and on hand as of the closing date, as shown by the books, have been verified by certificates received from the several depositories and by actual count.

We examined the securities representing investments and found the same to be in agreement with the amount shown on your books and on the attached Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The total of the Loans to Churches was in agreement with the detailed records of the Loans, and a number of tests demonstrated that careful accounting control of these investments is exercised.

We note with approval that the policy of the Board appears to show on a conservative basis the financial condition of the Board. An example of this is the transfer of Real Estate and Office Furniture from the group of actual to contingent assets. In this connection we would suggest that a similar transfer be made of the "Permanent Fund—Real Estate," $6,283.00 (property in New Jersey) and the Troy, New York, property taken over to protect the Murphy mortgage.

We certify that the Statement of Assets and Liabilities submitted herewith and your supporting Statements of Funds are in agreement with your books and in our opinion represent the true condition of the finances of your Board as of March 31, 1917.

Respectfully yours,

LOOMIS, SUFFERN & FERNALD,

Certified Public Accountants.

SEVENTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

We have pleasure in submitting herewith our Seventy-first Annual Report to the General Assembly in session in Dallas, Texas, May, 1917.

The Board has chosen, subject to your approval, Thomas H. Cobbs, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo., and Rev. E. B. Surface, D.D., of Oklahoma City, Okla., to succeed themselves in the office as corporate members until 1920.

As usual the Board has confined its efforts entirely to the collection of outstanding loans, due the Church Erection Fund and to settlement of estates.

There are very few estates now in process of settlement, and the only uncollected loan is that of Garden City, Kansas, made in 1888 for $500.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

BY REV. WILLIAM T. WILCOX, D.D., Chairman

---

Your Committee comes before you with singing hearts because of the encouraging report of the Boards in behalf of the "Old Folks at Home." God is ever mindful of His own and by a stimulating Providence He hath wrought great things, through this willing and efficient agency, whereof we are glad.

While we note with joy the ever increasing gifts for the past five years, that joy grows apace over the significant fact that this year has been the most eventful in the history of the Board. Twice as much money has been added to the Permanent Resources of both Departments as in any previous year, and the grand total has reached the amazing sum of $6,409,932.

We are profoundly grateful to Almighty God for this expression of His goodness. We are sincerely thankful to the generous donors who out of their means and out of their poverty have made this increased usefulness of the Board possible. We desire to record our deep appreciation of the untiring zeal and statesmanlike efficiency of Dr. Foulkes, whose wise leadership is seen in these gratifying results. We heartily commend the voluntary and unstinted service of the members of the Board and the consecration of the staff associates and successful field workers, whose persevering efforts have contributed largely to these inspiring achievements.

What a thrilling encouragement there is in the ability of the Board to appropriate $50,000 more this year for Relief and to authorize the payment of 80 per cent of the maximum benefits to those sharing in the Sustentation Fund. It is a matter of great congratulation that the members of the Board work with such Christian harmony—that the administration of such painstaking details is a veritable labor of love.

In answer to any unspoken query or critical attitude, questioning the centralization of the administrative powers of the Board, the reply is given that the charter provides that the majority of members be citizens of Pennsylvania; that locality has nothing to do with the work of these Boards and that the present membership represents four (4) Synods of the Church.

We most heartily commend the timely letter sent out by the officers and members of the Board to the officers of all Churches connected with the General Assembly. It is basal; it goes bravely to the root of the whole matter by touching the question of the minister's salary. That is the crux. Wisely and courteously it calls on the Church to start the brother right, to keep him from an embarrassing distress, by fulfilling its solemn obligation "to relieve him from worldly cares and avocations." It seeks to make his path radiant with a bright, shining encouragement which shines more and more unto the perfect day. This can only be done by adjusting the salary to the increased demands of these days of the "high cost of living." The children of light should not be so far behind the children of this world, who are increasing the salaries of employees all along the line. We believe with the Board that "an encouraged ministry is the pledge of a quickened Church" and trust that many more cheering responses will be received in answer to this sane appeal.

We recommend the plan of the Boards to make increased efforts for larger gifts in these times of stress. In critical times people do serious thinking concerning their stewardship. Experience has proven that the support of benevolences is not only a solemn duty in such times of sore distress—but that it reacts most favorably on the whole national life. Contrary to fearful expectancy, more liberal gifts are received, and this advanced step of the Board will be in keeping with the statement of a generous donor—"This is a fine time for the rich people of the Presbyterian Church to give largely to this Cause."

The operating expenses may seem startling to a superficial reader of the Board's report—but careful consideration reveals the more cheering fact that the work is accomplished on the small basis of 3.7 per cent. The cost was less this year than last by more than $2,000. And it must be remembered that the expenses are promoting as well as administrative. It is a business maxim that "it takes money to get money." Results have proved the wisdom of the Board's expenditures.

We commend the efforts of the Board to enlist the support of the Sunday Schools and Aid Societies in the great work of Relief. This is in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the hour. If every youth is encouraged to support a soldier on the firing line, why should not every Sunday-school scholar be enlisted to support the veteran who has been disabled in the King's business? Would a young patriot cease his care and support because his soldier was disabled? Would not the loving care of the nation be extended to him in fullest measure? Shall it be different in the household of faith? Not so! And why should not the Ladies' Aid and kindred Societies respond as quickly to the White Cross appeal for the widow and orphan, as loving women do for the Red Cross appeal of the hour? We believe they will.

The Homes owned and maintained by the Boards continue their beneficent ministry. Two substantial additions to Thornton Home have been erected through the generosity of Mrs. Jennie Glaze and Miss Mary Phelps, M.D. The Thomas and Marie Merrill Home at Saginaw, Michigan, has been deeded to the Board in fee simple by the heirs of the late Mr. Merrill and has taken its place as a beautiful house of refuge and rest for the wearied soldiers of the Master.

The Ministers' Memorial Cottage at Albuquerque, New Mexico has amply justified itself in most satisfactory results and grateful acknowledgments of those receiving shelter and treatment.

The plan of Sustentation has justified the most sanguine hopes of its sponsors and supporters. It is part of the great modern pension movement adopted by all great corporations. It is businesslike, democratic, self-respecting, just, and financially sound. It appeals to thoughtful men everywhere; 1,333 ministers and 124 missionaries have already adopted it in our Church. Other denominations are using it in one form or another. Even the contributory element is being carefully considered by the administrators of a great Educational Fund. We are up to date and progressive with such a plan. It should receive greater consideration from the pastors; wider welcome by our Churches and some plan should be devised by Presbyteries whereby every candidate for the ministry may be intelligently confronted with this scheme of a contributory pension which may successfully solve the fearsome problem of disability.

We are glad to note the special arrangement made with the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work whereby every commissioned missionary of that Board may enjoy the privileges and benefits of the Fund. We trust also that the negotiations with other Boards may be equally successful, and that all commissioned servants of the Church may soon share in that privilege.

Your Committee respectfully recommends:

1. That the General Assembly express its joyous appreciation of the successful work of the Combined Boards, during the past year, and that it express its approval of the statesmanlike administration of the Board through its efficient General Secretary and all associated with him; through whose labors the unprecedented sum of $2,307,232 was secured during the past year; and its grateful recognition of the voluntary service rendered by the consecrated members of the Board.

2. That the General Assembly approve the Minutes and properly audited Treasurer's reports of the Combined Boards.

3. That in view of the continued claims of those who have served the Church faithfully and who have not been able to provide adequately for themselves, the work of the Relief Department of the Combined Boards be prosecuted with unceasing effort and that the action of the Board of Relief in determining to appropriate to its annuitants Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) more during the coming year, than during the preceding year, be heartily approved.

4. That the Boards be authorized to continue their appeal to the various Ladies' Aid Societies for the support of the work of the Relief Department, particularly the care of the widows and fatherless children; it being understood that such presentation will not interfere with any missionary activities already being carried on by the women of the Church.

5. That the officers and teachers of the Sunday Schools of our Church be encouraged to give the fullest access to the appeal of this Board for a share of the benevolences of their Schools, and that "Parents' Day" be set apart as a special day for the presentation of the work of this Board before the Sunday Schools of the Church.

6. That Overture No. 297 from Boston Presbytery, relating to the Board of Relief and Sustentation, asking the Assembly to authorize the Board "to alter its rules so as to allow, at its own discretion, a Minister of our Church who may not have served in the ministry the full period of 30 years, or attained the age of 70 years, to be placed upon the Roll of Honor and to receive the maximum amount of aid, if he has come, in the discharge of the duties of the pastorate, to a condition of complete physical disability," be answered as follows: That we do not deem it wise to make this change at present, but suggest that special cases be referred to the Board for special consideration; and that in answer to Overture No. 557, from Iowa Presbytery, asking the Assembly to direct that the Board of Relief shall not reduce the maximum grant of $400 to a minister honorably retired on account of any pension he may receive from the United States Government, if his Presbytery certifies his need of the grant of $400 in addition to such pension, it is recommended that this be referred to the Board for its sympathetic consideration.

7. That the splendid progress made by the Sustentation Department in building up its Permanent and Reserve Funds be heartily approved and that the Sustentation Fund be commended as a wise and statesmanlike plan of the Church whereby it assists the minister and the missionary to provide for the day of their own old age and disability upon a basis recognized as economically sound and morally just.

8. That the Assembly approve the action of the Directors of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund in authorizing the payment of 80 per cent of the maximum benefits, during the ensuing year.

9. That the action of the Sustentation Fund in entering into special relationship with the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work, providing membership for the accredited missionaries of that Board, be heartily approved, and that the limit of ten years of service as a Sunday-School Missionary hitherto set for membership in the Fund be removed and that the Ministerial Sustentation Fund be authorized to take all necessary legal steps for placing the Sunday-School Missionaries upon the same plane as all other members of the Fund.

10. That the Assembly express its special gratification over the results of the policy of publicity which has been carried on by the Combined Boards during the last few years, and that it authorize the Boards to continue and enlarge, in such manner as may seem wise, such policy, with a view to securing as rapidly as possible large additions to its Permanent and Reserve Funds.

11. That the Assembly approve the form of campaigns carried on by the Combined Boards and recommends that Pastors and Sessions give the widest welcome to the presentation of the claims of this Cause for its Permanent and Reserve Funds and that the same shall not, in any way, be construed as interfering with the regular Benevolence Budget of the Church.

12. That the General Assembly express its appreciation of the fact that during the last year many large gifts have been received by the Combined Boards and that it is pleased to reiterate, as its own judgment the words of a generous donor of $100,000., who recently said, "This is a fine time for the rich people of the Presbyterian Church to give largely to this Cause;" while, at the same time, expressing its approval of the action of the Combined Boards in seeking and securing smaller gifts from many of the people of the Church.

13. We recommend for election as Directors of the Board of Ministerial Relief, for the term expiring May, 1920, the following named persons:

REV. MARCUS A. BROWNSON, D.D.,
REV. GEORGE FRANCIS GREENE, D.D.,
HON. WILLIAM P. POTTER, LL.D.,
MR. SAMUEL F. IRWIN,

and we further recommend that the Assembly nominate these same gentlemen to the members of the Sustentation Fund as Directors for the term specified.

14. That the General Assembly cease from its routine work for a moment to hold in loving and grateful remembrance all those dear servants of the Lord, our lonely brethren, whose 1,622 names are on the roll of the Board of Relief and to engage in heartfelt intercession in their behalf, not forgetting the hallowed memory of the 55 ministers, 32 widows and 1 missionary whose names were translated from the earthly to the heavenly roll, during the past year; and, in order that they who are mindful of us, may know that we are thinking of them, we ask that the Assembly authorize the General Secretary of the Boards officially to communicate this action to them.

The above report unanimously approved and its recommendations adopted by the Standing Committee on Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund.

WILLIAM T. WILCOX,

OF
The Combined Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.
TO THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF 1917

The Combined Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund Herewith Present Their Fifth Annual Report to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., Combining the Sixty-second Annual Report of the "Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers" and the Eighth Annual Report of the "Ministerial Sustentation Fund."

The tides of consecrated and generous giving toward the welfare of the disabled servants of the Church are beginning to come in. The year just closed has been the most inspiring and eventful in the history of our Church with reference to the work of caring for the aged and disabled ministers and missionaries. The total receipts for the year have been $2,307,232, of which $1,599,835.79 have been added to the permanent resources of both Departments in cash, bonds, and mortgages; $537,439.46 secured for the immediate work of the Boards; and $126,519 the net increase in deferred subscriptions. Preëminent among all the benefactions which have come to this Cause during this year was the payment of a legacy of $750,000, by the estate of the late Mrs. D. Willis James. This munificent bequest made by one, who, during the last five years of her life, had contributed anonymously exactly a quarter of a million dollars to the Combined Boards, makes her total provision $1,000,000. Attention should also be called to the fact that practically the same provision was made by the late Mrs. James for similar agencies of the Methodist Episcopal and of the Congregational Churches. In addition to this large bequest several outstanding individual gifts and legacies have been received. A well-known Presbyterian Elder, whose identity may not be disclosed, contributed $50,000 to the Permanent Funds of the Sustentation Department. Another Presbyterian Elder, Mr. Samuel Ferguson, of Grosse Pointe, Detroit, Michigan, during the closing weeks of the Church year, made a contribution of $70,000 to the Permanent Funds of the Relief Department. Another philanthropic Presbyterian made a contribution of $100,000 as a memorial to his father and mother. In the month of March a generous friend sent, as an unsolicited contribution to the Permanent Funds of the Relief Department, a quarter of a million dollars. Besides these outright gifts of large proportions, other generous gifts of $5,000 and $10,000 have been received during the year. The total amount received in legacies, including a generous bequest of $25,000 in the will of the late Mrs. May Leask is $930,222.96. In addition to these splendid gifts, mention should be made of the transfer in fee simple to the Board of Relief of The Thomas and Marie Merrill Home, Saginaw, Michigan, by the heirs of the late Mr. and Mrs. Merrill, and the erection of the Glaze Cottage and the Phelps Memorial Infirmary as an addition to the property of the Thornton Home at Newburg, Ind.

Of equal importance, the Board records the fact that an increasing number of loyal Presbyterians are contributing in modest sums to this cause. During the last few years the question has been frequently asked, "Why do not the men of wealth in the Presbyterian Church give more largely?" The answer has been that the type of campaigns carried on by the Combined Boards will in God's favor surely bring large gifts in due time. The results of the past year, it appears to the Boards, amply justify their policy, which they promise to maintain during the next few years.

MEMBERS.

The Board suffered the loss of the services of Henry B. McCormick, Esq., who, having been a member ever since the Combination in 1912, resigned his membership in both Departments during the year. Mr. McCormick's resignation was reluctantly accepted. Mr. Samuel F. Irwin, of Lansdowne, Penna., was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy.

POLICIES.

The Combined Boards present to the General Assembly no request for the approval of any change of policy. It is their purpose to continue the diligent prosecution of the task committed to them along the same general lines as now employed. Publicity of probably a more extended type, through wide appeals for the reserve and permanent funds of the Sustentation Department; the enlistment of Sunday Schools and Ladies' Aid Societies and of Churches in the work of the Relief Department; the enforcing of the appeal of the Sustentation Department to any men at the threshold of their ministry; the close coöperation of the Board with the Boards of Foreign Missions and Sabbath-School Missions in the matter of provision for the disability of their respective missionaries; the wise and prudent administration of the funds already committed to the Combined Boards; the substantial enlargement of the amounts appropriated to the relief beneficiaries, so that at least $50,000 more will be actually given, will constitute a large part of the work of the Combined Boards during the coming year.

AN APPEAL FOR MINISTERIAL SUPPORT.

During the past year the members and officers of the Combined Boards prepared and issued over their signature the following appeal, which was sent to the officers of all the Churches connected with the General Assembly:

To the members of the Sessions and the Boards of Trustees of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

Dear Sirs and Brethren:

The undersigned ministers and laymen respectively address you upon a matter of real importance to the entire Presbyterian Church.

In connection with our duties as officers and members of the Combined Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund we have been brought face to face with the fact that ministerial salaries on the whole are insufficient; and that one of the reasons why the work of the Combined Boards has so many distressing features is that inadequate remuneration is provided for the average minister during his active days. The long period of preparation required for a fruitful ministry, the short period of time allotted to active work before the so-called "dead-line" comes, both bring unusual financial pressure upon the minister such as is not felt by other classes of professional workers.

As members of the Combined Boards which deal with ministerial support in the days of old age and disability, we feel that it is within our province to take up this problem officially and to address this letter to you as the office-bearers of the Church. The ministry, as a class, is not in a position to speak for itself. We therefore speak in its behalf.

In the official call for the services of a pastor the following phrase occurs: "that you may be free from worldly cares and avocations." (Form of Government, Chapter XV, Section VI.) The irony of such a statement is often too evident. Freedom from "worldly cares and avocations" is promised by the Church and expected of the pastor, but the promise is frequently unfulfilled and the expectation is unrealized.

The minister's salary is not intended to be compensation but only to provide a livelihood. This livelihood, however, ought not to be reckoned in the narrow terms of bare necessity but in the spirit of the promise made by every church when its pastor was installed: "We engage to continue to him, while he is our pastor, that competent worldly maintenance which we have promised, and whatever else we may see to be needful for the honor of religion and his comfort among us." (Form of Government, Chapter XV, Section XIII.) Whether the salary is relatively large or small, it is usually adjusted to the demands made upon the minister in a particular church and community. We are convinced that such an adjustment cannot be made once for all. The increase in the "cost of living" within the last few years has been without parallel. Many secular concerns have taken official cognizance of this fact and have largely increased the wages of their employees. There has not been a corresponding increase in the means of livelihood provided for the minister, and many churches have forgotten that other promise made in the call—of "all proper support."

We are confronting unusual financial conditions to-day. Invested wealth is receiving a generous portion of prosperity. Labor is seeking and securing larger returns for its toil. The middle-class salaried man has not shared in this increase. While the purchasing power of a dollar is far less than it was five years ago, there are many churches that have made no change in their minister's salary in twice and three times that many years. We have in mind a certain congregation which is paying the same salary to-day it paid twenty years ago, although some of its members have become prosperous, not to say rich, and it has steadily grown in membership and in its contributions to benevolences.

We are aware of the fact that there are some churches which have taken this matter up and which are dealing with the whole situation in a worthy way. If your church is numbered in this class, we can only ask your coöperation in helping to bring this duty to the attention of your friends in other churches. If not, may we not hope that you will give broad-minded consideration to all the issues involved in this situation? The efficiency of the minister; his release from unnecessary care and distress; his position in the community; his power in the Kingdom of God, are in a large measure dependent upon the support ministered to him by those whom he serves. Livelihood, not compensation; freedom from worldly cares and avocations, not the temptation to covet wealth, must be distinguishing marks of a spiritual ministry. An encouraged ministry is the pledge of a quickened Church. Will you not join us in this effort to magnify the gospel ministry?

Fraternally yours,

Already many responses have been received by the officers of the Boards, showing that the seed thus sown has borne good fruit. It is hoped that still larger results will appear in the future.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVES.

The personnel of the staff of Field Representatives has been somewhat changed during the year. Rev. W. J. Johnson, D.D., after some seven years of efficient service, resigned on March 1. The Rev. James A. Laurie, D.D., Pastor of the Church of Wenatchee, Wash., was added to the staff during the year. The Boards desire to record their appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of their men in the field.

EXPENSES.

The Combined Boards have given constant attention to the matter of minimizing their administrative and promoting expenses. A Committee on Expenditures has been giving diligent attention to the entire subject, with a view to the increased efficiency of the entire work of the Boards. In a voluminous report of this Committee made to the Combined Boards in February, the following comparative ratio of expenses to income was reported for the years 1910 and 1916. Appended is a tabulation for those years, also for the year just closed.

Total income (including net increase in deferred subscriptions).....	$417,889	$1,088,367	$2,307,232
Disbursements (other than appropriations) .....	37,290	86,857	84,707
Percentage of income expended for collecting, investing, and distributing the entire funds of the Combined Boards .....	8.9%	7.9%	3.7%

THE RELIEF DEPARTMENT

The Relief Department, continuing under the charter of the Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers, makes in this manner its Sixty-second Annual Report to the General Assembly.

ROLL.

The Roll of the Board of Relief for the year 1916-1917 is as follows:

Ministers .....	652
Widows .....	860
Orphan Families .....	60
Commissioned Lay Missionaries.....	50
Total .....	1,622

Of these annuitants, 19 were guests in the Merriam Home; 16 were guests in the Thornton Home; 6 were guests in the Thomas and Marie Merrill Home, and 6 were guests in the Ministers' Memorial Cottage.

In addition, approximately 450 dependent children, members of the families of annuitants, and approximately 200 wives of disabled ministers are directly aided by the Board, though not upon its Roll.

NEW CASES.

During the year the following new cases were favorably acted upon by the Board:

Ministers .....	100
Widows .....	91
Orphan Families .....	6
Commissioned Lay Missionaries.....	7
Total .....	204

The comparison of the Roll this year with that of the last ten years, shows the following condition:

Year ending
March 31st.
1917.....	1,622
1916.....	1,555

1915.....	1,489
1914.....	1,403
1913.....	1,310
1912.....	1,251
1911.....	1,197
1910.....	1,143
1909.....	1,118
1908.....	1,067

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

Of the 652 names of ministers upon the Roll, 244 are those of Honorably Retired men on the Roll of Honor. Their average age is 76 years, and the average time they have been in the ministry is 44 years. Twenty-one of these have been added during the year just closed, and 25 have died.

The appropriations to the men on the Honor Roll during the year amounted to $76,417.50, an average of $384. As usual not all the Honorably Retired Ministers upon the Roll asked for the full amount to which they were entitled, although the average amount is nearly the maximum. It should be noted that the Church is not so generous as many industrial concerns which place the age of retirement at 65 instead of 70.

THE HONOR ROLL ON HIGH.

Eighty-eight of those upon the Roll of the Board passed away during the year; 55 ministers, 32 widows, and 1 missionary.

AVERAGE APPROPRIATIONS.

The average amount appropriated to annuitants during the year was as follows:

Honor Roll .....	$384.00
All Ministers .....	303.06

CONTRIBUTING AND NON-CONTRIBUTING CHURCHES.

The number of churches contributing to the Relief Department during the year was 5,860, as compared with 5,923 the year before; and the number of non-contributing churches 4,093, as compared with 4,073 the previous year. The churches belonging to foreign Presbyteries, which neither contribute nor draw out, are not included in these totals.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Following the action of the General Assembly the Boards have continued to press the work of their Relief Department before the Sunday schools of the country. We have sent out appeals to every Sunday school in the Church and have provided them, as desired, with programs for the observance of Mother's Day and with envelopes for offerings. The response has been cordial, but not as widely extended as we hope it will be by and by. We are asking the Chairman of our Committees in the Presbyteries to call special attention to the advisability of enlisting the Sunday schools in our aid. This, both for its educational value as well as for the offerings we may receive, to be used entirely for the help of the widows and orphans dependent upon the Church. The Board will be grateful if the General Assembly will continue to recommend us to make this approach to the Sunday schools.

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES.

The Boards desire to have it very carefully noted that no appeal is ever made to the Women's Missionary Societies. We recognize fully the greatness of their task and the need they have for every dollar they can secure. Our direct appeal is to the Ladies' Aid and kindred Societies, and in this appeal we are meeting with favor from the splendid women who compose these Societies.

PRESBYTERIAL ORGANIZATIONS.

There are now two Presbyterial Federations of Aid Societies. The one is in Los Angeles, which is three years old, and reports a great meeting on March 6, with 500 ladies present and an address from the Moderator of the General Assembly. The second one is in Brooklyn, New York, and was completed on March 21, with a constitution formally adopted and the necessary officers elected. Both these Federations stress the regular work of Aid Societies, and at the same time give the Relief Department of these Boards a place in their thought, and prayer, and offering. There seems to be an increasing field for work of this sort and the Boards will be glad to help in any way possible. There are more Societies aiding us during the past year than the year before and a larger amount of money has been sent us, for which we are very grateful.

THE HOMES.

The Homes controlled by the Relief Department of the Boards are finding increasing favor in the Church. We shall have need for all available room in the near future.

MERRIAM HOME.

The Merriam Home at Newton, N. J., which is our oldest Home, is full to its capacity. We are trying to increase its usefulness in some departments. It is really a Home: we never speak of inmates as of an Institution but as members of our family, and we rejoice to know that they heartily appreciate the comforts they find in this splendid gift to the Boards. Visitors to the Home are always welcome and anyone desiring to go will please notify the matron, Mrs. Mary Tuttle, in advance, so that she may be prepared for their coming.

THORNTON HOME.

Thornton Home is now in full enjoyment of the recent additions to its accommodations. The Glaze Cottage is completed and furnished and partly occupied by our guests. The Phelps Memorial Building is also completed and has within it some guests who need the care of an infirmary. The original Home has been put in perfect order and is full to its capacity. For the sake of safety, not only have fire escapes been provided for the main building, which is a three-story edifice, but a central heating plant has been erected, from which the three buildings of the Home are heated, thus avoiding all risk from fire. The Boards desire to express again their grateful appreciation of the gifts of the two buildings, thus adding so much to our ability to care for our friends.

THOMAS AND MARIE MERRILL HOME.

During the past year the Thomas and Marie Merrill Home, a mansion occupying a whole block of land in Saginaw, Michigan, has been refitted and refurnished, where necessary; dedicated to its Christlike task, and is already occupied by a goodly number of the annuitants of the Boards. A bronze tablet, commemorating the gift, has been placed in the hall that friends may know the givers of this beautiful Home. This, too, is open to visitors at any time, and we hope that friends in passing through Saginaw will take occasion to go and see what this agency of the Church is doing through the bounty of its splendid friends.

THE MINISTERS' MEMORIAL COTTAGE.

The Ministers' Memorial Cottage at Albuquerque, is fulfilling our expectations. One half of the rooms already are occupied by ministers who are in the early stages of tuberculosis. There is every promise that they will be restored to perfect health under the careful and skilful treatment given in the Cottage. When the Boards do not have a sufficient number of guests to occupy all the rooms the Southwestern Sanatorium is allowed to use vacant rooms and for that returns a modest rental to the Boards. This, with the permanent arrangement made, reduces considerably the expenses, and at the same time helps to care for others who need the treatment provided by the Sanatorium. Let it be remembered that the arrangement with the Sanatorium enables the Boards to provide all the expenses of food and attendance at an amount allowed for certain classes of annuitants of the Relief Department. The results thus far accomplished are entirely satisfactory and grateful letters are coming to the Boards for the service thus rendered.

ENDOWMENT FOR THE HOMES.

The Boards would like to call the attention of their friends to the opportunity provided for giving endowment funds for the maintenance of the Homes. It is believed that there is a reasonable appeal in the work these Homes are doing to warrant any friend, who may be so disposed, to make a contribution to the Boards to endow the Homes. We will welcome correspondence on this subject.

RECEIPTS FOR THE CURRENT RELIEF FUND.

For the Years 1915-1916 and 1916-1917.

	1915-1916	1916-1917
Contributions from Churches and Church Societies...	$137,248.62	$139,417.39

Unrestricted Legacies (Securities).....	54,870.00

RECEIPTS FOR THE PERMANENT FUND.

Since the last Annual Report there has been added to the invested permanent funds of the Relief Department the sum of $1,306,827.37.

LEGACIES.

During the year closing March 31, 1917, the Relief Department received in unrestricted and restricted legacies the sum of $924,666.71.

TOTAL RESOURCES OF RELIEF.

The total invested assets of the Relief Department, including securities held and administered by the Trustees of the General Assembly are $4,259,384, besides cash balances on March 31, 1917, of $214,372. In addition to these bankable assets there are deferred and unpaid subscriptions not yet due, in the custody of the Treasurer, aggregating for the Relief Department $284,946. The total resources of the Relief Department, including these subscriptions on March 31, 1917, were therefore $4,758,702. The total summary of resources for both departments will appear in the Treasurer's report.

TERMS EXPIRED.

The terms of the following named persons as members of the Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers expire at this meeting of the General Assembly:

REV. MARCUS A. BROWNSON, D.D.,
REV. GEORGE FRANCIS GREENE, D.D.,
HON. WILLIAM P. POTTER, LL.D.,
MR. SAMUEL F. IRWIN.

SUSTENTATION DEPARTMENT

There has been a steady and gratifying growth in the Sustentation, or Contributory Pension, Department of the Combined Boards. The effort of the Church to build up an Annuity Fund toward which the Ministers themselves make definite contributions, graded according to their ages, has been marked with signal success, during the past year. 1,333 Ministers and 124 Missionaries, at the close of the year, were enrolled as active members and 80 names were upon the roll of those drawing annuities; of the latter, 7 were automatic old-age pensions, 18 were disability pensions, 54 widows', and 1 orphan's.

One of the elements of strength of the Sustentation Plan has been the fact that only that annuity has been promised which could be provided from the contributions of the Church at large, calculated upon an actuarial basis. From year to year, the percentage of the maximum amount has increased and the Board of Directors is pleased to report that, after a most exhaustive analysis, at the hands of its Actuary, the Fund is able to pay, during the ensuing year, 80 per cent of the maximum benefits to all of its members who are, or may be, eligible for benefits. This progress should be exceedingly gratifying to the members of the Fund and to the Church at large.

The plan of the Sustentation Fund has been outlined from year to year; it has been and is subject to such modifications as the wisdom of the Church may direct. The experience of the last year confirms the wisdom of those who instituted the Fund. Its rates are based upon the well-known law of averages, which is computed upon sound actuarial principles. The benefits are graded according to years of service in the Presbyterian ministry and not according to salary. The member's contribution is equivalent to one fifth of the amount necessary to produce the maximum pension. The Sustentation Department is not in peril of becoming insolvent or financially unsound, because it only guarantees to the member the pension provided by his own payment, plus his pro rata share of all other payments to the Fund.

The Fund depends upon the continued and increasing interest of the Church, in its support. The building up of a large reserve fund and the constant increase of contributions to its permanent funds, as well as the substantial addition in the number of ministers uniting with it, are all elements of necessary growth. If any one of these elements is seriously lacking, the Fund becomes weakened.

The Sustentation plan is peculiarly suited to a Church, which, like the Presbyterian Church (in a technical sense) is democratic. Presbyterianism would not readily lend itself to assessments, therefore, any Pension Plan which, while otherwise eminently sound, would depend for its perpetuity upon a definite assessment, upon every parish, graded according to the minister's salary, would not be suited to the needs and temper of the Presbyterian Church. In the support of its Sustentation Fund, the Church will have opportunity to demonstrate, and is already demonstrating, its willingness to give, without assessment, in the same and generous proportions in which other Churches give on the basis of assessments.

The contributory element is one of the vital factors of the Sustentation Department; it appeals to thoughtful men in the ministry, and out of it. When the amount of the contribution required is not burdensome and when there is every prospect that a large majority of those eligible, will eventually enter into the Fund, it justifies itself as a worthy enterprise. It is only right that the Church should continue to relieve the needs of those who have come to want in its service; it is equally proper that the Church should coöperate with a growing number of its servants in providing service pensions, in order that they may not come to need in the day of their old age or disability. Although the Sustentation plan has only been in practical effect for a few years, it is already paying 80 pensions.

A special arrangement has been made with the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work by means of which every commissioned missionary of that Board is offered a membership in the Sustentation Department; the Board of Publication and Sabbath School Work adding a sufficient sum to his present salary to provide one-half of the member's rate. Negotiations are being conducted with other Boards of the Presbyterian Church, and it is hoped by the officers of the Combined Boards that Sustentation benefits will soon be provided automatically for practically all the commissioned servants of the Church.

While it is hoped that all the Church offerings taken through the Budget or in annual appeals will go to the Relief Department for its immediate work, it is the earnest desire of the Board that all subscriptions and contributions secured in the special campaign, shall go to the reserve and permanent funds of the Sustentation Department. The Board also believes that those who are contemplating making provision for this Cause in their last wills and testaments ought to be encouraged to make special provision for the Sustentation Department, under its corporate name the "Ministerial Sustentation Fund," incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, February 26, 1909.

TOTAL RESOURCES OF SUSTENTATION.

The actual invested resources of the Sustentation Department on March 31, 1917, were $932,232.23. Besides this there were cash balances on hand of $82,940.07 and bills receivable amounting to $2,192.90. In addition to these invested assets this Department has to its credit in the custody of the Treasurer, $633,866 in deferred subscriptions that are not yet paid or due. The total resources of the Sustentation Department, including these subscriptions, on March 31, 1917, were therefore $1,651,231. The total summary of resources for both Departments will appear in the Treasurer's report.

The terms of the following named persons expire this year, as members of the Board of Directors of the Ministerial Sustentation Fund:

REV. MARCUS A. BROWNSON, D.D.,
REV. GEORGE FRANCIS GREENE, D.D.,
HON. WILLIAM P. POTTER, LL.D.,
MR. SAMUEL F. IRWIN.

ANNUITY BONDS FOR BOTH DEPARTMENTS.

The Board also reports that it is now entering into annuity contracts with such persons as may desire to invest sums of money with either of its Departments with the provision that a fixed rate of interest shall be paid to them during their lifetime and the principal and interest, upon their death, shall revert to the Board. Until recently a flat rate of 5 per cent interest has been paid to all such annuitants and during the past year nearly $104,500 have been added to the funds of the Board in this manner. In order, however, to meet a growing demand on the part of those who in later life desire a larger amount of interest than can safely be earned by the mere investment of the capital, the Board is prepared to pay a graded interest, as follows:

- 5 per cent where the annuitant is not over 60 years of age.
- 6 per cent where the annuitant is between 60 and 70.
- 7 per cent where the annuitant is between 70 and 80.
- 8 per cent where the annuitant is over 80.

The difference between the amount of interest actually earned by the Board, something over 5 per cent and the amount actually paid the annuitant, will not be paid out of the current funds of the Board but out of the Annuity Fund itself, which will be kept separate and distinct and which will be made to bear its own interest payments.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding their report the Combined Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund would place final emphasis upon the necessity of increased offerings from the churches, women's societies and Sabbath schools for the current work of Relief, and upon the necessity of the fullest and most sympathetic access to the churches in the campaigns for increasing the Permanent and Reserve Funds of the Sustentation Department. The worthiness of this cause to be remembered in wills should also be brought more and more to the attention of consecrated givers in the Church.

Respectfully submitted in behalf of and by the Directors of the Combined Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Fund.

WILLIAM HIRAM FOULKES,
General Secretary.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS AND AUDITORS

PHILADELPHIA, May 1, 1917.

TO THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS,
Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—

We have made a thorough audit of the accounts and property of the Board of Relief for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1917.

We have examined and added the Cash Book as to Receipts and Disbursements, and verified the cash balances in each of the four banks you are using.

We have also checked the postings to the Ledger and proved the Treasurer's annual reports as to the Campaign Account, the Current Fund, Emergency Fund, and Permanent Fund; examined all securities and other evidences of Investments as shown on the Ledger and the Treasurer's Report, and checked the interest and income from the Investments.

The bank balances to the credit of your Board at the close of the fiscal year were:

Emergency Fund .....	$ 86,438.83
Permanent Fund .....	126,295.66

The book value of the total Investments in the care of your Board on the same date was $3,852,618.06, in addition to which the Trustees of the General Assembly were holding securities aggregating $406,765.95.

Respectfully submitted,

STOCKTON BATES &amp; SONS.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS AND AUDITORS

PHILADELPHIA, May 1, 1917.

TO THE MINISTERIAL SUSTENTATION FUND,
Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—

We have made a thorough audit of the accounts and property of "The Ministerial Sustentation Fund" for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1917.

We have examined and added the Cash Book as to Receipts and Disbursements and verified the cash balances in each of the two banks you are using.

We have also checked the postings to the Ledger and proved the Treasurer's annual report; examined all securities and other evidences of Investments as shown on the Ledger and the Treasurer's report, and checked the interest and income from the Investments.

The bank balances to the credit of The Sustentation Fund at the close of the fiscal year aggregated $82,457.57. The book value of the total Investments on the same date was $932,232.23.

Respectfully submitted,

STOCKTON BATES &amp; SONS.

FORMS OF BEQUEST AND DEVISE.

I. CORPORATE NAME.

The laws of the different states vary so much as to testamentary bequests that in making a will it is always desirable to secure the services of a competent lawyer. In all cases, however, where bequests are made to either department of the combined agencies, the corporate name should be used as follows:

To the Relief Department: "The Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers, and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers," incorporated in the State of Pennsylvania, October 21, 1876.

To the Sustentation Department: "The Ministerial Sustentation Fund" of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, incorporated February 26, 1909, under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

II. FORM OF BEQUEST.

To the Relief Department: "I give and bequeath to 'The Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers,' incorporated in the State of Pennsylvania, October 21, 1876, having its office in the City of Philadelphia, the sum of.....dollars, to be expended for the appropriate objects of said corporation."

To the Sustentation Department: "I give, bequeath and devise to 'The Ministerial Sustentation Fund' of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, incorporated February 26, 1909, under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the sum of.....dollars, to and for the uses of the said Ministerial Sustentation Fund."

III. FORM OF DEVISE.

REAL ESTATE.

To the Relief Department: "I give and devise unto 'The Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers,' incorporated in the State of Pennsylvania, October 21, 1876, having its office in the City of Philadelphia, all that certain (here insert description or other sufficient designation of the real estate) with the appurtenances in fee simple, the same or its proceeds, for the use of said Board."

To the Sustentation Department: "I give and devise unto 'The Ministerial Sustentation Fund' of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, incorporated February 26, 1909, under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, all that certain (here insert description if convenient) with the appurtenances in fee simple, for the use, benefit and behoof of said Ministerial Sustentation Fund forever."

IV. RESIDUARY CLAUSE.

For the Relief Department: "I give, devise and bequeath in fee simple and absolutely to 'The Presbyterian Board of Relief for Disabled Ministers and the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Ministers,' incorporated in the State of Pennsylvania, October 21, 1876, having its office in the City of Philadelphia, all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real and personal, to be used for the appropriate object of said corporation."

For the Sustentation Department: "All the rest, residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, I devise and bequeath unto 'The Ministerial Sustentation Fund' of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, incorporated February 26, 1909, under the Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

V. PERMANENT FUND.

If a testator desires his devise or bequest to become a part of the endowment of either agency, he should add to the form the following words: "To be held as part of the Permanent Fund, the income only to be used for the appropriate objects of said corporation."

VI. WITNESSES.

To every will there should be two subscribing witnesses, neither of whom is interested as a legatee or devisee, or is in any way connected with a charity to which anything is given in the will.

Fifty-second Annual Report
OF THE
BOARD OF MISSIONS
FOR FREEDMEN
OF THE
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
TO THE General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church
FROM MARCH 31st, 1916 TO APRIL 1st, 1917

The Board of Missions for Freedmen presents to the General Assembly its Fifty-second Annual Report.

We are again thankful to be able to say that we have once more, and for the seventeenth time in annual succession, closed our fiscal year with enough funds on hand to meet all our outstanding financial obligations, and still have something left over, with which to begin meeting the new obligations that come with the coming year. More than this: We have received from all sources a larger amount than we have ever before received in any one year, and for this, also, we give God thanks.

During the past year the annual contributions from churches amounted to $91,903.14, as compared with $89,309.31 the year before, making a difference in the right direction of $2,595.83. The contributions from Sunday schools direct and through the Women's Department amounted to $10,701.92, a falling off of $1,211.35. The Young People's Societies gave us direct and through the Women's Department $11,120.46, an increase of $311.60. The Women's Societies gave us direct and through the Women's Department $80,895.77, an increase of $4,898.17. We received interest on invested funds amounting to $28,830.61, an increase of $3,242.03. From legacies we received $34,763, being $8,361.85 more than was reported last year. From miscellaneous sources we received $159,287.69, an increase of $136,587.28.

The number of churches that helped us in any one way, either by congregational collections or through Sunday schools or Young People's Societies or through the Woman's Board (counting each church only once, whether it gave in only one or in all of these ways), was 6,506, an increase of 272, still leaving 3,447 churches that gave us nothing whatever.

The number of Sunday schools that contributed to the Board direct was 609. The number that gave through the Woman's Board 279, making a total this year of 888, a decrease of 181.

The number of Young People's Societies contributing direct to the Board was 43, and the number that gave through the Woman's Board was 1,355, making a total of 1,398, a gain of 58.

The number of Women's Societies contributing to our work through the Woman's Board, or direct, was 4,196, an increase of 174.

The following is a tabulated comparative statement of receipts from all sources for this year and last:

RECEIPTS

	1915-1916	1916-1917
Churches .....	$ 89,309.31	$ 91,903.14	Increase	$ 2,593.83
Young People .....	10,808.86	11,120.46	Increase	311.60
Sunday Schools .....	11,913.27	10,701.92	Decrease	1,211.35
Women's Societies .....	75,997.60	80,895.77	Increase	4,898.17
Miscellaneous .....	22,700.41	159,287.69	Increase	136,587.28
Int. on Inv. Funds .....	25,401.69	28,830.61	Increase	3,428.92
Legacies .....	26,401.69	34,763.54	Increase	8,361.85
	$262,719.72	$417,503.13	Increase	$154,783.41

The amount given to the church work by the people on the field, including church building, repairs, contingent expenses and ministerial support, as reported to us by our ministers in their annual reports to the Board, was this year $91,144.83.

The amount given on the field to our school work by patrons and friends, as reported to us by our teachers, was $91,646.69

In addition to this the churches under our care, not including those that are self-supporting, gave through their annual collections $1,054.25 to the Freedmen's Board, and to the other Boards and agencies of our Church $2,333.63.

Adding the amounts raised for church and school purposes to the amount given by these churches for the benevolent agencies of the Church we have a sum total passing through the hands of our ministers, elders and teachers, directly or indirectly for their own good in their own communities, and for the good of others, in our own land and in other lands, amounting to $186,179.40.

Considering the conditions prevailing during all this past year, the high cost of living, the scarcity of labor, the lowness of wages throughout that part of the country where so many of them live; and also the large exodus North in search of better wages and work, it seems almost incredible that so large an amount should be given for the purposes as above mentioned. It is an indication that they take to heart the words of the Master, that life is more than meat and the body more than raiment, and that true religion and Christian education are worth paying for.

It will be noticed that the amount the Board received this year is exceptionally large and that most of this increase is from miscellaneous sources. The increase amounted to $136,582.25.

Of this amount one individual, to be known as "A Friend to The Negro," quietly turned over to the Board valuable securities in the form of mortgages, amounting to $100,000, none of them yielding less than six per cent. The gift was in the form of an annuity, accompanied with the condition that five per cent should be paid the donor through life and that afterwards interest on the fund should be used in meeting the annual running expenses of one of our large boarding schools.

Besides this there was an additional increase of $36,000 from miscellaneous sources.

This large amount, of course, did not help in meeting running expenses, but it could be and is set down as a valuable asset to the work, as it will eventually take the financial burden of one of our large and flourishing schools off our hands. It also, along with other miscellaneous receipts, indicates that we are not losing friends, as this work goes on, but are gaining them, and, by first gaining their confidence, are gaining their interest and their co-operation. Our Permanent General Scholarship Fund was increased $5,000 by a generous gift of this amount from Miss Eleanor G. Park, of this city.

It way not be amiss or appear unseemly to call to mind the fact that although this Board, either as a Committee on Freedmen, or as the Board of Missions for Freedmen, has been making reports and rendering accounts to the General Assembly now for fifty-two years. Not one of these reports has ever failed to meet with the approval and hearty commendation of the Assembly. We thank God for this and pray that we may ever continue to be faithful to the trust that is placed in us and so keep the friends we have and gain the confidence of others, who perhaps have not been our friends before.

We give below a condensed statement of the nature and extent of the work we have been able to maintain during the past year.

Last year we were compelled to report a most painful and shocking accident in connection with the burning of one of our large seminaries—Ingleside Seminary at Burkeville, Va., by which the President, Rev. G. C. Campbell, and one of the students lost their lives through the explosion of the acetyline plant.

The damage to the building was not as great as it might have been, but by the time everything had been put in order and all necessary repairs attended to the loss in money amounted to $1,250.00.

Mrs. Campbell, by temporary appointment of the Board, took charge of the school, assisted by one of her sons, and conducted it successfully to the end of the term. Rev. J. W. Dunbar, D. D., was selected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Campbell, the duties of the position, in the mind of the Board, seeming to require the presence and directing influence of a minister of the gospel. Dr. Dunbar accepted the position, and took charge of the work last July and has so far discharged the duties of his new position with credit to himself and entire satisfaction to the Board.

The Board, in the management of so many schools under its care, has a few rules that must be observed. These rules are fundamental and their observance obligatory. The teachers must be members of the Presbyterian Church. The Bible and the Catechism must be taught. The Principal may select his own teachers, subject to the rules of the Board. The principal must report to the Board regularly at the end of each month on a prepared form of report furnished by the Board, with such questions to be answered as will give the Board full information as to teachers and pupils. Further than this the principal is at liberty to make use of his own individuality in governing and planning according to his own ideas as to what is best for the school and the scholars. All of our schools, therefore, have a certain uniformity and at the same time may have a certain individuality, dependent upon the principal's ideas as to how a school should be run. In this way the responsibility of the success of the school rests squarely on the shoulders of the principal rather than on the shoulders of the Board.

In last year's report mention was also made of a new dormitory which Mrs. William McKelvy, daughter of Rev. Dr. Kumler, proposed to erect at Brainard Institute at Chester, S. C., in memory of her father, at a cost of $11,000 or more, as needed. The building, it was understood, was to be finished and furnished in a thoroughly first class way, and up-to-date in every respect. We have to report that the purpose of Mrs. McKelvy has been carried out to the very letter. In the process of building any new and extra charge that presented itself was immediately met. And in the question of furnishment the consideration of the cost came always after the question of the need. The building stands complete. It was finished on time and has been doing the good it was meant to do, and is expected to go on repeating this good and keeping in mind the memory of the good man whose name it bears for many years to come. The full cost of Kumler Hall was $11,000.

When last year's report was made in it was written "Harbison College at Irmo, S. C., is to have a new building, which is to furnish additional dormitory accommodations for the boys. The main building is to have extensive repairs. The heating plant is to be substantially enlarged." This whole improvement was to be financed by the Harbison estate and it was hoped that the work would be completed before the opening of the new term. Looking back we are pleased to report that the new dormitory was erected and finished and furnished and has been during the year occupied by the boys. Extensive repairs were made to the main building and a large heating and lighting plant provided so as to better take care of the new dormitory along with other buildings that may be added in the future from time to time. This whole important improvement was carried through by the estate, but at a cost of $33,783, which is about $5,000 more than the original estimate.

We cannot express too strongly our appreciation of the interest taken in and the help rendered from time to time in maintaining and improving this Institution by members of the Harbison family.

Last year we announced the burning of Redstone Academy at Lumberton, N. C., where Rev. J. H. Hayswood was doing a quiet but effectual work. General sympathy was expressed for him by the people of the town in which he lived and the Town Council sent the Board a copy of their action, recommending to the Board the re-erection of the building. The ladies of the Presbyterial of Redstone Presbytery, after which the school was named, were particularly interested in the school, and helped materially in rebuilding and furnishing the same, so that with the insurance collected and the help of the Redstone Presbyterial the Board was enabled with an additional grant, to give back to the principal of the school a larger and better building than he had before. The cost of rebuilding and furnishing was $2,632.31 and Mr. Hayswood has been occupying the building with his school during this past year.

At Anderson, S. C., we have maintained a church school for some years, but have felt that the locality in which the property was situated was unfavorable. Having a small farm on the edge of the town not bringing to us any income, we bargained with a real estate man to secure for the $2,500 of the farm price five acres in a desirable locality in Anderson and on this site erected a new school building at a cost of $5,449, including $2,100 of the farm money, in which also provision was made for the accommodation of the principal of the school and his family. The change in the location of the school, together with the new and better accommodations, has been a move in the right direction, and we hope and expect that the future will prove that the change was a wise one and will fully justify the extra expenditure.

The Woman's Missionary Societies in two of the churches of Chillicothe Presbytery each received a legacy from The Mary A Steele Estate,, the Society of the First church of Chillicothe and the Society of the church at South Bend. Both Societies wished to invest these legacies permanently in some part of our work with the legacy of the Society of the church of Chillicothe of $694. With the consent of the Society, the Board purchased the school property in colored church at that place had been maintaining a school for some years back, which he had been wanting our Board to take over, but was declined on account of the debt on the property. With this legacy the Board has come into possession of the property free of debt, and the school will from now on be one of the Board's schools and will be known as the Thos. Steele Memorial.

The Society of the South Bend church has agreed to our suggestion to build a school house in connection with our work at Johns Island, S. C., under the care of the minister in charge of these churches, whose wife has been teaching a school in the church nearest the center of the whole field. We will use this legacy of $754 which is already in our possession, in giving this school a home, in one of the most needy fields under our care. It will be the only church school upon the Island, where there are 2,000 colored people, many of whose children can neither read nor write. The building will be erected some time this summer and will be known as the Mary A. Steele Memorial School. building will be erected some time this summer and will be known as the Mary A. Steele Memorial School.

Besides these special expenditures the Board has made in the way of enlargement and expansion of the work there is a constant drain going on in connection with the buildings we own, in the way of repairs and other expenses connected with the holding of property.

An estimate of a total of one hundred of these calls for help last year, to which the Board replied affirmatively is found to amount to $11,678. Almost any one of these requests seems too small to mention, but there is hardly any way to avoid them as they are almost always in connection with property owned by the Board, and if these smaller wants are not met as they occur larger ones are sure to come in later.

What has so far been written may be taken as a fair summary of our last year's work. No account has been taken of the requests made last year that have been declined, or consideration of which has been postponed. As we cast our eyes along the line of the weeks and months of the coming year, we already know that we will have plenty to do if we attempt to grant one-half of the requests that will be pressed upon us. Some we know of already and others no doubt will come along later.

Rev. W. D. Feaster at Arkadelphia, Ark., has been asking for some time another dormitory, costing $6,000. Rev. W. H. Carroll at Valliant, Okla., needs a recitation room, costing $4,000. Rev. W. J. Nelson at Keeling, Tenn., wants a recitation room at a cost of $2,000, for which he has already secured the lot. Rev. J. A. Savage, D.D., of Albion Academy at Franklinton, N. C., has been calling for some time for another dormitory, $10,000. At Boggs Academy, Keysville, Ga., another dormitory is wanted, costing $5,000. At Biddle University, Charlotte, N. C., there is unquestioned need of another dormitory, costing $25,000. These are all requests. Others, no doubt, would be heard from if they had any hopes for a favorable answer. All this is encouraging in one way. It is a sign of life, a sign of growth, and it is a great pity that a live school with a live man at its head cannot grow as it would like to, and as it would do if it had the proper accommodations.

The call of Biddle University, on this list, is the loudest call if we measure it by the amount called for, $25,000.

Biddle University, at Charlotte, N. C., is at the head of our list of schools. It was started as a small school for boys and young men just fifty years ago. It grew from a school to a college and from a college to a university. It was meant from the beginning especially to help boys and young men into the gospel ministry.

When Biddle first opened during the first session there were forty-three in attendance and twenty of them were candidates for the ministry. It has since put 170 young men into the gospel ministry. There have been in its history 8,000 students enrolled, nine-tenths of them became professing Christians, mostly Presbyterians. The Bible is a text book in every department and the policy of the Institution is to lead every student, not only to a higher intellectual life, but first and always to lead them to a true knowledge of Jesus Christ—to know and live a Christian life.

Biddle University, in the suburbs of Charlotte, N. C., has about 60 acres of land, eleven buildings, eighteen professors and other teachers, all colored men. There are four main departments in the University: The Preparatory, the College, the Industrial and the Theological. Biddle University has a moderate endowment fund of about $70,000. It has the benefit, in part, of the "Wallace Fund" and the "Martin Fund," at the discretion of the Board. The estimated value of its land and buildings is $219,000.

The Assembly endorsed the plan to raise $150,000 endowment fund during this, the fiftieth year of its existence.

The graduates of the institution have already subscribed nearly $5,000. A friend of our work started the fund last year by promising the first $1,000.

Rev. L. B. Ellerson, D.D., one of the professors, has been traveling last year in the interest of this endowment. The response has not been encouraging. The calls for help for the suffering victims of the world war have had the right of way. We are, however, still in the field for the money and earnestly contend that here is a splendid chance for some one whom God has blessed with an abundance of this world's goods, to commit to our trust an annuity fund for Biddle University—the interest from which he can have and use during his life time, and when his life is over it will go on perpetually in his name, to the support of Biddle University—a monument to his memory more enduring than marble or brass.

A full report of the Woman's Department of our Board (which is the same as the Freedmen's Department of the Woman's Board) made to the Freedmen's Board by the General Secretary, Mrs. W. T. Larimer, and made also annually at the annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Home Missions, will appear as an appendix to the Report of our Board to the Assembly.

We ask that special attention be given to this Report, as it is a report of a department of our own work—a department indispensable to our success. The workers in this department, Mrs. W. T. Larimer, General Secretary, and Mrs. Roberta Barr, Field Representative, have again the credit, and again the gratitude of the Board for having once more turned into our treasury the magnificent sum of $100,000 and more.

If any of our workers on the field read this report we want them to know of the pleasure it gives us when we are able to respond favorably to their earnest and honest requests for aid. We also wish them to know of the deep regret we feel when compelled for reasons good to us to decline requests that seem reasonable to them. Every meeting of the Board that we hold is opened and closed with prayer. We seek always divine guidance and would not ever wish to act without it.

The term of service of the following members expires with this Assembly: Rev. S. J. Fisher, D. D., Mr. Robert S. Davis, Rev. Hugh T. Kerr, D. D., Willis A. Boothe, Esq., and Mr. Wilson A. Shaw. We ask that they be re-elected.

Respectfully submitted,

E. P. COWAN, Cor. Sec'y. and Treas.

JOHN M. GASTON, Associate Sec'y.

REV. S. J. FISHER, D. D., President.

Thirty-Third Annual Report
OF THE
WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT
OF
THE BOARD OF MISSIONS
FOR FREEDMEN
OF THE
IN THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The Woman's Department of the Board of Missions for Freedmen presents its Thirty-third Annual Report to the Woman's Board of Home Missions, to the women of the Presbyterian Church and to the Board of Missions for Freedmen.

"Summer's heat and winter's cold. The seasons pass, the years will roll," and our work of the year is finished and I bring you results, in so far as they can be given in a report.

With the opening of the year, the din of "war and rumors of wars" was in our ears. We might have been disheartened if we were not Christian workers. Some one has said, "Take the world by the handle of doubt and the way grows dark; take it as God's world and the sun and stars will be always shining." We know this is God's world and claimed the promise of His Son, "Lo, I am with you always," and the sun and stars of hope have shown all along the way.

Women's Societies .....	$ 80,686.43	Increase	$5,060.41
Young People's Societies .....	10,875.74	Increase	391.01
Sabbath Schools .....	4,251.44	Decrease	1,541.30
Ind. and Misc. ....	5,638.08	Decrease	3,043.81
Legacies .....	156.66	Decrease	1,183.08
	$101,608.35	Decrease	$ 316.86

The number of organizations contributing is as follows:

Number of Women's Societies.....	4,196	an increase of 174
Number of Sabbath Schools.....	279	a decrease of 207
Number of Y. P. Societies.....	1,355	an increase of 54

I wish you to notice the fine increase in gifts from Women's Societies.

Although we show such fine increase in Societies' gifts our total is $316.86 less than last year, as we had no large individual gifts as before.

Young People have increased, but a glance at the Annual Report of our Board will reveal how many organizations are not contributing to this work.

There was a loss to the Board of $1,211.35 in total gifts from the Sabbath schools—almost 8,000 not giving anything.

Young People, "We have a wonderful story to tell" to the Negro boys and girls of "Our America." Is it nothing to you that hundreds of these children can say, "I nebber had no Bible in my han?"

The total amount of offerings received by the Board was $417,503.13.

The colored people on the fields under care of our Board gave the following gifts:

For Church Work.....	$ 91,144.83
For School Work.....	91,646.69
To Freedmen's Board.....	1,054.25
To other Boards.....	2,333.63
	$186,179.40

Work on field under care of Board:

Ministers .....	270
Churches and Missions.....	446
Added on Examination.....	1,561
Added on Certificate.....	219
Whole number of Communicants.....	28,434
Sabbath Schools .....	409
Sabbath School Scholars.....	25,119
Number of Day Schools .....	141
Number of Teachers in Day Schools.....	490
Number of Pupils .....	18,680
Whole Number of Workers.....	662

Several Life Memberships have been sent in by Societies wishing to remember some faithful workers in this cause.

An earnest Freedmen Secretary for over twenty years was so honored by her Presbyterial Society. Freedmen have had April in "Home Mission Monthly" and women do not fail to read it. Notice the pictures, as this is a picture age. "Over Sea and Land" has a message for the children. Our thanks again to Woman's Board and editors of these magazines.

Box work has been so helpful and so many boys and girls could not have been in school if they had not been clad from the "North Room," as some of them call the place where the contents of boxes are kept. Christmas was sweeter to many, because of gifts from the bands and Sabbath schools. But how sad, for some did not get there until after Christmas—yet they had their good time later.

A busy year has been spent by secretaries in office and Synodical, Presbyterial and local meetings. Questions have been gladly answered concerning work. Literature has been sent in all directions. We may not have reached all we should, but have done the best we could with the mailing list we have.

Young People's Conferences have been visited by Miss Barr and Young People helped to a view of the work. Visits to schools in the South have been made to see progress of work and to encourage the teachers as well as pupils. A "Workers' Conference" was attended at West Point, Miss. Sessions were held in Mary Holmes Seminary and it was an earnest band of Colored Ministers discussing the best way to reach their people and help them to better living in church, school and home life.

NEW BUILDINGS

Kumler Hall at Brainerd, Chester, S. C., is finished, and is a delight to the 40 boys housed there. It is a constant wonder to them and they enjoy the Y. M. C. A. room best of all, they think.

The boys' dormitory is finished at Harbison College and in use by those who could not come, for there was "no room."

The boys at Alice Lee Elliott enjoy their building, built by "student labor." It shows what they can do in the line of building houses if they know how.

Redstone Academy, Lumberton, N. C., has been rebuilt and mostly furnished by the women of Redstone Presbytery, Pa.

They are happy at Ridgeway, S. C., over their new place for school.

Nice school house at Anderson, S. C., and a fence to keep it in.

BUILDING FUND

This fund has had to bear a greater strain for repairs than the street car "nickel," as shown in cartoons in some cities where they wished to raise the fare. It has stood it only by declining many requests that would gladly have been granted if possible. Several school buildings, victims of small fires, needed some repairing.

"Mary Potter," after long waiting, has seats and furnishings for their chapel from "Thank Offering" of Pittsburgh Presbytery, Pa. Paint was bought for Brainerd, Newton Institute, and Aberdeen, S. C., and they did the painting themselves. Plastering, yes, plastering in several places, for wind storms and elbows will bring it off as well as constant vibration from the tramp of many feet.

Furnaces needed repairing, as it was cold in the "Sunny South" this winter. Porches and steps and sills were worn out by the patter, patter of little feet.

Boggs Academy has not that much needed dormitory, but had to have some tools for the shop, and plow and harrow for the farm.

Albion Academy still waiting for the boys' dormitory. "Beautiful Barber" had to have hot water heater and reservoir fixed so they could be clean.

Blackboards, drinking fountains, roofing, fire extinguishers, desks, stoves, taxes on "School Farms," seeds, harness and owing to cold weather, broken water pipes must be mended at several schools. Fee Memorial, Camp Nelson, Ky., had new "Domestic Science Outfit," part of it from women of Kentucky, as well as mules for plowing the farm and other farming implements.

Many, many other little things have been done, too numerous to mention, to add comfort to the workers.

No terrible catastrophies have come to our workers this year for which we are truly thankful. But high cost of living, floods and frosts have made it hard. So much rain cut down the profits of many of the negro mothers, who wash to help send their children to school. Much of the money had to go to buy wood to dry the clothes and it was hard to buy food and clothing for the little ones.

We again had to say no for new teachers, who are so much needed after the country school closes (being only three months) for the children come to the Christian school for the rest of the term. No one can tell the influence of these few weeks, in our schools. Our schools have been over-crowded perhaps as never before, and hundreds have been turned away because of lack of room and of scholarships to help those who could not furnish the amount needed to come. Shall they have another chance?

We rejoice in having 18,680 pupils having a chance. We have had faithful teachers in our band of workers. They are exerting an influence that will live when their names are almost forgotten. Our two evangelists have had some precious seasons of prayer and revivals among the pupils of our schools.

The Bible has been taught regularly as the only foundation of education and lasting peace. Christian teaching and industrial training are linked together in our work.

Bible	} for our girls,	Preaching	} for our boys,
Bathtub		Praying
Broom		Plowing
Buttons		Planting
Baking		Painting

Are doing much to raise the standard of living among the negro people of the South. Our pupils take what they have learned back to their homes and help improve conditions there.

But, women and young people, there are so many sections but just touched by the gospel. What shall we do to help them the coming year? The exodus of the negro workers from South to North has brought the subject of their condition before us more vitally than in many years. The South is distressed at the loss of her laboring class, the North, equally perplexed how to adjust housing and health conditions, though needing their labor.

The only solution of both sides of the question is Christian teaching. That must come from our Christian schools. Our work, Christian women, is with the children and youth. What a blessed privilege to work for the little ones.

As we end one year and begin another of work, we are in the midst of trying times, but may we not be gentle, quiet and calm, as we know the One who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me," will guide us, and bring "Good out of evil?" So let us go steadily on in our work and make the coming year the best we have ever known.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. T. LARIMER,
General Secretary.

THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

With profound gratitude to the Giver of every good and perfect gift, the College Board is able to report to the General Assembly that the year just closed witnessed greater generosity on behalf of the Presbyterian colleges than ever before recorded in the history of the denomination.

In many other respects the year was full of encouragement for the cause of Christian education as represented by The College Board, but the outstanding feature of the year's work is the large amount received by and pledged to the colleges, thus assuring their more complete equipment and endowment and their greater efficiency as educational institutions.

Largest Gifts in any Year.

How large the gifts of the year actually were is best discovered by comparison. The year ending March 31, 1916, was one of the best on record, and a year ago The College Board had the pleasure of reporting that the receipts of the year by the Board and the colleges together for all purposes "are known to be not less than one and one-half million dollars." For the year just closed, however, without counting any of the receipts by the Board itself, reports from fifty-two of our colleges show that they actually received the sum of $2,755,527 for buildings, equipment and endowment and toward current expenses.

Comparative Statement.

As usual, the Board shows in "Schedule C" the total amount received by the colleges both directly and through the Board.

It must always be borne in mind that some colleges do not report to the Board the amounts which come to them directly and not through the Board. This is unfortunate, for their failure makes it impossible for the Board fully to comply with the direction of the General Assembly, which has ordered that the Board shall secure full information "that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause." Nevertheless, for purposes of comparison, this failure does not matter, for full reports come annually from practically the same sources. This "Schedule C" shows the total of gifts received both by the Board and the colleges (so far as the colleges report) and its "Grand Total" column shows all that was received for maintenance, scholarships, real estate, buildings, equipment and endowment. The following table showing these "grand totals" for several years indicates at a glance how liberal Presbyterians and other benevolent friends of Christian education were with our educational institutions during the year which closed March 31, 1917:

	Mar. 31, 1914.	Mar. 31, 1915.	Mar. 31, 1916.	Mar. 31, 1917.
Gifts for all purposes both through the Board and direct	$1,094,457	$1,237,300	$1,347,153	$3,054,211

The average amount received for all purposes for the preceding three years as shown by the reports was $1,226,303. The amount reported for this last year is $3,054,211, which indicates that the receipts last year exceeded the average by the gratifying sum of $1,827,908.

Pledges to Colleges.

The actual receipts do not tell the whole of the story, however, for a number of colleges have conducted successful financial campaigns which have resulted in promises of large sums, only a small part of which has been as yet paid in. Last year the Board was pleased to report that financial campaigns had resulted in subscriptions amounting to $1,500,000 for buildings and endowment, and that was considered a remarkable record; but for the year which has just closed, eighteen colleges report that they conducted financial campaigns, and to these eighteen colleges alone there was pledged the splendid sum of $2,450,000.

It is practically certain that the sums promised to other colleges which conducted no special campaigns would carry the total well beyond the mark of $3,000,000. Part of this large sum has been already paid in and is included in the total receipts of $3,054,211 reported in the preceding paragraph; but a considerable portion is not yet due and will be received by the colleges during the year on which we have just entered.

Aggressive Endeavor.

While credit for the magnificent financial results achieved belongs mainly to the big-heartedness of our Presbyterian constituency and to the wise and untiring efforts of college presidents, trustees and other leaders, The College Board has earnestly endeavored to prosecute its work with more aggressiveness than ever before. Following the desire of far-sighted college presidents and the direction of the General Assembly, the Board has spent more money than ever before on activities which could not be expected to bring large return directly to Board's treasury, but which, we are satisfied, have had much to do with cultivating an interest in the cause of Christian education and making it easier for college representatives to secure the munificent gifts of the year. While the Board has been handicapped somewhat by the confusion in the minds of many concerning the consolidation of this Board with the Board of Education, which confusion has doubtless had some effect upon the amount of church offerings received, the Board felt under obligation to keep the claims of the college cause still more actively before the Church and to make greater exertions than ever to secure funds for the work.

Church Offerings.

Apparently there was a loss of approximately $11,000 in the total amount of church offerings as compared with the preceding year, but it should be observed that, whereas the Board formerly included in this total considerable sums reported to the Board by colleges but not actually transmitted to the Board, the report for 1916-17 includes only $638.50 which was not actually received by the Board, for last November the Board directed that only those church offerings actually received into its treasury should be included in its "Schedule B". The amount of church offerings actually received by the Board in 1915-16 was $111,992.57. The similar amount for 1916-17 was $114,385.30. For the year upon which we have just entered, the Board has instructed its treasurer to include only church offerings which are actually received by the Board.

Field Representatives.

Besides the assistance given by the associate secretaries in financial-campaign work in the field, the Board has had throughout the year the services of three field representatives who have labored for and with the colleges in raising funds, and with college presidents in preparing the way for their visits and in introducing them to friends of the cause who generously assist in the upbuilding of our institutions. The Board has borne practically all of the cost of the assistance given by these representatives, paying their salaries and expenses, and practically all of the benefits have gone directly to the colleges. What appears, therefore, as an increase in the cost of the Board's work represents in reality extra gifts from the Board to the colleges which have benefited by this kind of coöperation though some of the proceeds of this effort has come into the treasury of the Board.

Increasing Interest.

The Board has continued its policy of publicity by means of leaflets, lectures, addresses, and articles and advertisements in the Church papers and also in the secular press. For three or four years the Board has been steadily increasing the amount of attention given to these methods of awakening new interest in the cause it is appointed to promote, and the fruits of this activity are beginning to appear. The correspondence of the Board has greatly increased and the requests for its printed matter and lectures and for material to aid in preparing sermons and addresses on Christian education are much more numerous than ever before. These facts indicate what we believe to be true—that the Church is beginning to see and to feel as it had not done for years the fundamental importance of the type of education which is represented by the Christian college.

Bible Chair Endowment.

In no one phase of the varied work of the Board has there been aroused a greater interest than in the effort to endow chairs of English Bible in all Presbyterian colleges, and the progress made has been notable. The facts based on reports up to January 1 have been reported through the Church press and they show that five colleges completed the endowment of Bible chairs during 1916 and that the amount expended for Bible teaching has practically doubled in two years. Since January 1, the endowment of two more chairs of English Bible has been assured and a third college has practically reached the goal.

As authorized by the last Assembly, the Board is calling upon Presbyterians to complete this special task this year, if possible, as a most suitable and most practical means of celebrating the four-hundredth anniversary of the Reformation, and each congregation is being asked to make a special offering for this purpose before October 31. Synods and Presbyteries have endorsed this movement with great cordiality, and the Board is confident that churches and individuals will respond liberally. It is hoped that the response will be sufficient to endow a chair in each college which maintains a standard course.

Of the $100,000 received from the John C. Martin estate as a trust fund for Bible teaching, the Board has set aside $50,000, the income of which goes permanently to colleges which have met the prescribed conditions. On the strength of the Board's grants from this fund, these colleges have raised $247,000, making a total of $297,000. The income on an additional $50,000 has been pledged to other colleges which are now engaged in meeting the conditions. When they have been successful the fund will have been the inspiration of securing a total of $572,000 for Bible-chair endowment.

New Activities.

The College Board has entered upon no distinctly new type of endeavor during the past year. Although believing that there are several directions in which the work ought to be expanded, the Board has not been unmindful of the Assembly's purpose and effort to place the responsibility for all educational work upon the new General Board of Education and has felt that, therefore, the inauguration of entirely new activities—such as a teachers' agency, closer visitation of colleges and expert direction of financial campaigns—might better be left until the new Board is fully organized and has assumed direction of the work. All such activities are desirable, but they cannot be carried to successful issue without the employment of additional workers, for the present force has more than it can do with efficiency in prosecuting the several types of effort which have been inaugurated within the past few years. Indeed, the Board has been unable to take full advantage of the great interest aroused in celebrating the Luther anniversary by endowing Bible chairs, because to do more in this one direction would mean the neglect of equally important service elsewhere. Throughout the year the Board has felt constrained to do the best it could without increasing its office force.

Evangelism in Colleges.

There are many indications that the increased attention given to the Bible departments of our colleges and the increase in the number of professors who give all or practically all of their time to Bible teaching and the pastoral oversight of students, together with the vocational and evangelistic services held under the auspices of the Board of Education and the Committee on Evangelism, are resulting in the strengthening of the Christian spirit and the extension of Christian activities in our institutions. Spiritual results cannot be calculated by any mathematical rule and a number of the colleges do not attempt to tabulate the results of special evangelistic efforts, but reports from about half of our institutions show nearly 300 confessions of faith and a considerable number of young people who have definitely decided to devote themselves to the ministry or to missionary work. One of the outstanding features of such reports, however, is the frequency of remarks, such as, "practically all of our students are Christians and church members." Such a fact is eloquent concerning the moral and spiritual atmosphere of our colleges. An unchristian or indifferent student cannot fail to be affected by association with a large group of students practically all of whom are professing Christians and a large per cent. of whom are engaged in definite Christian activities.

Coöperation or Leadership?

Since the organization of The College Board, the key-note of all its activities, which is the key-note of its constitution, is expressed in the word "Coöperation." The prevailing idea has always been that the establishment and maintenance of Church colleges are primarily functions of the Synods, exercised through local boards of trustees, and that the mission of The College Board was merely to coöperate with the trustees of such established institutions as are approved by the Church judicatories, aiding them in maintaining the institutions under their care.

No doubt coöperation should always be the policy of The College Board or its successor. Such a Board should not, in our judgment, establish and maintain institutions on its own initiative; but, especailly in view of the approaching consolidation, we venture to suggest to the General Assembly, out of our experience, that there are instances in which, if needed educational work is to be effectively done, the educational board of the Church should coöperate with a Synod by taking over the leadership of the educational work of such a Synod until it has been established on a strong and permanent basis.

There are several Synods of the Church which are very weak, within which are comparatively few men who have the training and opportunity to become acquainted with the educational needs and what the Church might and should do to supply those needs, and these few leaders are so widely scattered that it is impracticable for them to work effectively together, in view of the limited financial resources at their disposal. We have in mind one Synod where the need for Christian education is perhaps greater than elsewhere in the United States, but the men and the money necessary to carry forward a strong educational policy are not to be had. Because the future civilization of such a state depends largely upon the adequate and thoroughly Christian education of the youth of to-day, it is our opinion that The College Board or its successor should be authorized to arrange with such a Synod to take charge of its whole educational work for a period of years, employing a capable leader, providing sufficient funds and perfecting a suitable organization, for all of which the Board should be primarily responsible until such time as a strong institution has been developed. It is the judgment of your Board that there are instances in which the Church cannot discharge its full educational obligation to our country without pursuing such a policy.

A Centennial to be Observed.

The Board respectfully calls the attention of the Assembly to the fact that the year 1919 is the suitable time for the celebration of the centenary of organized Presbyterian effort in behalf of Christian education, the Board of Education having been organized in 1819, and that it seems most appropriate that such a celebration should be held in the city of Philadelphia. We suggest, therefore, that the Board of Education and the College Board be authorized to proceed jointly in making preparations for such a celebration.

Membership.

The term of office of the following members of the Board expires at this time:

Ministers.

Daniel Russell, D.D., New York.
J. G. K. McClure, D.D., LL.D.,
Chicago.
Peter McMillan, D.D., Dover, N. J.
T. A. Wigginton, D.D., Nashville, Tenn.

Laymen.

James H. Post, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Henry L. Smith, New York.
Thomas W. Synnott, Wenonah, N. J.
John H. MacCracken, Ph.D., LL.D.,
Easton, Pa.

At an informal conference with the new General Board of Education, officers of The College Board stated The College Board's willingness to do anything in its power in order that it might facilitate the work, offering, if the new Board desired, to nominate to the General Assembly some of the persons who are members of the new Board in order that they might have opportunity to become acquainted with the work, The College Board being restricted only by its constitution and by-laws which provide that its executive committee must consist of nine members who are residents in the city of New York or vicinity. As a result of said conference, the following persons are nominated to fill the places of those whose terms expire this year:

Ministers.

Daniel Russell, D.D., New York.
Charles Lee Reynolds, D.D., Newark, N. J.
William H. Hudnut, D.D., Youngstown, Ohio.
John A. MacIntosh, Ithaca, N. Y.

Laymen.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE COLLEGE BOARD.

Your committee on colleges respectfully reports as follows:

With due appreciation of the unusually successful year which has just closed in the College Board, and in the spirit of commendation for the churches, the colleges, and the officers of the Board, your committee takes great pleasure in submitting for the action of the General Assembly the following recommendations:

1. That the minutes of the Board which have been carefully examined and found in order be approved.

2. That the financial report of the Board, duly audited, be approved, and that the members of the Board be commended for the efficient and economical distribution of such a large amount of money.

3. That the Board and the colleges be congratulated upon the success of their effort to endow chairs of English Bible, and that the churches be called upon to coöperate in the endeavor to complete this task during the year. To this end, it is recommended that the Assembly call upon the churches again to make a special offering for the purpose of maintaining departments of English Bible, particularly in connection with whatever celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the Reformation may be observed.

4. In view of the fact that the church has contributed one and one-half million dollars more this year than any year previous, bringing the total contributions for colleges to $3,054,211, we congratulate the church for the splendid achievement and commend the colleges and the Board for their aggressive policies and persistent efforts; and to the end that the contributions of the church may continue to increase, we recommend that like publicity and extension activity be continued, and that in this year of great financial crisis the friends of the colleges be urged to remain loyal to this important work.

5. That the College Board coöperate with the Board of Education in celebrating during the year 1919 the centenary of the Board of Education which was organized in 1819.

6. That Education Week be observed during the month of February, setting apart Thursday, February 21, as the Day of Prayer for Colleges and the following Sabbath as Education Day. On this day, in those churches where the Budget Plan will permit, an offering for the benefit of Presbyterian colleges should be taken and sent undesignated to the treasurer of the College Board.

7. That the churches be urged to send to the College Board all congregational offerings, whether designated or undesignated, which have been made for the maintenance of Presbyterian colleges, so that a complete record of all the denominational gifts to this work may be made and each individual church may receive full credit on the books of the Board.

8. That the Board and colleges be advised to make every effort to continue regular college work during the present national crisis; and, because of the nation's need of trained leadership, that all ministers and parents be urged to encourage those students not called into special service by the Government to continue their studies to the completion of their college courses as recommended by the Federal authorities.

9. That the Assembly approve of the suggestion in the College Board's report to the effect that, in special cases, the College Board or its successor, the General Board of Education, should do more than coöperate with local trustees of colleges. When desired by a synod, the Board should assume a position of leadership in the educational development of regions where the church is not sufficiently strong to lead in such development.

10. That the College Board or its successor, the General Board of Education, be requested to inaugurate an expert finance department for the purpose of advising and assisting our colleges in systematizing their business methods and successfully completing financial campaigns.

11. That the College Board or its successor, the General Board of Education, be urged to create as soon as possible a Presbyterian Teachers' Appointment Bureau, which shall endeavor to assist Presbyterian colleges in obtaining suitable instructors and to aid persons qualified to be instructors in such colleges in securing positions for which their training fits them.

12. That, in view of the $600,000 which is offered to the endowment fund of the Decatur College and Industrial School of the James Millikin University on condition that an additional $400,000 be raised within a period of five years, we recognize the generous offer of the James Millikin estate and heartily commend the project to the liberality of the church, that the condition may be fulfilled before the time named expires.

13. That, in accordance with the suggestion made by the College Board and approved by the General Board of Education, the following persons be elected to membership in the College Board in place of those whose terms of office expire in 1917:

Ministers:—Daniel Russell, D.D., New York.

Charles Lee Reynolds, D.D., Newark, N. J.

Wm. H. Hudnut, D.D., Youngstown, Ohio.

John A. MacIntosh, Ithaca, N. Y.

Laymen:—W. Holmes Forsyth, Chicago, Ill.

Henry L. Smith, New York.

Thomas W. Synnott, Wenonah, N. J.

Sidney F. Andrews, St. Louis, Mo.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEORGE TAYLOR, JR., Chairman.

CONSTITUTION AND POLICY.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE BOARD

AS AMENDED IN 1909.

At its meeting held at Buffalo, New York, May, 1904, the General Assembly adopted a Constitution for this Board, which with subsequent amendments is as follows:

1. The name of this Board shall be THE COLLEGE BOARD OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, and the general work shall be such as is indicated by its title. It may aid academies in its discretion in the matter of current support, but shall not seek endowment for such institutions.

2. The Board shall consist of twenty-seven members, one-half of whom shall be and two-thirds of whom may be laymen. They shall be divided into three classes, one class to be elected each year by the General Assembly. The Board shall have power to fill vacancies.

3. The officers of the Board shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary and a Treasurer.

4. The headquarters of the Board shall be at New York and the Executive Committee of the Board shall be residents in New York or in the immediate vicinity.

5. The College Board shall be the agency of the Church for the following purposes:

(a) To secure and receive moneys and other property for the benefit of any needy college or university which is (1) organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or (2) required by its charter to have at least two-thirds of its Board of Control members of said Church, or (3) actually under Presbyterian approval at the time of receiving assistance.*

(b) To coöperate with such institutions as it is authorized to assist, so as to promote and maintain high educational standards, spiritual culture and thorough Bible teaching, to the end that persons contributing funds for such institutions may be assured that their students will be under positive Christian influences.

(c) To awaken interest, diffuse information, and stimulate prayer in behalf of the institutions which it is authorized to assist.

* "The words 'Presbyterian approval' mean that a synod or presbytery may send a committee of visitation to any college to learn the quality of the work done by it, and to report thereon; or it may receive a written or an oral report by the president or other appointed officer of the college on the quality of the work done, and express its approval or disapproval accordingly, and transmit its findings to this Board for the adjustment of its relations to said college."—Adopted by the General Assembly, 1911.

(d) To coöperate with the institutions which it is authorized to aid, and assist in securing endowments for them.

(e) To coöperate with local agencies in determining sites for such new institutions as it is authorized to assist, and in consolidating weak institutions.

(f) To decide for which of the institutions it is authorized to assist it will seek endowments, and to which of them it will make grants for current expenses.

(g) Secure an annual offering from the churches.

6. The Board shall call an Annual Conference of Presbyterian Colleges to advise the Board and to coöperate in securing the desired results.

7. The funds received by the Board shall be devoted either to the endowment or to the current expenses of colleges, and shall be secured:

(a) By special applications for endowment, under the approval and general direction of the Board.

(b) By annual offerings from the churches.

8. (a) Every college hereafter (1883) established, as a condition of receiving aid, shall be organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or by perpetual Charter provision shall have two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church.

(b) In case of colleges already established, and not included under the above provisions, appropriations for endowment shall be so made as to revert to the Board whenever these colleges shall pass from Presbyterian control.

(c) In all other respects the disbursement of funds by the Board shall be wholly discretionary with the Board, both as to amount and direction, subject always to the control of the General Assembly.

(d) The Board shall endeavor to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause.

9. It shall be the policy of the Board to limit the number of colleges in any region, so as to secure strong institutions rather than many weak ones, and in carrying out this policy colleges may be consolidated when deemed advisable by the Board. Colleges coming into existence without the approval of the Board, and colleges which refuse to consolidate when so directed by the Board may be denied aid from the Board.

THE POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The Policy of the Board is based on the Constitution framed for it by the Church through the General Assembly, and is summed up in one word—Coöperation.

The Board will coöperate (1) with givers, (2) with Presbyterian colleges, and (3) with both givers and colleges to secure coöperation between them.

1. COÖPERATION WITH GIVERS.

The Board will endeavor to awaken, inform and stimulate the Church in behalf of Presbyterian colleges.

It will offer the fullest and most reliable information, both about the college cause and the individual college, and regarding the relation of the Church to education and to its colleges.

It will in no way try to dominate givers and their gifts, but will seek only to ascertain and carry out the desires of givers.

It will seek to safeguard funds committed to it or secured with its coöperation, as givers may desire, or, when no desire is expressed, as the interests of the colleges and the Church require.

It will, when desired to do so, act as Trustee of funds committed to it, investing them with paramount consideration of safety; holding them permanently if the giver so directs, or, if the giver prefer, temporarily, until conditions prescribed by the giver are fully met, disbursing the income derived from them in accordance with the wish of the giver.

It is instructed by the Assembly to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its Treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums are given to this cause, and from what sources.

2. COÖPERATION WITH COLLEGES.

A Presbyterian college is a college which (1) Is organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, owned or controlled by an ecclesiastical corporation of the Church; or (2) By perpetual charter provision has two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church; or (3) Is affiliated by its history and associations with this Church and by the predominance of adherents of this Church in its foundations, Board of Control, Faculty and student body, and whose work is approved by it. The term "College" is commonly used herein as including universities.

The Board will seek neither to dominate colleges nor to carry them. It will coöperate with them.

Colleges not yet recognized in the Board's report, desiring approval and coöperation, are requested to send to the Board's office for blanks on which report of their ecclesiastical, educational and financial status may be submitted to the Board.

The Annual College Conference will be asked to act in an advisory capacity toward the Board in all matters in which an ecclesiastical corporation, administering trust funds, may properly accept information, opinions and advice from a body of experts in educational matters and college detail.

The Board will seek primarily to stimulate colleges to self-help, and their home fields to the utmost limit of support and endowment because a college, to have a hopeful future, must ordinarily be strongly based in the affection, prayer and giving of its vicinage.

To coöperate in securing endowment for the colleges is an important function of the Board and to that it will give much attention. Coöperation with colleges which have little or no endowment, in securing aid for current expenses until their endowments are reasonably adequate, is a necessary missionary function, and for this cause the Board solicits and expects annual collections from all our churches.

Applications.

The Board will consider applications for annual aid toward current expenses of such colleges only as are organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. or as are required by their charters to have at least two-thirds of their Boards of Control members of said Church, provided they have less than $300,000 of productive endowment. The General Assembly's instructions in 1914 on the classes of colleges entitled to aid, and on the uses of church contributions, are as follows:

"The College Board is instructed to call the attention of the colleges, the churches and of Presbyteries and Synods to Section 8 (a) of the Constitution of the Board which declares that 'every college hereafter (1883) established, as a condition of receiving aid, shall be organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., or by perpetual charter provision shall have two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church,' also to Section 2 of the Policy of the Board (first paragraph, under 'Applications'), and that the Board and the churches be instructed to confine the distribution of church collections to the two classes of colleges mentioned in these paragraphs, colleges in class three not being entitled to aid from this source.

"The General Assembly hereby reminds the Synods and Presbyteries and The College Board that the offerings of the congregations for College Board work are missionary offerings and that these gifts should be used for current expenses of Presbyterian colleges in those sections of the country where our colleges have not sufficient resources to attain the end in view without outside help.

"The further equipment and endowment of colleges already well equipped and endowed should depend mainly upon the gifts of individuals, and congregational offerings should be used to assist those institutions which cannot do standard work without such assistance. The Assembly therefore counsels the Synods and Presbyteries not to direct that the offerings of their congregations be used for building, equipment, endowment or the establishment of special funds, but to urge that all congregational offerings be sent to The College Board to be used for the current expenses of such institutions as cannot carry forward standard college work without the aid of the Church at large.

"It is the judgment of the Assembly that a college should not seek aid for maintenance from this Congregational Fund after the college has a productive endowment of $300,000, and that the Board and Synods are not justified in directing the use of congregational offerings for the current expenses of institutions with so large an endowment, unless it can be done without neglecting the pressing needs of struggling institutions, or unless it is to assist in extra and unusual expenses incident to some special effort like an endowment campaign; and The College Board should be the judge concerning when special needs justify the diversion of congregational offerings from the missionary purpose for which they are primarily designed."

Manner of Making Application.

Application is to be made by the Trustees of the College, in formal meeting, filling out a blank which the Secretary will furnish on request and will send to aided institutions April 1. Applications must be in the Secretary's hands by May 1. If the Trustees cannot meet in time for this, their Executive Committee should send an application as nearly as possible like that which the Trustees will probably adopt; and the formal application, adopted by the Trustees, should reach the Secretary as soon as possible. Applications made for the first time should be accompanied by the fullest information regarding the history and prospects of the institution.

Board Action on Applications.

The Annual Board Meeting for voting on applications is held on the first Tuesday in June. Institutions withholding applications beyond the date of the meeting, and giving no satisfactory explanation of the delay, will be regarded as expecting no aid from the Board for the ensuing year. Applications not on file for the Board at its June meeting cannot be acted on until the next meeting, in November, and then only if unexpected funds for that purpose have come into its possession.

The Board will vote at the Annual Meeting appropriations to the amount covering its expected available resources from church collections for the current Church year.

Synod's Action on Applications.

Applications for aid for current expenses must have the Synod's formal approval of the college endorsed thereon; applications of academies, similarly the approval of their Presbyteries. The endorsement of Synod or Presbytery is not the endorsement of the amount asked for, but the endorsement of the institution as worthy to receive aid for current expense from the Board, in such amount as the Board may be able to grant. Yet, as there is often no meeting of Synod or Presbytery held between the making of the application by the Trustees and the June Board meeting, unendorsed applications will be tentatively voted on at the June meeting; but exact duplicate applications, bearing the endorsement of the Synod or Presbytery at the fall meeting, must be sent to the Board before any appropriation will be confirmed.

Payment of Appropriations.

Payment of one-half of the appropriation for the year will ordinarily be made in December, and the second-half payment will be made as soon as possible after the close of the Church year.

Church collections sent to the Board designated for a given college will be paid to that college, but will be deducted from the appropriation voted by the Board, except where definite arrangements have been made by the Board with the college to receive such designated amounts.

Any solicitation of church collections by a college without a distinct prearrangement with the Board must necessarily decrease the Board's ability to pay in full the appropriations it has voted. The amount thus diverted from the Board's treasury will be deducted from the appropriations pro rata.

Conditions of Payment of Appropriations.

When the conditions governing an appropriation are not met before December 15th of the year in which the appropriation was voted by the Board, the appropriation shall lapse. The Treasurer is authorized to pay appropriations only on condition that a college shall have sent to the Board by September 15th a satisfactory Information Report on the blank furnished by the Board, of the preceding college year; and shall satisfy the Board in the following particulars:

(1) That it requires all regular students to take systematic Bible study as a part of the curriculum required for graduation in accordance with the agreement between The College Board and the Annual College Conference held on May 16, 1906; 144 hours are the minimum for required Bible study in the college course, 36 hours are to be given each year;

(2) That it has on its staff only such officers and teachers as exert a positive Christian influence over the students;

(3) That its financial administration is conservative and safe;

(4) That it has used every reasonable effort to secure funds from its vicinage, within agreed Presbyterian or Synodical lines;

(5) That it carries adequate insurance on its buildings and their valuable contents;

(6) That no mortgage is placed upon the property without previous consent in writing by the Board; and

(7) That such securities as the General Assembly requires are given to the Board for the appropriation or grant when paid.

The Board will coöperate most heartily with colleges—

1. That are evidently needed, conditions of population and location of other educational institutions being considered;

2. That have local interest, opportunity for growth and promise of permanence;

3. That do educational work of high grade;

4. That seek to form Christian character, influencing students toward Bible study, saving faith, right living and consecration to service; and

5. That are prudently and conservatively financed, in estimating probable income, in preparing budgets of expenses, and in the investment of permanent funds. Colleges may never properly, under any conditions, use endowment or special funds, even temporarily, for current expenses or deficit. Such a course is regarded as a misuse of trust funds.

Academies.

1. The Board does not see its way clear to approve the establishing of any new academies in the northern section of the country, where the High School development is already marked.

2. The Board will consider applications regarding academies in the southern section as on a different basis, emphasizing, however, its feeling that such institutions will in most cases be temporary in their character.

3. The Board does not see its way clear to encourage a general appeal for endowment for academies, but will coöperate in any local movement so far as may be in its power.

4. The Board finds that changed educational conditions render impossible the effective maintenance of academies with the resources at the command of the Board. The Board adopts, therefore, the policy of withdrawing from academic work, except where academies are connected with Presbyterian colleges.

5. This statement has reference solely to academies independent of colleges, the Board continuing its hearty approval and its offers of assistance for academic departments of colleges.

3. COÖPERATION WITH COLLEGES AND GIVERS TO SECURE COÖPERATION BETWEEN THEM.

The Board will endeavor, in coöperation with colleges, to make known to givers the nature and needs of Presbyterian educational institutions.

It will endeavor, in coöperation with colleges, to secure gifts:

(1) The Assembly expects every church to make an offering for The College Board.

Colleges approved and recommended for aid on current expenses, may solicit and receive The College Board offerings of the churches in their home regions only when a distinct arrangement to that effect has been made with the college by the Board.

As the Board must depend entirely on church offerings for funds to pay appropriations voted for the current expenses of colleges, it is expected that stronger colleges—while seeking individual gifts and, on occasion, additional special offerings from the churches—will not attempt to secure the regular College Board offerings for themselves.

(2) The Board will expect much from individual givers.

The Board requests that colleges planning to solicit funds outside of their home fields will first consult with the Board, that the interests of all coöperating parties may be conserved; otherwise it will be understood that such colleges will not ask or expect any special coöperation from the Board.

(3) The Board will seek for its own Treasury:

(a) Gifts and legacies for use in accordance with the expressed wishes of donors, or, if such wishes are not expressed, for use in the discretion of the Board;

(b) The Board will seek for a Retiring Fund of $500,000 as a minimum, the income of which shall be paid for retiring allowances for teachers who have served our colleges with great ability and loyalty for many years, at low salaries, and who have come to an age when they can no longer render active service.

(4) The Board will seek for colleges:

(a) Gifts and legacies for permanent endowment.

(b) Such gifts from individuals for current expenses as will help the college, beyond the appropriation the Board makes, to meet its annual deficit while the college is securing endowment.

(c) The Board will always seek first, in coöperation with a college, to develop the interest and gifts of its home field both for endowment and for temporary aid in Scholarships, Chairs, maintenance, and in emergencies, and afterward in other fields, as may seem wise and practicable.

(5) The Board will expect from Colleges:

(a) Monthly reports of gifts received from churches, church societies, individuals, legacies, and all other sources, according to the instructions:

"The Board shall endeavor to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause."

The Treasurer of the Board will send to all Presbyterian universities, colleges, academies and schools of which the Board may have knowledge, blanks on which all such gifts shall be reported.

(b) Gifts reported by approved colleges and academies, on the special blanks prepared for their use by the Board, will be treated as receipts of the Board. Treasurers of such institutions are Deputy Treasurers of the Board, authorized to handle and account for College Board gifts secured in coöperation with the Board and sent by the giver directly to the college. Church offerings so reported will appear on the books of the Board and in its Annual Report.

The Board will report in its Annual Report to the Assembly, all gifts passing through its treasury and also all gifts received directly by the colleges when reported to the Board as above.

THE COLLEGES CLASSIFIED.

The colleges with which The College Board is authorized to coöperate have been classified with reference to a "Presbyterian Standard" adopted by the official Conference of College Presidents with The College Board and approved by the General Assembly. The Standard and the place of the colleges as classified under this Standard are as follows:

The Standard.

A college of the first class must meet the following requirements:

1. It must have six professors, giving full time to college or university work, and offer a course of four full years in the liberal arts and sciences, and must require for admission not less than the usual four years of academic or high school preparation or its equivalent, in addition to the pre-academic or grammar school studies.
2. Its heads of departments must have the baccalaureate degree and the M.A. degree or, in lieu of the M.A. degree, conspicuous teaching ability.
3. It must have $200,000 of productive funds, or an income for maintenance of not less than $15,000 per annum.
4. It must have a library of not less than 5,000 volumes.
5. It must have a laboratory equipment sufficient for at least two years' work each in physics, chemistry, botany, and zoölogy, according to modern methods of instruction in these subjects.
6. It must have one hour a week at least of Biblical instruction in all the liberal arts classes.
7. It must have only such professors and teachers as are of positive Christian character and influence.

In Grateful Appreciation

To all loyal and generous Presbyterians who have made possible the splendid financial gains shown by Presbyterian colleges,

To all of the far-visioned and devoted friends of Christian education who, without regard to denominational lines, have co-operated in making provision for a trained Christian citizenship,

On its own behalf and on behalf of the more than sixty Presbyterian educational institutions which produce the kind of men and women upon whom depend the national welfare and the extension of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ,

The College Board most gratefully expresses the appreciation of the Church whose servants the Board and the colleges are, and sincerely affirms its conviction that money cannot be more wisely used than in promoting the fundamental cause of Christian education.

120 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, April 25, 1917.

MR. GATES D. FAHNESTOCK,

Chairman, Auditing Committee, The College Board, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

SIR:—

We have examined the accounts of the Treasurer of the Board for the year ending March 31, 1917, and have verified the Balance Sheet published herewith, which, in our opinion, presents the correct financial condition of the Board at March 31, 1917.

We found on file proper vouchers for expenditures, and the income from investments and the contributions shown on Schedule B have been duly accounted for.

The cash and securities on hand have been verified either by actual count, or evidence of deposit.

Respectfully submitted,

PATTERSON, TEELE & DENNIS,
Accountants and Auditors.

Your flag and my flag, and oh, how much it holds—
Your land and my land, secure within its folds!

Your heart and my heart beat quicker at the sight:
Sun kissed and wind tossed, red and blue and white.

The one flag, the great flag, the flag for me and you—
Glorified all else beside, the red, white and blue!

The Thirty-sixth Annual Report

In the Corcoran Art Gallery in our National Capital there is a marble called "The Last Days of Napoleon." He is represented with the map of Europe spread upon his knees dreaming of an empire including all of western Europe. His vision of personal power was defeated by the ideal of nationality which had grown among the nations to larger proportion than he knew.

The American War for independence was but the ideal of freedom coming to maturity. The abolition of chattel slavery in America and other lands was the result of ideals earnestly cherished and diligently promulgated. Foreign Missions, the Salvation Army, the Young Men's Christian Association, popular education, popular government and the Reformation, are expressions of cherished ideals.

The evident growth of the spread of democracy throughout the world, but especially in Russia, is the fruition of noble ideals. The inspiring growth of prohibition sentiment and legislation are the flowering of seeds long since sown and diligently cultivated by a few at first and more recently by larger numbers.

PROHIBITION PROGRESS DURING THE YEAR

On November 7th, 1916, Michigan, Montana, Nebraska and South Dakota adopted constitutional prohibition. Since that time by act of their legislatures, Indiana and Utah have banished the liquor traffic. The Territory of Alaska by a vote of three to two, expressed itself in favor of prohibition, which expression was later ratified by Congress. Congress enacted a prohibitory law for the District of Columbia, to become effective November 1st, 1917; and a prohibitory law for the Island of Porto Rico, which may be ratified or rejected by the people within a period of five years.

The appropriation for the Fifteenth Session of the International Congress Against Alcoholism, was increased from $50,000.00 to $60,000.00.

Laws were likewise enacted by Congress prohibiting the use of the U. S. mails from carrying liquor advertisements into prohibition states or the sending of papers which carried such advertisements into those states.

The prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution, while favorably reported by the Judiciary Committees of both Houses of Congress, was not acted upon at the session ending March 4th, 1917, but has been re-introduced by Senator Sheppard in a much strengthened form in the extraordinary session convened April 2nd last.

Whether the international situation will expedite the submission of this law by Congress as a military necessity, is not known as this report is being written, but it is not impossible that speedy action may be taken.

DECISIONS OF THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

On January 8th, 1917, the U. S. Supreme Court held the Webb-Kenyon law to be constitutional. The effect of this decision is to prevent the shipment of liquor under interstate commerce into any prohibition state. In other words, it gives to each state full police power to bar the liquor traffic at its border, and thus corrects the gross injustice which these states so long suffered, and removes one of the four reasons why prohibition has not hitherto had a fair chance to demonstrate its full benefits. The other three obstacles are the receiving of revenue from this traffic, the issuance of federal tax receipts and the illogical practice of many municipalities, counties and states of electing liquor men to administer prohibition laws.

It should be reiterated again and again that the liquor traffic is an absolutely improper source of revenue and that no government can indefinitely live from the vices of its people. The wisdom and duty of citizens nominating and electing men to office who have the inclination, ability and courage to do what the people want done, is too manifest to require discussion.

EXPERIENCE APPROVES PROHIBITION

Sentiment in the prohibition states has grown in an amazing manner. In 1915 the legislature of Arkansas passed a statutory prohibition bill which went into effect on January 1st, 1916. The liquor people called an election to vote on the measure on November 7th and they were defeated by an overwhelming vote.

In 1912 Colorado defeated a prohibition amendment by 39,000 majority. In 1914 a similar amendment was carried by 11,000 majority. The law went into effect on January 1st, 1916. At the November election the cities were given an opportunity to repeal the law if it did not suit them. The majority for the dry measure was 82,000. The city of Denver voted wet in 1912 by 23,000 majority, in 1914 it voted wet again by 8,000, but at the 1916 election it voted dry by 11,000.

November 1914 Arizona carried a constitutional amendment by a majority of 3,000. The law went into effect on January 1st, 1915. A year and ten months later the people had an opportunity to repeal prohibition if they considered it a failure. But instead they cast a majority of 11,000 in favor of the dry regime.

Oregon voted dry in 1914 by 39,000 majority. The law went into effect on January 1st, 1916. In November of the same year they had an opportunity to repeal their action, but they indorsed prohibition by 54,000 majority.

Washington voted prohibition in 1914 by 18,000 votes. The law went into effect January 1st, 1916. After ten months of prohibition the liquor people presented two wet measures to be voted upon, the Brewers Bill and the Hotel Bill, the former being beaten by 142,000 votes and the latter by 215,000 votes. Seattle, that voted wet in 1914 by 18,000 majority, last year reversed its vote and gave nearly 20,000 majority for prohibition.

ECONOMIC PHASE OF THE QUESTION

The success of the prohibition movement is due in part to the fact that business men are awakening to the fact that the saloon is a liability rather than an asset to the business interests of the country. Men who have felt that prohibition would hurt business are being made conscious that prohibition really helps the business interests of the country. Business men from some of the leading cities of the west who worked against prohibition for business reasons have sent out signed statements to the effect that prohibition has helped their cities materially. Instead of suffering from the loss of revenue, they are in better condition because of this increase in revenue from other sources and the decrease in crime and prison cost. The men who employ labor are demanding sober men in order to secure efficiency, and in order to get sober men they favor the abolition of the saloon. The business interests are coming more and more to the front in the conflicts with drink evil.

FEDERATING THE FORCES

A gratifying development of the past year has been the increased co-operation and unification of temperance forces. The success of the state prohibition federations in West Virginia, Arizona, Colorado, Michigan, Nebraska, Indiana and other states, has inspired Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Missouri, California, Florida, Wyoming and other states contemplating campaigns to take similar action. The first steps have also been taken in the formation of a federation of national organizations to handle questions of national concern. In each and all of these movements the Board of Temperance has had an active part.

THE EDUCATIONAL PROPAGANDA OF THE BOARD

The Board is seeking to meet the great need of the church with a program of temperance instruction that will fit our young people to take their place as leaders of this nation along temperance lines. It continues its gift of $25 in gold to the successful contestant in all of our colleges and theological seminaries for the best oration decided by oratorical contest. These orations must be upon some phase of the temperance question. These contests are a means not only of stimulating young people to investigate, but to bring the subject before the whole student body. We are seeking to have our leadership for the next generation started right on this question.

POSTER CONTESTS

This year we instituted the poster contest among the young people of the whole Church. There were about fifty posters submitted, and many of them are of real merit and will be used by the Board for the enlarging of our poster supply. We plan to renew the contest for next year and to enlist more of our young people in striking at the traffic in this way.

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE DAY

World's Temperance Day is coming more and more to be observed by the Sunday-schools and Churches of our country. Again as for many years our Board prepared a program for the Sunday-schools and a quarter of a million of them were used. Since the final solution of the liquor problem is a question of education, the Board plans to continue to give the Church the most instructive helps to further temperance education and issues tracts, posters, pledge cards and other literature to meet the demands of the church.

CONFERENCE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The first of the year the Board invited all of its secretaries to Pittsburgh for a ten day conference to consider the work before the Church. It was the first time we have had the men together for a conference, and it proved of mutual service. The questions of organization, education, campaigns were considered from the standpoint of the field as well as the office. The Board got the point of view of the field force, while the field force grasped the problems of the office and each set to work to sympathetically co-operate to bring about the best results.

DRIVE THROUGH NEW YORK AND OHIO

The conference at Pittsburgh was followed by a six weeks drive through New York with all the representatives. Several hundred churches were reached, and the enthusiastic message from the victorious west, where many of the men have been laboring, called forth a hearty response from the pastors and people in New York. Then the representatives before returning to their fields of service spent two weeks in Ohio.

WORK YET TO BE DONE

While the achievements of the last few years have filled the hearts of good people with joy, we must not blind ourselves to the fact that there is yet much land to be possessed. There has been a slight decrease in the per capita consumption of liquor from 19.81 to 19.40. The fact that last year the expenditures for strong drink in the United States amounted to $2,243,082,826.00, or $88 per capita for our people, shows a condition of affairs which requires prayer, labor, sacrifice and determination on the part of all temperance people.

The receipts from the liquor traffic, according to the Internal Revenue Report for the year 1916, were $247,453,543.00, leaving a deficit of $1,995,629,283.00. In these days of the high cost of living it seems almost incredible that a nation reputed to be as anxious to make money as Americans are said to be, should expend more than twice as much on an evil as the gross cost of administering the federal government. In the eight years between 1909-1916 the expenditures for strong drink in the United States exceeded the revenue from that source by $16,445,036,926.00—a sum vastly larger than the human mind can comprehend.

LIQUOR PROPAGANDA

Attention is called to the propaganda being conducted by the brewers and liquor dealers associations throughout the country to stem the tide of the prohibition sentiment. They are printing and distributing literature by the millions and carrying large advertisements in the daily press. The propaganda is supported by a war chest to which the distiller, brewer and saloon-keeper subscribe, and from a tax exacted of all the industries that do business with them. Stamps representing 1% of all the goods sold to the members of these associations are given in pay for the goods and this 1% is set aside for "educational purposes." It is by such methods that they are never lacking for money when they have a campaign. In view of what they are exacting to promote their business the Church cannot afford to be indifferent to its educational program to counteract it.

A NOTABLE CONVENTION .

The bi-ennial Convention of the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association, held in Lexington, Ky., December 28th to 31st inclusive, was a significant gathering. About 700 students from 30 states, representing 116 colleges, were present. Fully nine-tenths of the delegates were men. The fact that so many schools of college grade, including some of our largest universities, should be represented in such a gathering, is, of itself important.

This organization frankly desires and asks for state and national prohibition of the liquor traffic, and in the near future many of these young people will be in positions of commanding influence where their desires and requests will be heeded.

THE FIELD FORCE

The entire field force of a year ago has been retained, with the exception of Miss Marie C. Brehm, who after ten years of service with the Board asked for leave of absence without salary to enable her to rest and do literary work which active service prevented. In granting her request the Board expressed to this daughter of the Church its high appreciation of her valuable and unselfish labor and presented her with a medal as a token of appreciation of her service not only to the Board and the Church, but to the reform throughout the nation and the world.

Rev. Dr. Wadsworth continues as the representative of the Board on the Pacific coast; Dr. Westenberg in the Northwest; Rev. John Steele and Dr. Miller in the Central West; Mr. Woodfin in the Southwest; Mr. Reinke in the East.

Rev. W. J. Johnson, D.D., has been selected as an additional representative of the Board, with headquarters in Chicago. Dr. Johnson has for seven years been connected with the Boards of Ministerial Relief and Sustentation, and comes to us with high commendation and the good wishes of Rev. Dr. Foulkes, Secretary of that Board.

OUR TREASURY

The Treasurer's report showing all details of the financial receipts and disbursements of the year is elsewhere given. That there has been a material increase in contributions both from churches and individuals during the past year, is gratifying not only as a testimony of increasing confidence and appreciation of what the Board is doing, but mainly because it enables the Board to increase the scope and variety of its activities during the coming year. As usual, loans had to be made for current expenses, and some anxiety was experienced as the close of the year approached as to the financial outcome, but the response of the Church more than justified the risk which the Board had taken in incurring obligations, and leaves the Board with a working balance.

This must not be interpreted as an indication that more money is received than is needed, nor that the Board has been timid in reaching out. Already plans are matured for doing a more aggressive and extensive work than ever before, as indicated previously in this report.

Our Treasurer, Mr. J. R. Park, resigned during the year to accept a more lucrative position, and carried with him the respect and good wishes of all concerned. The Safe Deposit & Trust Co., one of the strong financial institutions of Pittsburgh, has been secured to act as Treasurer. This arrangement was made not because of any dissatisfaction with the former plan, but in the interest of economy, while at the same time continuing the highest guarantee of efficiency and responsibility.

· FROM LABOR TO REWARD

During the year Rev. Dr. John F. Hill, who had served this Board as Corresponding Secretary for twenty-eight years lacking two months, was called from labor to reward. His devotion to the cause, his acquaintance with the subject, his insight into sophistries and subterfuges of the liquor traffic, his gentleness, kindness, sincerity, scholarship, perseverance and spirit of sacrifice will long be remembered and appreciated by those who knew him. The Church and the cause are debtors to this modest, unselfish man who had the rare faculty of being able to maintain his position without sacrificing the confidence or affection of those who opposed him.

Elder A. A. Hersperger, who had been a member of this Board for about ten years, a part of which time he was Recording Secretary, was suddenly stricken with pneumonia, and in a few days passed into the presence of Him whose he was and whom he served. The Board records its appreciation of his service, its gratitude for his interest in the noble work, and a prayer for his family.

The terms of the following members expire with this Assembly:

Rev. Thos. Watters, D.D.,

Rev. David R. Breed, D.D.,

Rev. George R. Taylor, Jr., Ph.D.,

Elder R. V. Johnson,

Elder Wilson A. Shaw.

Mr. Shaw requests that he be excused from further service owing to pressure of many duties.

The Board recommends that Rev. W. R. Craig of the Presbytery of Butler, be elected to fill the unexpired term of Rev. Dr. Hill, and that Elders Hallock C. Sherrard, Esq. and James H. Gray be elected to fill the places of Mr. Shaw and Mr. Hersperger.

With a deep sense of gratitude to Almighty God for his favor upon the reform, and a prayer for His continued guidance and help, this report is submitted to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

CHARLES SCANLON, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE

---

The hour for temperance has struck. This Assembly will go down in history as the "Great Temperance Assembly;" for we have come to the place where we emphasize greatly the fact that the church is called upon to save conditions in which character growth is possible as well as to save character itself. So much has already been said during this Assembly on this subject that almost anything which your Committee might say would be but an echo, and a faint one. So we wisely refrain from comment and offer our report in the form of the following Resolution:

1. That the minutes of the Board of Temperance be found in order and the treasurer's report correct as certified by a public accountant.

2. That the church use in a more extended way the literature of this Board of Temperance, which literature receives the merited and freely given praise of the people not only of our own denomination but of other organizations interested in the work.

3. That The Assembly expresses its utmost confidence in the judgment of the Board and its agencies, and also its enthusiastic endorsement of their splendid work.

4. That the Board's larger plans for the future be commended and heartily endorsed.

5. That the Assembly expresses its deep devotion to the memory of Dr. John F. Hill, who for 28 years was the Corresponding Secretary of the Temperance Board; and elder A. A. Hersperger, who for 10 years was a member of the Board, both having died during the past year.

6. That the following be elected members of the Board of Temperance: Rev. Thos. Watters, D.D., Rev. David R. Breed, D.D.; Rev. Geo. Taylor, Jr., D.D.; Elder R. V. Johnson; Elder Hallock C. Sherrard; Elder Jas. H. Gray; for the terms of 1917-1920.

7. That we disapprove the use of tobacco, and that we authorize our General Board of Education to refuse aid to any student who uses it in any form.

8. That we denounce the use of intoxicating beverages, and that we authorize our General Board of Education to refuse aid to any student using them.

9. That we once more affirm that the use of the unfermented juice of the fruit of the vine serves the purpose of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

10. That overtures 449-450 have been answered in the report of the Special Committee on the "State of the Nation."

11. That the traffic in intoxicating liquors is more than an economic question to be dealt with adversely as a matter of expediency; that it is most emphatically a relentless foe to morality and Christianity, and as such must be persistently and relentlessly fought by the church until righteousness hath exalted a nation not economy.

12. That the Great Presbyterian Church extends its most hearty greetings to all those organizations and movements which have similar hopes and prayers with reference to the suppression of the liquor traffic.

FLOYD POE, Chairman.

OF THE

Permanent Committee on Evangelism.

Your Committee presents its Sixteenth Annual Report to the General Assembly with thanksgiving to God for the encouraging developments which have taken place during the year in the evangelistic life and work of the Church. But the Committee feels most strongly that with our thanksgiving there should also go up to God a prayer of confession and petition; confession of the spiritual neglect and failure which have limited the Lord's harvest in many fields, and petition for faith and courage in the solemn year upon which we have entered—a year of new, and strange, and possibly of terrible experience; a year which will teach us that the words we have used at other times, when we have spoken of service and sacrifice, of a yielded will and a surrendered life, may have a deeper meaning than some of us have as yet discovered.

This Report has been prepared after giving careful consideration to all available information concerning the evangelistic activities of the Church. This information has come to us from various sources, i.e., the direct correspondence between the Committee's office and the churches, the recorded activities of other agencies of the General Assembly bearing upon the work of evangelism, the reports of Synods and Presbyteries, the conferences with evangelistic leaders in many sections of the Church, the discussions in evangelistic institutes and conferences conducted by the Committee, the experiences and observations of the secretary in the field, and the published accounts of evangelistic campaigns, in many centres, in which our churches have coöperated.

The study of this material has left the following impressions upon the mind of the Committee:

(1) Our churches everywhere are becoming dissatisfied with formal routine programmes, which have in them no large spiritual expectation, no aggressive evangelistic plan, no challenge to their members for consecration and service, and no call to the unconverted to yield themselves to Christ.

(2) The tendency to divide our churches into groups, as being either in favor of, or opposed to, the work of evangelism, is disappearing. We hear less of "evangelistic churches" and of "social service churches" than formerly, because the whole Church is coming to see that unless sinful men and women are led to repentance and faith in Jesus Christ, and are by Him joined to the living Church, there can be no service rendered by the Church which will satisfy God or be of value to society; while, on the other hand, the evangelism which does not lead men into loving and unselfish service, for society, is both unscriptural and dangerous.

(3) There has been an encouraging spirit of coöperation between pastors and people in the evangelistic work of individual churches, brought about by the adoption of aggressive evangelistic church programmes, through which large numbers in the congregations have been enlisted for personal spiritual service.

(4) There is developing among the Presbyteries a new consciousness of their responsibility for the spiritual life and progress of all the churches, both small and great; they are giving a larger place than formerly to the work of evangelism, and are strengthening their committees on evangelism by adding to their membership men of vision and action.

(5) The evangelistic work which the Church, for many years, has carried on through pastoral exchange is becoming more efficient, because many Presbyteries have replaced the haphazard and isolated plans of individual churches with well-conceived Presbyterian plans, by which all the churches are called upon to press their evangelistic work. Competent evangelistic speakers are secured for each church, the congregations are united in support of the preaching services, an adequate publicity campaign is carried on, and the people are encouraged to pray and labor for immediate definite harvests.

The Committee rejoices in these developments within the life of the churches, because they are full of promise for the future. These are the things which the Committee has diligently sought to bring about through its correspondence, its evangelistic institutes and conferences, and the field work of its representatives; yet the Committee realizes that it has been but one of many agencies which, by their coöperation, have brought about these results. For example, there has been the strong spiritual tone of the literature of the Boards and the thousands of public addresses and appeals by their secretaries and representatives from the home and foreign fields. There has also been the widespread propaganda of the Committee for the Every-member Plan which has not only enlisted great companies of church members for financial service, but has led them also into a larger measure of spiritual service. There has been a spiritual awakening in the lives of many of our pastors, and the discovery, by them, of heretofore unsuspected evangelistic gifts in themselves and among their people. And, finally, there has been the constant incentive and encouragement which has come to the churches, in recent years, from the glowing accounts of the conversion of hundreds of men and women in great evangelistic services. The story of this work of God's Spirit has been carried from church to church, through the personal correspondence between thousands of revived and happy Christians and their friends and through the published accounts which have appeared in the Church papers and in the daily press.

The Committee would not be true to itself nor to the churches if it did not state that there are yet many fields which are comparatively barren and fruitless; there are churches which seemingly have but little faith in the Gospel as the power of God unto salvation. The reports which these churches have made to their Presbyteries and to the General Assembly from year to year make sorry reading in the records of our Church's life and work. Your Committee believes that this Assembly should challenge every such church to enter the whitened harvest fields in a new spirit of consecration to the Lord of the harvest.

I. COMMITTEE MEETINGS, OFFICE AND CORRESPONDENCE.—The chairman desires to express his personal gratitude for the close fellowship and cordial coöperation of the members of the Committee in the furtherance of the work committed to us by the General Assembly. Our general meetings and the Executive Committee meetings have had a practically full attendance, and the development of the Committee's work has been a matter of vital interest to every member. Prayer is an important factor in every meeting of the Committee; it precedes and follows all our discussions, and every effort made to develop the evangelistic work of our Church.

During the past year, as in former years, the office of the Committee has been a busy centre of correspondence and a bureau of helpful information to pastors and Presbyterial leaders, and not infrequently a source of inspiration to the evangelistic leaders of other denominations, many of whom continue to look to our Church for suggestion concerning their evangelistic work.

II. INSTITUTES AND CONFERENCES.—The Committee held three institutes during the year; one prior to the meeting of the General Assembly, in Atlantic City; one in the city of Cincinnati, to which we invited the chairman and members of the evangelistic committees of the Presbyteries in the Synods of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana. The third institute was held in the city of Rochester, and to this gathering we invited the chairman and members of the evangelistic committees of the Presbyteries in the Synods of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Baltimore. The Committee desires, during the coming year, to plan its institute work with special reference to the western field.

In addition to these institutes the Committee has conducted thirty-two evangelistic conferences. In the past four years the attendance at the various institutes and conferences conducted by the Committee has reached a total of slightly over 11,000 ministers and elders. This, of course, does not include the attendance at conferences which the Committee has helped to set up, in Presbyteries and Synods, but which have been conducted by their own committees. Last year, according to the information we have, 118 such conferences were held. The reports of the conferences of the spring meetings of Presbyteries are not at hand at the writing of this Report.

As the Committee has stated to the General Assembly, in previous reports, these institutes and conferences are not general gatherings of men carelessly brought together, but are attended by men who have been chosen because they represent, for the most part, the evangelistic work of their Presbyteries. The addresses, papers, and discussions presented at the institutes are designed to encourage and inspire these leaders, and also to train them for the efficient performance of the tasks which the Presbyteries have placed upon them. All through the Church these men are taking new places of leadership in their particular fields as resourceful evangelistic pastors, and in their Presbyteries and Synods as leaders of whole groups of churches in better plans of coöperative action. It is interesting to note that in the past many of these men have been comparatively unknown even to their own Presbyterian brethren and had made no contribution to the Church-at-large until after they had caught the vision of the possibilities of a great soul-winning pastorate through contact with some of the faithful and efficient men whom the Assembly's Committee has paced on its programme as institute teachers.

The secretary reports that on the way to one of these institutes he met one who train the pastor of a church in a thriving town. This pastor confided to the secretary that he had reached the limit in his field and must soon seek a new field; but after hearing one of the institute addresses he came to the secretary and said: "I want you to forget what I told you on the train. I have found myself here to-day. God helping me, I am going back to my field and I am going to stay there until something happens." There was a real revival in that church last winter, and there is a happy pastor in that field to-day, who is rejoicing in a new vision and a new fellowship with God and his people. Your Committee knows of nothing which it can do which will yield more certain and satisfactory spiritual returns than to multiply these meetings of inspiration and instruction for our ministers and elders.

As has already been indicated in this Report, there is apparent an increasing Presbyterian efficiency in the conduct of evangelistic work, so that the number of churches which have been furnished with evangelistic assistance, through the coöperation of the Presbyteries, has increased from the 1,000-mark, reported last year, to more than 1,400 this year. If the full reports of the spring meeting of Presbyteries could have been received in time for this Report, we are quite sure that we would have the record of a much larger number than this. These 1,400 churches have been supplied with evangelistic help for a period of two weeks in each church—a total of 2,800 weeks of evangelistic preaching and appeal. Who can measure the influence of this work and of the prayers and personal effort which accompanied it?

In the winter of 1916 your Committee carried through a demonstration of Presbyterian evangelism in the Presbytery of Geneva with such happy results to the churches that the report of it came to the attention of the Presbytery of Rochester. This Presbytery invited the Assembly's Committee to prepare a plan for evangelistic work, adaptable to the fifty-one city and rural churches in that important field. Such a plan was prepared and presented at the June meeting of the Presbytery. During the summer committees were appointed to make the necessary preparation. In the early autumn an evangelist was placed in the field for work in the rural churches. Soon afterwards a series of conferences was held, designed to reach the lay members of every church in the Presbytery, a plan of visitation was carried out and the coöperation of the church sessions was secured. In January a second evangelist was added to the force, and in February and March the churches in the principal towns and in the city of Rochester gave themselves to a whole-hearted evangelistic campaign under the leadership of evangelistic pastors from other Presbyteries, who had been selected and enlisted for this service by the Assembly's Committee.

It is the verdict of the Presbytery of Rochester that this evangelistic campaign has made the word "evangelism" a fragrant word throughout the entire Presbytery. In the language of the pastor of one of the great churches in that Presbytery: "This plan, by which a Presbytery develops and directs the evangelistic work of every church in its bounds and leads every church up to a place of gracious, spiritual refreshing, is a most practical and workable plan and should be applied to every strong, self-supporting Presbytery in the Church."

III. COLLEGE EVANGELISM.—The world is to-day looking to its young people as never before. They must fight its battles; they must rebuild its civilization. Europe's universities emptied themselves into its armies, carrying certain definite influences into camp and battlefield. The students who are left and remain at the conclusion of peace will have larger potential influence on the coming day than any similar body of men has yet had.

Our own young men have been called to the colors. Their Christian character will be put to new tests. The importance of bringing the Evangel of Jesus Christ, in winning and compelling power, to our young people in their formative years, is emphasized as it has not been in this generation. The college period has always been a critical one. The student who enters college has left behind the restrictions of home and of the public opinion he has heretofore known. New associations are quickly formed. He finds himself amidst large numbers of his own age. The moral standards of large groups tend to be lower than those of the individual. Life and action, in the mass, have perils of their own. Besides, all that he has accepted traditionally, including religious truth, is now to be examined and assimilated.

In the molding of his new opinions the faculty will be largely influential. For all these reasons the Church has founded and fostered the Christian college. Its professors, however, usually overworked, themselves often confess the need of spiritual refreshment.

In order to reinforce the influences already at work in the Christian college, to make the spiritual real, to deepen the Christian life of the institution, to secure the commitment of students to Jesus Christ, and to help make the college the most favorable place possible for the development and conservation of high Christian character, the plan of College Visitation was years ago inaugurated by your Committee. Since it was put in operation, the Church has been annually refreshed by the reports of gracious revivals in our colleges. The reports of the campaigns held in our various institutions this year testify with singular emphasis to the increased effectiveness of this programme.

No pains have been spared to secure most thorough preparation for the services held in the various institutions. The student Christian associations were urged to follow a definite programme of preparation submitted to them. In one institution, where a fruitful campaign was held late in February, the students had held, in anticipation of it, daily prayer meetings since the winter holidays. In some institutions the faculty were also urged to meet for special prayer.

Between three and four thousand letters were sent to the homes of students, requesting the prayers of parents for a blessing upon the efforts that were to be made in the colleges attended by their children. Information was furnished in advance to the visiting leader that he might know, as definitely as possible, the situation in the college he was to visit. The secretary of the College Visitation Committee visited about one-fourth of the institutions in January and early in February, immediately before the meetings were held. His testimony agrees with that of other observers, that the world upheaval has produced a peculiar thoughtfulness among students and has encouraged a new spiritual receptivity.

The reports indicate that 330 students were led to make public confession of their faith and, what is equally significant, that many hundreds more receded themselves to Christ. Many of these, on their own confession, had been merely nominal Christians, and declared that in these meetings they had received an entirely new conception of the Christian life.

One college president says that the leader who came to them "was used in a wonderful way, and the finest spirit that I have ever seen around the college is here as a result of his service. The last day I excused from classes all students who desired to meet him personally. From breakfast until late that night there was a line of students waiting before his door for their turn. It was, indeed, one of the finest and deepest experiences in the college that I have ever witnessed."

Another president says: "The Board of Trustees, or those members living in touch with the college, expressed themselves as gratified beyond measure with the work of the visitor. It was the best week, some of them said, in spiritual power, that the college ever experienced from the College Visitation programme. I must express myself as profoundly moved to pay tribute to the Presbyterian Church for developing such a scheme of helpfulness for its colleges. It is a great plan, and I am deeply grateful for its blessings."

A minister says: "This is the seventh college meeting which I have been permitted to hold, and I can say, without reservation, that I consider it the most satisfactory." In this case there were 71 students who professed conversion; every one in the College Department being a professing Christian at the close of the campaign.

In a fine preparatory school for boys, when the annual evangelistic meetings began three years ago under the leadership of the visitor, who was continued now for his fourth year, there were 75 boys who were not professing Christians. Two years ago there were 50; one year ago, 25. This year, at the close of the meetings, there were only 8 who had not taken a stand for Jesus Christ. This leader said: "I thank God for the chance to get at these boys again. It was hard work, but I came away rested. It was meat and drink."

One visitor says: "I want to commend you and your Committee for the thorough-going effectiveness with which this work is prepared for and carried through. It has put religion in the place it should occupy in our colleges and I know of no more worth-while work the church is doing."

The moderator of the Synod of Saskatchewan, who has a son in one of our institutions, writes to our Committee: "Permit me to congratulate your Committee. They are doing a great, grand work for our youth."

In speaking of the new work that has been started in another college, a student says: "The boys have circulated a petition, which was signed by a good number, then read and adopted by the student body, which made it imperative that swearing and smoking and other impurities be done away with, as a point of honor."

A professor of still another college writes: "I am writing to you at this time to tell you what splendid meetings we have here during Visitation Week. I, for one, have made a resolve that I shall try to do more distinctively religious work for and among the students of the college. The help that came from the calm, strong, appealing messages of the leader has been an inspiration to us all."

Months after the meetings, the Y. M. C. A. student-president, in one college which has been famous for its religious life, said: "The student body was stirred as never before, and seemingly are holding to the spirit of the meetings remarkably well. We were indeed richly blessed."

When it is remembered that among the college students, thus converted and revived, are to be found the evangelistic men of the future, the very heart of the Church's mission in the world adds itself to the intrinsic value of the student, to urge the continuance of this programme of College Evangelism with all possible effectiveness.

IV. WORLD-WIDE WORK.—The sub-Committee on Coöperation with other denominations, through its Chairman, the Rev. William H. Roberts, D.D., reports as follows:

The Committee on Coöperation with Other Churches draws attention to the fact that the first movement for Inter-Church Work in Evangelism was initiated by the Committee on Evangelistic Work of this General Assembly during the second year of its operations—1902-1903. The coöperation then initiated has been continued, in one form or another, up to the present time. One form of this coöperation has been through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which has to-day a constituency of 29 Christian denominations, 103,622 ministers, 129,083 churches, and 17,996,435 communicants. For four years the Commission on Evangelism of the Council has conducted systematic and far-reaching work, with a view to stimulate, in an effective manner, the evangelistic spirit in all our churches.

At the third quadrennial session of the Federal Council, held in St. Louis, Mo., December 6-11, 1916, resolutions were adopted by the Council:

(1) Requesting the secretaries of the various denominational committees to make a mutual exchange of all literature published by their respective committees, and all resolutions pertaining to evangelism as passed by their respective ecclesiastical bodies.

(2) Asking the National Denominational Committees on Evangelism to report to the Commission some definite method of financing their own work; and also to make some contribution towards the work of the Commission.

(3) Urging the National Committees to secure the organization of Co-operative Evangelistic Committees in the various Districts, Conferences, Presbyteries, Synods, etc., with a view to furthering the work both of their own denomination and the federating of forces and resources of all the Churches for concerted evangelistic effort.

(4) Authorizing the Commission on Evangelism, through its own Executive Committee, to promote a nation-wide movement of evangelistic endeavor in cooperation with the various denominational committees.

(5) Instructing the Executive Committee of the Commission to hold conferences with the several denominational committees, to aid in standardizing the evangelistic work of the denominations and to develop concerted action in connection with the proposed nation-wide movement.

Since the meeting of the Council the membership and official force of the Commission has been changed. The newly appointed chairman of the Commission on Evangelism, for the coming term of four years, is Rev. Chas. L. Goodell, D.D., of New York City, and the secretary is Rev. William E. Biederwolf, D.D. The work of Dr. Biederwolf during the past four years has been very effective. Under his leadership 25 of the Christian denominations in the Federal Council have come into fellowship with the Evangelistic Commission.

It is recognized by your sub-Committee on Coöperation with the Churches that every form of thoughtful and real evangelism, pastoral, individual, and vocational, must be encouraged, and effort along these lines must be multiplied. The evangelistic spirit has been deepened among the Churches by the solemnizing influence of the great world war not only in Europe, but in North America. The consciousness of God and His judgments in the earth and of man's need for reconciliation with God has become very strong. It is sincerely to be hoped that the General Assembly, through its Permanent Committee on Evangelism, will be able not only to influence our own churches, but that in coöperation with other denominations it shall help to stimulate the religious forces of the nation to much greater activity that men everywhere may be brought to realize that God is, and is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him, and that Jesus Christ is the one only and all-sufficient Saviour.

V. FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.—The Executive Commission has recommended to the General Assembly that the Committee's budget for the ensuing year shall be $20,000. This amount was authorized last year but the Committee did not reach the goal. We were encouraged, however, by the progress made towards it as shown by the increased amount contributed by the churches and by individuals over that of the previous year. The Committee really needs the full amount of $20,000, in order to accomplish the work which is so greatly needed, and hopes by means of the continued coöperation of the members of the Committee, and increased offerings from the churches, to secure the full amount.

The Treasurer's report, as presented to you for the year ending April 3, 1917, is very satisfactory.

First, the contributions by the churches have increased 10 per cent., and by individuals 20 per cent., showing the growing interest in this work of our Committee, and their confidence in the sane and effective methods used.

Second, the balance on hand of $4,570.60, while $1,200 ahead of last year's balance will be needed to carry us through until November next, as we receive almost nothing in the way of contributions between April 1, and November 1.

Your Committee believes we should be very conservative in our expenditures until we see how far the present conditions in the country will interfere with our receipts, and thus not imperil our present line of work and plans.

V. RECOMMENDATIONS.—Inasmuch as the programme which the Committee desires to follow during the present year is to a large extent a continuation of the programme approved by the last General Assembly, the recommendations offered herewith are the same as those approved by the last Assembly, with minor changes in the wording and with the addition of Resolution No. 9.

Resolved, 1. That as the term of office of the following members of the Committee expires with this Assembly, i.e., Rev. Eben B. Cobb, D.D., Rev. John R. Davies, D.D., Rev. Stephen S. Estey, D.D., Mr. E. H. Smith, Mr. J. H. Jefferis and Mr. Ralph W. Harbison, the Moderator be authorized to appoint six members, three ministers and three elders, for the ensuing term of three years.

Resolved, 2. That the Assembly instructs the Permanent Committee on Evangelism:

(1) To coöperate, as far as practicable, with all the agencies of the Church in a common effort to permeate the whole life and work of the Church with the true evangelistic spirit.

(2) To maintain the Committee's policy, approved by former Assemblies, of coöperation with Presbyteries and Synods in building up and strengthening the organization and work of their Committees on Evangelism.

(3) Through these responsible Committees of the Courts of the Church and by direct appeal to the churches, to present the emphatic summons of this Assembly to a deeper consecration and a more persistent effort to bring the unsaved to Christ.

(4) To provide, during the year, for a series of evangelistic institutes in important sections of the Church, for the inspiration and instruction of Presbyterial, Synodical and local evangelistic leaders.

(5) To furnish, through the office of the Committee, assistance to pastors and churches in their evangelistic work, by securing and disseminating trustworthy information concerning approved evangelistic methods and effective evangelistic leaders.

(6) To continue the direction of evangelistic work in Presbyterian colleges, and to share in the expense of this work, as heretofore, in coöperation with the Board of Education, through the Joint Committee on College Visitation.

(7) To coöperate with the Evangelistic Commission of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and to call upon Presbyterian evangelistic committees to seek federation with evangelistic committees of other ecclesiastical bodies in their territory, to the end that the Churches may develop a more thorough and systematic direction and control of evangelistic work.

Resolved, 3. That the Assembly rejoices in the fact that so large a proportion of our churches have supplemented their stated work and worship with special evangelistic services in the course of the year, and in view of the fact that such services have been generally followed by large increases in membership, the Assembly recommends that all the churches shall set apart certain seasons for such work.

Resolved, 4. That the Assembly urges Presbyteries and Synods to establish and strengthen the Committees appointed to supervise their work of evangelism, and to make an appropriation for the necessary expenses of these Committees, in order that they may be able effectively to assist all the pastors and churches in their fields.

Resolved, 5. (a) That the Assembly notes with satisfaction the increasing measure of financial support given by the churches to the Permanent Committee on Evangelism, as indicated by the report of its treasurer, and, in view of the demands which will be made upon the Committee during the coming year, recommends that the churches generally place the Committee on their benevolent lists, in accordance with the recommendations of the Executive Commission. (b) That the Trustees of the General Assembly be and hereby are authorized to receive and hold for the Permanent Committee on Evangelism such sums as may be given or bequeathed to it for the purposes of the Committee, and to pay the income therefrom to the Permanent Committee on Evangelism from year to year.

Resolved, 6. That the Assembly recognizes the fact that during the past year God has placed the seal of approval on the work of many faithful evangelists, and hereby expresses its gratitude for the effective service which they have rendered to so many of our churches.

Resolved, 7. That the Committee be authorized to appoint a sub-Committee on Coöperation with other Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, and that the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D., for so many years the Committee's honored secretary, be appointed representative-at-large for the Committee.

Resolved, 8. That the Moderator and the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be ex-officio members of the Committee, and that the Committee be authorized to appoint special representatives to coöperate with it in its work throughout the Church.

Resolved, 9. That the Committee recognizes the special responsibility for aggressive evangelism now resting upon our churches because of the war situation. Various suggestions regarding work in the concentration camps have been brought to its attention. Consideration of the different lines of activity proposed has convinced the Committee that it can best promote religious work among soldiers and sailors through coöperation with the regularly appointed chaplains and with the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association whose work at the front at home and abroad has been so signally blest. We therefore recommend that our churches in this time of exceptional opportunity be urged to enlarge their contributions to the Assembly's Committee in order that it may more effectively coöperate in the work for our soldiers and sailors.

On behalf of the Committee,

Annual Report
of the Permanent Committee on Vacancy and Supply
of
The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America
to the General Assembly, Dallas, Texas
Nineteen hundred and seventeen

Office of the Committee
Commercial Building, Columbus, Ohio

The Permanent Committee on Vacancy and Supply presents its Annual Report after a year of strenuous activity. The business of the Committee has steadily grown and at times has severely taxed the limited equipment of the central office. During the year additional presbyteries have adopted the Vacancy and Supply Plan and the Permanent Committee has devoted much time and attention to the development and perfecting of the administration of the Plan by presbyterial committees. This, in itself, is a very large task necessitating as it does keeping in touch with fully two hundred different committees. Naturally this involves a very extended correspondence.

Throughout the year a large number of ministers registered with the office of the Assembly's Committee as desiring new fields of labor. These were furnished with information as to vacancies and rendered such other assistance as is possible within the boundaries of our work as these have been established by the General Assembly. A large percentage of the men thus registered secured locations during the year. However, additional ministers were constantly registering with the Committee and at the close of the year our active list of men desiring new fields contained about 600 names. In this respect conditions are no worse than for many years; indeed, there are distinct signs of improvement. The seemingly wide-spread desire for a change of fields is now more noticeable because a great deal of the correspondence naturally centers in a single office.

The Aim of the Assembly's Committee

From the beginning of its work this Committee has had as its primary aim to bring about in every section of our Church a revival and re-establishment of definite presbyterial supervision of all vacant fields. In this direction lies the hope and the only hope under our Form of Government, of effectively dealing with the problem of vacancy and supply. There is little indication that the Presbyterian Church or any considerable part of it is prepared to exchange the historic principles of our Government for any species of Episcopacy; and on the other hand, experience has demonstrated that a solution for the vacancy and supply problem cannot be found by adopting the loose and irresponsible practices of Independency. Indeed, it is quite evident to this Committee that the steadily intensifying character of the vacancy and supply problem within our bounds, particularly during the last half century, has in large measure been due to the careless drift towards Congregationalism. The undesirable conditions which as a Church we have confronted in recent years in relation to this problem are directly traceable to the failure of a large number of the presbyteries to properly function, in observance of the express provision of our Form of Government, that "Every Presbytery shall arrange for the supply of the vacant pulpits within its bounds either by direct action at a meeting or through a committee."

The Vacancy and Supply Plan

In the effort to go to the real center of the difficulty the Permanent Committee was under the necessity of proposing different methods of procedure. The preparation of the Vacancy and Supply Plan which by the last three General Assemblies was recommended to all of the presbyteries for consideration and adoption, represents an intelligent and honest effort to stimulate every presbytery to adopt a definite code of rules providing for the supervision, proper regulation and intelligent assistance of all churches during the perilous period of vacancy. The Plan aims in a practical way to reach the real points of difficulty. The presbytery itself is too large and too miscellaneous in its make-up to directly handle this work and therefore provision is made for a committee of three carefully selected members to represent the Presbytery in the performance of this difficult and somewhat delicate task, this committee in turn, being required to report to the presbytery "at each regular meeting of the presbytery and at such other times as presbytery may determine."

Under the Vacancy and Supply Plan the presbyterial committee is (1) to nominate all moderators for the sessions of the vacant fields, the purpose being that men will thus be selected who will actually render service in this important capacity; (2) to appoint all supplies for the pulpits of vacant churches, this, in the judgment of the Permanent Committee being absolutely necessary to any effective program for dealing with this problem; (3) to see that only one man at a time is definitely considered by the vacant church as a possibility for the office of pastor, the intention being to definitely outlaw the wide-spread and iniquitous practice of miscellaneous candidating in the sense of putting before the congregation of the vacant church a procession of men who willingly or unwillingly must contest for a call to the vacant pulpit; (4) furthermore, the presbyterial committee is to promptly and faithfully perform all of its duties in a thoroughly impartial manner and in frank consultation with the session of the vacant church whose representatives are always privileged to present definite suggestions or requests to the committee regarding any matters related to the vacant pulpit and these suggestions or requests are to be given first consideration by the committee.

Tested by Experience

Does any one doubt that the uniform observance of these principles by all of the presbyteries would bring order out of confusion and increasingly advance the highest interests of the work of our Church as a whole? Fortunately, we have now reached the point where it is no longer necessary to theorize. Since the Vacancy and Supply Plan was first submitted in the spring of 1914 fully 200 different presbyteries have voted to adopt it, each of these thus making it, in effect, the Standing Rules of the presbytery relating to the handling of vacant fields. A pathetic feature of the situation, however, is found in the fact that certain presbyteries voted to adopt the Plan and committed its operation to committees, which committees did practically nothing either in the direction of educating the churches or working the Plan. Under such conditions success could not be expected. No presbytery need deceive itself by the imagination or assumption that the mere adoption of the Vacancy and Supply Plan will in itself accomplish the desired results. This Plan when adopted by a presbytery must be persistently worked by an intelligent and faithful committee or else it will accomplish no more than will any other enactment which in State or Church is permitted to become a "dead letter."

The real merits of the Vacancy and Supply Plan can only be properly judged in those presbyteries where it has actually been worked just as intended by its authors. Here the testimony is unmistakable. The Permanent Committee does not believe that there is a single presbytery in the entire Church which adopted the Plan in its original form and then by the method prescribed therein chose a competent committee to operate the Plan and this committee uniformly worked the Plan just as its authors intended, that the Plan has not proven a splendid success. After observing the operation of the Plan for this period the Committee is thoroughly convinced that the Plan is both practical and effective for the purpose intended and if the Permanent Committee were today re-writing the Plan it would not materially change a single line of it. As a Church it is either a return to definite and clear-cut presbyterial supervision of all vacant fields or else it is increasing chaos within our bounds.

The splendid results of the proper operation of the Plan in a growing number of presbyteries may be realized in every presbytery that really desires such improvement and is willing to follow the path already marked out. Wherever the Vacancy and Supply Plan is being properly worked the definite results in evidence include the following:

(1) Every church in the presbytery has regular services because it is the duty of the presbyterial committee to furnish some one to conduct such services.

(2) Many ministers unable for various reasons to accept regular pastorates are now increasingly used as temporary supplies for vacancies and where ministers are not available, competent laymen are being called upon by some committees to conduct services in the vacant churches.

(3) The length of the period of vacancy is being materially reduced because under the supervision and with the assistance of a competent presbyterial committee the vacant church is able much more promptly to find a pastor.

(4) Under these improved methods it is entirely natural that the number of vacancies should diminish, the presbyteries reporting no vacancies now forming a growing list, while the presbytery with a long list of vacancies is becoming the exception. In January, 1917, nearly one-third of the presbyteries reported no vacancies while less than one-third of the presbyteries reported more than two vacancies each.

(5) Regardless of the number of vacancies occurring at any particular time, the work of the presbytery will not suffer so greatly because it has definite and well organized machinery for handling the vacancies.

(6) With such intelligent supervision the chances are greatly increased that the vacant church will secure a man specially suited to its needs and the question of adaptation to a given field is a most important consideration.

(7) Under the new system a congregation seriously divided over "candidates" is gradually becoming a thing of the past because only one man at a time is definitely considered by the vacant church.

(8) Best of all when the churches come to really understand the new System they enthusiastically approve it. Recently the Clerk of the Session of a vacant church that had just called a pastor under the guidance of the presbyterial committee, turned to the Chairman with the question, "Why did not the Presbyterian Church years ago adopt some system of this kind?" Then he went on to state that "If this System had been operative in the presbytery four years ago when our church was vacant it would have prevented a big disruption and the church would be twice as strong as it is today." The Secretary of the Assembly's Committee in particular has been explaining the Vacancy and Supply Plan to church sessions ever since it was first printed. During this period of three years he has never met a single session that did not give the Plan strong approval when once the members of the session came to really understand it. Our experience leads to the conclusion that wherever there is opposition to the new Plan at least nine-tenths of it is traceable to the failure to fully understand the Plan and the real manner of its operation. This only emphasizes the necessity that all of the churches be educated as to its real purpose and character.

A Uniform System Needed

The movement to thus re-establish presbyterial supervision of all vacant fields, which, as already indicated, offers the only practical solution under our Form of Government for the vacancy and supply problem is making steady progress although to some extent retarded by the hesitancy of some presbyteries to adopt the Plan but more particularly hindered by those presbyteries that voted to adopt the Plan and then failed to work it. Throughout its history the Presbyterian Church has greatly needed an effective and uniform system for dealing with this problem. That the Vacancy and Supply Plan is effective wherever it is properly worked, requires no further argument. Shall it then be made a uniform system for our Church? This question only the presbyteries themselves can answer. The Assembly's Committee can lead the way but the presbyteries must follow in that way if the desired results are to be realized.

Far more presbyteries have already voted adoption of this Plan than have ever endorsed any other definite program for dealing with vacant fields. If the Church really desires release from the conditions which have greatly embarrassed her work in the past, then it is the judgment of the Assembly's Committee that the Vacancy and Supply Plan should be uniformly adopted by all of the presbyteries and faithfully operated by every presbytery until it becomes an integral factor in the working machinery of the presbytery. The presbytery that hesitates to adopt this Plan because of the seeming difficulty of putting it into operation, or the presbytery that, having voted to adopt it, fails to operate it, in no sense condemns the Vacancy and Supply Plan. Such an attitude is simply a pathetic confession that the presbytery itself has wandered so far into the regions of Congregationalism that the return to fundamental Presbyterianism seems too difficult to be undertaken or persistently prosecuted. This is a place where it is strikingly true that "the only way to resume is to resume," and experience shows that when the churches come to really understand the significance of this movement the seeming difficulties in the way of putting the Plan into operation will disappear and the presbyterial committee will have cordial co-operation.

Proper Support for the Minister

In previous reports we have repeatedly called attention to the subject of Ministerial Support and with the approval of the Assembly the Permanent Committee has persistently agitated this question throughout the presbyteries. The cost of living has rapidly increased during the past year. Many ministers and their families are feeling the heavy stress of present economic conditions and some of those in particular serving the smaller churches are being tempted to turn aside to other lines of employment. The presbyteries in all sections of the country should give careful consideration to this question and see that everything possible is done to furnish at least a reasonable support for the minister and his family. The presbytery of St. Clairsville has recently set a good example by taking up this question in a definite way and arranging that the minimum support in the presbytery shall in the future be $1200 for a single man and $1200 and a manse for a married man. If other presbyteries will imitate this splendid example and plan to establish a similar minimum it will bring untold relief to many ministers and their families and ultimately result in great good to the work of our Church. No desirable man enters the ministry from the hope of financial gain but it is equally true that the Presbyterian Church cannot expect to secure and maintain an adequate force of ministers unless the minister is furnished a reasonable support.

During the month of January last, 367 vacant pastorates were reported to our office, the average support proposed being about $1200, and fully two-thirds of this number had manses. Because of group fields these 367 vacancies included a total of 498 different congregations. Among these were 61 churches furnishing a support of $1500 or over, the average support furnished by these 61 churches being $2259, 36% of these having manses. However, leaving out these 61 larger fields, the average support ordinarily furnished by the remaining 306 vacancies fell slightly below $1000 although 69% of these fields have manses.

Among these vacancies were 92 churches or combinations of churches offering an average annual support of $892 and 55% of these have manses. It may be proper to call attention to the fact, however, that more than one-half of these churches proposing an average annual support of $892 are located in the older Synods of the Church or east of the western boundary of the Synod of Indiana.

Some Definite Accomplishments

In reviewing the practical results of the work of the Assembly's Committee it must be borne in mind that this Committee was appointed for a specific purpose and that its field of labor is distinctly limited, first and fundamentally by the character of our Form of Government and furthermore by the code of rules enacted for the Committee's guidance by the General Assembly of 1912. In organizing and developing its work within these definite boundaries some practical results may be briefly summarized:

(1) As a Church we now have an agency which, in harmony with the provisions of the Overture adopted by the presbyteries, exercises general supervision of the whole work of the Church as it relates to unemployed ministers and vacant churches. By carefully devised methods the Permanent Committee is able to keep touch in a pretty definite way with all sections of the Church, regularly secure exact information as to the conditions prevailing in each section and render such assistance as the local situation seems to demand.

(2) The office of the Permanent Committee, as stipulated by the General Assembly, is a center of information regarding vacant fields. The Committee has, therefore, developed a system for securing such information so that at any season of the year it is possible within a period of about two weeks to know at least 90% of all of the churches that are vacant throughout the entire country and have some definite facts regarding each. To the minister desirous of securing a new field of labor such carefully compiled information as to the places where men are needed is of first and fundamental importance.

(3) The General Assembly also stipulated that the office of the Committee should be a center of information regarding available men. At the beginning of our work as a Committee we conducted a survey with the purpose of discovering our available supply of men and found quite a long list of ministers for one cause or another temporarily out of work. It has been a source of great satisfaction that under the improved methods adopted many of these men have been able to again take up pastoral service. A considerable number of men for reasons of health either of themselves or their families have been able through the medium of this office to find suitable locations in more satisfactory climates.

(4) Necessarily the office of the Assembly's Committee is increasingly becoming a clearing house for the presbyteries and as a natural result it is now impossible to have a large number of unemployed ministers in one section and at the same time a large number of pastorless churches in another section. Through the medium of the central office these two elements will ultimately be brought together, assuming, of course, that the men are willing to go where they are really needed.

(5) The emphasis laid upon certain principles advocated by the Assembly's Committee is exerting a wholesome influence in all sections of the Church. For example, in the process of finding a pastor far more churches than ever before are coming to recognize the folly of hearing a long list of candidates and then undertaking to call a pastor with all of these names before the congregation. While at this point there is still much room for improvement in various sections of the Church, yet it is nevertheless a fact that the continuous disapproval of this practice by the Assembly's Committee, backed up by the General Assembly itself, is gradually stamping the practice as wholly unwise and therefore making it increasingly unpopular even in the presbyteries not yet operating under the Vacancy and Supply Plan.

(6) The agitation in behalf of larger support, particularly for the great body of our ministers who serve the smaller and middle-class fields, as carried on by the Assembly's Committee and the Presbyterian Committees, is steadily bearing fruit and particularly in those presbyteries where, in accordance with the recommendations of the Assembly, careful investigations have been made and a minimum standard of support approved.

Recruiting the Ranks

No one who watches the trend of events can fail to be impressed with the fact that great changes are constantly taking place in our ministerial force. During the last five years a total of 869 Presbyterian ministers died, or an average of about 174 annually. To take the places of these valiant Soldiers of the Cross and provide for the proper expansion of our work at home and abroad requires the addition of a continuous stream of new men. The steady increase in the number of young men presenting themselves as candidates for the ministry is cause for genuine thanksgiving. Every minister, every elder and every congregation should regard it as a Christian duty and high privilege to constantly assist in discovering and enlisting new and promising recruits for the ranks of the ministry. In this connection, however, there are some things which should be given more than passing notice:

(1) The observation and experience of this Committee lead to the conclusion that in some sections of our Church there is great leniency shown in admitting to our ministry men who have had little training to fit them particularly for the responsibilities of the pastoral office. Throughout her history the Presbyterian Church has stood for a carefully trained and adequately prepared ministry. Are we now to abandon this time-honored principle? While admitting as our Church does, that occasionally there may be "a special case" where exception may safely be made and a man ordained to the ministry who has not had full college or seminary training, yet experience still vindicates the contention that in the main those who are to be successful pastors are best fitted for their work when they come by the way of the college and theological seminary. While it is true that scholarship will not take the place of genuine piety, it is equally true that even unmistakable evidence of genuine conversion is not in itself proof positive that a man should at once and without further instruction or training be admitted to the ranks of the ministry.

(2) Closely related is the question as to the reception of ministers coming from other branches of the Church. We thankfully acknowledge the many splendid additions to our ranks that we have received in past years from other denominations. Many of these have been men of exceptional qualifications and training and are rendering splendid service as pastors of our churches, but this does not alter the fact that there is increasing need that greater care be exercised by all of the presbyteries in the reception of previously ordained men. During the past five years as a Church we have received from other branches of the Church a total of 661 ministers or an annual average of 132. As already indicated, many of these men had excellent preparation for the work of the ministry and are greatly appreciated by the congregations they are serving. But at the same time this Committee is of the opinion that there is in many of the presbyteries a growing spirit of laxity in the matter of receiving men coming from other branches of the Church, which, if not checked, is bound to result in increasing injury to our work.

If the standards ordinarily applied to the Presbyterian student when he seeks ordination are not to be applied to the man already ordained by some other body, then with what justice can we insist that the student pursue the regular courses of training for the ministry instead of seeking entrance to its ranks through abbreviated lines of preparation. If men are to be received into our ministry simply because they desire such reception, regardless of their training and with little or no investigation of their past records for success or their knowledge of Presbyterianism, then the whole standard of our ministry must in consequence be lowered. That we have vacant pulpits and an insufficient number of suitable men, is not a sufficient argument for carelessly admitting men lacking qualifications for properly handling our work, for not infrequently it would be better for a church to remain vacant than to call a man who is without adaptation to its needs. The argument that these men can at least serve some of our smaller and less important fields or render service in certain sections of the country, is equally unjustified, for when a man has been received by a presbytery he has been given the standing of a minister not only in that particular presbytery but in the Presbyterian Church-at-large, with all of the rights and prerogatives of the best prepared and most successful man in the entire Church. In the interests of the work of our Church as a whole the Permanent Committee believes that the General Assembly should impress upon all of the presbyteries the importance of the exercise of greater care in the reception to our ministry of men ordained by other bodies.

Resolutions

(1) The General Assembly again records its conviction that definite and intelligent presbyterial supervision of all vacant fields is, under our Form of Government, the one possible and legitimate avenue to success in dealing with the difficult and historic problem of vacancy and supply.

(2) The General Assembly approves of the persistent efforts of its Permanent Committee on Vacancy and Supply to bring about a re-establishment of definite presbyterial supervision of all vacant fields and urges upon presbyteries not only the adoption but the actual working of the Vacancy and Supply Plan as approved by the last three General Assemblies.

(3) In view of the peculiar economic conditions forced upon our country by the ravages of war, thus further increasing the cost of living, the General Assembly is again constrained to urge upon every presbytery that definite and intelligent consideration be given the subject of Ministerial Support, to the end that in this great world crisis the men whom God has called to positions of leadership in His Church may be free to prosecute unsparingly that type of consecrated spiritual ministry so much needed in the dark days through which we are passing.

(4) The General Assembly calls the attention of all of the presbyteries to the necessity that greater care be exercised in admitting men to the privileges and responsibilities of our Ministry, strongly urging that, unless in the most exceptional cases, men be ordained to the office of the Ministry only after the required preparation has been made; and that men ordained by other Ecclesiastical Bodies be received only when a careful examination of all of the facts as to Christian character, preparation for the work of the Ministry and previous success, give unmistakable assurance that the applicants will render effective and satisfactory service as Ministers of our Church.

REPORT OF THE Assembly's Permanent Committee on Men's Work.

For the Year ending March 31, 1917.

We submit our Report at the close of this year with much more satisfaction than at the close of last year. There has been much gain in having even one worker, who could give his time to the work of the men in the large field of the Presbyterian Church. The new and greatly better relation our agency has had this year to the General Assembly has been of much advantage. Much more contact with pastors and other leaders has given us increased assurance of the need for this agency and of the readiness of these leaders to coöperate with it; also of its place in proper correlation to the Church's other agencies. There has been no hint of overlapping, but abounding evidence that this agency is greatly needed and warmly welcomed throughout the Church. Appreciation is hereby expressed of the active coöperation of Synodical and Presbyterial committees, pastors and many other men.

CONTACT WITH CHURCHES AND MEN.—We have been in intimate counsel during the year with a large number of churches, pastors and other men of these churches. There has been an extended correspondence with these men and a large number of the folders issued by the Committee have been put in their hands. We have had a much more valuable contact than this with many churches and men on their fields. The secretary represented our Men's Work in six Synod meetings and other members of the Committee represented us in several other Synods. In these Synod meetings there was not only ample opportunity given to present Men's Work in public address, but also to counsel in the selection and organization of committees and to plan with them the year's work in their bounds. The same has been true of meetings of Presbyteries.

Our largest work the past year has been the conducting of conferences with the men of rather small groups of churches. These groups were small so as to secure larger representation of the men and to deal more specifically with situations in their churches. In Zanesville Presbytery (Ohio), in three days of conferences, there were present 224 men of eleven churches. In Maumee Presbytery (Ohio), in three days' conferences, there were present 381 men of nineteen churches. In Cincinnati Presbytery, in four days of conferences, there were 488 men present of 52 churches. About these Cincinnati conferences the following statement was made in the Herald and Presbyter: "A new and sturdy impulse was given to Men's Work." In Illinois Synod 472 men attended eight conferences. The Rev. F. W. Barr, of Monmouth, chairman on Men's Work for Illinois Synod, after attendance on all the Illinois conferences wrote: "In my opinion the Men's Work of the Presbyterian Church, as led by the Assembly's Committee . . . is one of the most dynamic movements of the Church. Its announced purpose presents a clean-cut, concise and noble appeal to men to do their best for the Church and for the Kingdom. The movement is bound to develop in a work of the largest importance." In Nebraska Synod 311 men, representing 41 churches, attended seven conferences. In Chester Presbytery (Pa.) the 61 churches were grouped into eight conferences, which were attended by 386 men. The following resolution was subsequently adopted by the Presbytery: "Resolved, That Chester Presbytery is heartily in sympathy with the Assembly's Committee on Men's Work in the tremendous and promising task to which it has been called, and pledges to the Committee encouragement and support." Detroit Presbytery was grouped into three conferences, which were well attended. At the last one, which was attended by 113 men of fourteen churches, the following action was taken: "Resolved, That this group gathering of Presbyterian men, meeting at Immanuel Church, March 17, representing fourteen churches of Detroit Presbytery and a membership of over 11,000, has heard with pleasure and profit the inspiring and practical address of the Rev. William F. Weir, D.D., and heartily commends him and the cause he represents to all of our churches, incidentally for the proper place of Men's Work in our financial budgets, but far more for the plans and objectives for Men's Work that he has so well outlined. We pledge ourselves as individuals and representatives to do our full share in the various activities awaiting our cooperation as Presbyterian men."

Such conferences were held in Indiana, South Dakota, Kansas and New Jersey and in a number of other regions. Numerous other conferences with committees and other leaders have been held. We are glad to be able to testify that in these conferences without exception a deep interest in Men's Work was manifested, the interest often being expressed in the form of resolutions.

THE MEN OF THE LOCAL CHURCH SHOULD BE ORGANIZED.—There are more reasons for organizing the men who are in the same church than for organizing any other group of men. No other group has so many precious experiences and so great tasks in common. No company of men is in a position to do so much for one another and for the men of the world. All men know that the fundamental interests of life are in religion. The greatest need of our time is to unite the men of the churches for the promotion of those things for which the Church stands. It is our distinct purpose to promote intelligence among the men about the value of the local church, the denominational agency and the whole work of the denomination. By far too little of men's abilities, time and money are given to the church as compared with other institutions. Often the vision and activity of the church are too limited. The men can be shown that their supreme opportunity for service is in and through the Church. We do not undervalue the work of many interdenominational agencies, but they themselves depend for their very existence upon the local churches. There is a perfectly clear field for the agency that calls the men of the local churches to unite in their churches, to build them up and do the whole work of the Presbyterian Church. The men will do greatly more united in these organizations than they can possibly do separately. Women's work is what it is through organization. "One shall chase a thousand and two shall put ten thousand to flight." There are now many manifestations of the manifold increase of efficiency in a church through organizing the men. There are also many testimonies of men that their brotherhood offers them their best fellowship.

THE CHURCH A CHALLENGE TO MEN.—The Church itself is a challenge to men. There is need for a new emphasis on what the Church is. Its wonderful and mysterious organic structure, its unique mission, the incomparable opportunity it offers men for fellowship and service are too little understood by the men. They do not see the incomparable value of and absolute necessity for those spiritual forces which operate only in the Church. They do not appreciate that highest life which exists in the bosom of God and in His people and nowhere else; that in the Church alone do men form permanent life relations; that the fundamental relations of life are with God and His people; that God's only plan for the guarantee of the welfare of His people and of the world is in their unity with Him and with one another; that eternal life is to know God; that the supreme task of Christian men is to found and maintain a Church in every community in the world that the people there may know God; that there is but a mutilated Christ for us and for the world without His Body, the Church. It is impossible for men to know these fundamental truths and not respond in true devotion to Christ and the Church.

THE FORM OF ORGANIZATION.—From one viewpoint it is unimportant what is the form of the men's organization in the local church. Our Committee follows the instructions of the Assembly of 1913 in seeking to promote "All organized activities among men," and does not try to set up the same kind of organization in every local church. We coöperate with the leaders of the local church in the kind of organization that can be used there best now. Experience will probably lead to more uniformity of organization. There are two usual kinds of organizations: (1) Brotherhoods of Clubs, (2) Bible Classes. Many of the former have failed because they were mere social clubs and without tasks big enough to command the interests of men. Men's Bible Classes are commonly failing in large part because they are only Bible classes and not working organizations. Bible study is training, and not service. Not all the active men in a church can be members of the Bible class, because they are engaged in other work in the Sunday-school. The Bible-class appeal does not win as many men as a broader form of organization would win. It is usually better to organize the men under a constitution that defines the whole purpose of the organization, always making men's and boys' Bible classes an essential department of the work. It would be a bold assumption to make the claim that the wonderfully efficient women's work of the Church would ever have been realized if it had functioned around women's Bible classes. The fundamental purpose of the men's organizations is work, as has always been true of women's organizations and as the new name, "Men's Work," indicates.

OBJECTIVES.—Uniformity in fundamental objectives is necessary along with considerable variety of objectives. Our Committee is seeking to construct a "Declaration of Purpose" which all our men's organizations could adopt.

1. All men's organizations should promote Bible study through men's and boys' organized Bible classes, and when practical through other means.

2. All men's organizations should promote the unity of the life of the men of the same church.

3. Most men's organizations find it profitable to conduct forums for discussions of vital interest to the men, the Church and the world, so that the men of the churches will be the intelligent men of the community on matters vital to human welfare and the makers of public sentiment and real leaders in the community.

4. Every men's organization should adopt yearly a programme of work that it may be constantly a working force in building up the church within which it is and make a definite contribution yearly to the whole task of the Presbyterian Church. There will always be a variety of special things to do at special times, but it seems clear that there are fundamental things for every men's organization to do every year.

KEEPING THE MEN AT WORK.—We will not solve the problem of Men's Work until we find a way to keep the men at work. Most Men's Work hitherto has been intermittent. The men have engaged in deputational evangelistic work or in some form of social service or in some other special task, only to cease from it after a while until some other special call comes to them to do something. The women are at work all the time, doing definite important things every month of every year. While they do many special things as occasions arise, yet they engage in two lines of work continuously, namely, building up the church of which their society is a part, and carrying on the missionary enterprises of the Church at home and abroad. An organization made up of the members of a church should function in the purpose of that church. It should be dominated by the same spirit of sacrifice and ministry, asking itself continuously, What should our church be and do and how can we promote those ends? This involves the study of the value of the local church and its fields and of the denomination's several agencies and whole programme. The men's organization seeks nothing for itself. It is really not another organization, but a natural division of a group of the members of a church who have enough qualities in common to lead to their union in one another's interest and for a ministry to those who have not what is their most precious possession and best opportunity for service. Their united life and service should be a challenge to all other men to share their life and service.

An organization of men in a church imbued with this spirit should not find it difficult to keep employed, any more than it would be difficult to keep the church itself employed. Beyond all question, there are very large possibilities in organizing the men of the churches on the right basis. It should lead soon to a study by the men of the church as a community force and of the Presbyterian Church's nation-wide and world-wide programme. It would be imposble to bring a body of Christian men to face seriously the whole task of the Presbyterian Church or that of one of its great boards or other agencies without the result of their enthusiasm for those things. Surely, there is a way to bring about this contact between the men of the local church and the great denomination and its departmental agencies. In these times men are looking to the Church with new desire to find there a life and ministry which is not found elsewhere.

The deep need is leaders in the local churches who have the vision and ingenuity and persistence to make a demonstration of the value of an organization of their men. These local leaders, aided by the special agencies, can make each year a careful inventory of their church, of workers available and work to do and bring each year to the whole body of men a challenging programme of activity for them. (See our recent folder, "Men at Work in the local Church—How to Organize, How to Keep the Men at Work.") There can be no real difficulty in repeating this process each year. We claim, therefore, to have an answer to the old and persistent question about jobs for men.

"The pastor succeeds who solves the problems of his pastorate. This agency is ready to help pastors solve problems of their pastorates by helping them to organize their men and keep them at work. Our deepest need is to solve the problems of our local churches. These are the units out of which come all we have of spiritual forces and agencies. The largest contribution that can now be made to the building up of the local churches is to organize the men for the real purpose of the local church. Next in importance to this is to unite the local churches, brought up to their full strength, in the great work of the Presbyterian Church. Only by organization can we use the masculine power of the Church in any large way. The men's contact with the whole work of the Church is largely in the work of the local church. When the men there are ready for united service in the nation and the world, the denominational agency offers them their supreme opportunity.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS.—Among many testimonials that are given us, we owe it to the Church and to ourselves to submit a few of them. The Rev. John Timothy Stone, D.D., ex-Moderator of the Assembly and Chairman of the Men's Work Committee, writes:

"In my judgment, the time has never been more fitting for the reinforcement and strengthening of the Men's Work among our churches. We do not need additional committees or additional organizations. What we do need is a recognition of the splendid potentiality of the men in our churches now. . . . The work of the Assembly's Permanent Committee on Men's Work at the present time is beginning in the right way. We are aiming to reach the men through the regular channels of the Church, to develop existing organizations and to give to them the definite feeling of responsibility as to the present and immediate tasks about them; to receive inspiration from pastors and to give inspiration to pastors, to take up the work directly among the men in their distinctive parishes and to tie it into all the organized activities and responsibilities of our great Church."

The Moderator of the General Assembly, the Rev. John A. Marquis, D.D., writes:

"You are performing a great service, as you induce men to bring their talent and experience inside the Church and make them effective there. These men are dealing constantly outside the Church with problems such as the churches have. Men know how to make the machinery of the Church do business—just what they are doing in the world all the time."

Mr. Ralph W. Harbison, of Pittsburgh, writes:

"The Men's Work, I feel, has arrived at last, has become established on a solid foundation and is already reaching out its helping hand in as many directions as there are Church channels. No doubt, one reason for this is that it has now the official backing of the Assembly. . . . Another reason equally strong to my mind as the above is the contribution that our General Secretary is giving to it. I have had the good fortune of being at several conferences of Presbyterian and Synodical Committeemen where Dr. Weir has brought inspiration and practical help in every instance. His practical suggestions are of real value and seem to take root immediately in the hearts of those exposed to them."

The Rev. Walter L. Whallon, D.D., Zanesville, Ohio, Chairman of Synod's Committee on Men's Work, writes:

"Outstanding and promising in the great spiritual awakening of our time is the movement among men. Men as never before in such numbers are awake to the great possibilities of a manhood allied with the Kingdom and of the Kingdom's work when undertaken by consecrated manhood. Men are asking, What can we do? They are waiting to be led out to tasks that challenge their courage and consecration. Our revived denominational movement is most timely. Our leaders have caught the vision. There are no limitations to the possibilities of the splendid Christian manhood in our Presbyterian Church under such leadership and following such communicated vision. Our Assembly's Committee and our General Secretary should have the enthusiastic support of every Presbyterian."

The Rev. D. H. Johnson, Toledo, Ohio, ex-Moderator of the Ohio Synod, writes:

"I believe the new Secretary's method of enlisting the men in the work of the local church is a good one—less of conventions and more of personal contact. We may need the conventions for inspiration, but we surely need personal contact for service. The field of the denomination is the world, but the field of the individual is the local church. With him it is usually service in the local church or no service."

The Rev. R. A. Garrison, Broomall, Pa., Chairman for Men's Work in Chester Presbytery, writes:

"The Assembly's Committee on Men's Work through its simple and definite plan is making a real contribution to the solution of the problem. The enlistment of the men in the local church to the accomplishment of a definite programme of work, based upon the needs of that church, is a plan of operation that will work in any church, large or small, and will with the application of some thought and perseverance multiply the usefulness of the churches. Then too, it will last."

NEW ELEMENTS IN THE MEN'S MOVEMENT.—The question is asked, "What is there in this movement now that was not in it before when it seemed in large measure to fail?" It has not failed. Any Church-wide movement requires time to establish itself in the whole Church. Probably this movement has developed as rapidly as have other great movements. The work of the past years has made the present work possible. I am more and more surprised to note the extent to which the leaders in the first years emphasized the things we now emphasize and to which the Church now makes better response. It is because of better "Preparedness" on the part of the Church. The early leaders deserve much credit for their unusual wisdom, faith, courage and sacrifice. But there are new elements in the Men's Movement. 1. There is a wisdom that has been learned from experience. We are profiting by the mistakes of the past and know better how to establish men's organizations. 2. There is a deeper consciousness in the Church of the necessity for utilizing its unused masculine forces. 3. There is new leadership combined with the old leadership. 4. There is the new relation to the General Assembly. 5. There is advance in organization of Synodical and Presbyterian committees. 6. There is the discovery of the present method of greatly larger contact with churches and the men on the field through the district conferences. The large conventions of the early period were doubtless necessary, but it is fundamental now to get to the leaders of the local churches in personal contact for the organization of their men. We are building from the bottom up. 7. The new world situation is a tremendous appeal to men to serve where they can best serve in a ministry to their generation—a generation in pain and distress and strife as has been no other generation. 8. There is a clearer apprehension of the bigness of the task and patience to use necessary time and means to accomplish it. 9. There is a new, at least a persistent emphasis on the Church itself—the local church—the denominational agency—the united Presbyterian people in their whole task as the supreme opportunity of men for life and service.

PUBLICITY.—Limited use has been made of paid advertising in Church papers. Discretion in economy restricted us in this kind of desirable publicity. Appreciation is hereby expressed of the use of the columns of the Church papers for news items about Men's Work. There has been published this year a large folder, "A Message to Sessions and Committees on Men's Work"; a folder on "Men's Work in the Last Assembly" and one on "Men at Work in the Local Church." These publications have been widely circulated and have met a demand, although they are a small contribution, to the literature that is needed. A manual on Men's Organizations will be published this summer. This will be a book of sixty or seventy pages which is designed to aid pastors and other leaders in organizing their men. There is need of a text-book for use in men's meetings which would present in a fascinating way the whole task of the Presbyterian Church and the work of its boards and other agencies. There is great need for more systematic publicity—a need your committee is seeking to meet.

SUPPORT FOR THE MEN'S WORK DEPARTMENT.—We have been conservative in incurring obligations. We recognize the many claims with which Sessions are confronted, in the distribution of their funds and rejoice in the merit and aggressiveness of the other agencies of the Church and their demands on these funds. It should be borne in mind, however, that this agency lives wholly in the interest of the local church and of the other agencies, seeking nothing for itself. It sets up no competing work and seeks only to strengthen local churches for the better prosecution of the whole work of the Church. We seek to gather and administer no funds beyond our modest operating expenses, but only to supply more adequately the treasures of the other agencies. We are sure, too, that the organization of the men will in reasonable time make large contribution to these treasures. The last Assembly recommended that Sessions "make due provision for the Committee in the distribution of their benevolent funds" and put Men's Work in its regular budget with the boards and the Permanent Committee on Evangelism.

Resolved, 1. That all the members of the Class of 1917 be reappointed by the Assembly to the Class of 1920, as follows: Mr. Charles S. Holt, Chicago; George N. Luccock, D.D., Wooster, Ohio; John Timothy Stone, D.D., Chicago; Mr. S. Earle Hoover, Philadelphia; Mr. Henry B. F. Macfarland, Washington, D. C.

Resolved, 2. That the Assembly commends those Sessions that have made appropriations to its Committee on Men's Work in accordance with its recommendations of last year and urges on other Sessions the necessity for the support of an agency which makes so valuable a contribution to the building of the local churches in order that they more efficiently do their local work and the whole work of the Church.

Resolved, 3. That the Assembly records its profound appreciation of those men of vision and liberality who by their contributions have made it possible for the Committee to do the work of the past year, and also that the Assembly urges on the attention of other able men the opportunity they have to help in a work of great value to the Church while the churches are coming to preparedness to care properly for their own work.

Resolved, 4. That the Assembly urges Synods and Presbyteries to constitute and support committees on Men's Work whose members may be able to contribute out of their own experience in Men's Work to coöperate with the Assembly's Committee in its bounds.

Resolved, 5. That the Assembly rejoices in the readiness of committee men and other officers of Synods and Presbyteries to give Men's Work large place in the meetings of these Church courts; also of the readiness of pastors, committees and other leaders in promoting conferences on Men's Work and in developing men's organizations in their own churches.

Resolved, 6. That the Moderator and Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be ex-officio members of the Committee and the Committee be authorized, if it so desires, to appoint advisory members to coöperate with it.

Resolved, 7. The Assembly expresses its appreciation of the valuable services of the treasurer of the Committee, Mr. Albert Shupe, president of the Commercial Bank, Wooster, Ohio, who has served as treasurer without cost to the Committee.

Resolved, 8. That the Assembly urges the whole Church to coöperate with its Committee on Men's Work, looking upon it not as an alien and independent agency, but as fundamental to Church growth, as the friend and helper of pastors and other leaders through its leadership in the organized activities of the men of our beloved Church.

JOHN TIMOTHY STONE, Chairman;
WILLIAM F. WEIR, Secretary.
